Foreign Films in the United States

THE past year, in the foreign importation market, has shown no appreciable change except for the emergence of Italian Films Export (I.F.E.) as a dominant factor in Italian films. A number of its features have been dubbed into English and the few thus far released have proved to be surprisingly successful and have had circuit playdates.

Otherwise, as usual, British films were the most popular with the art house audiences and qualitatively, a large number were released here. Some of these included: "Breaking the Sound Barrier," "High Treason," "Importance of Being Earnest," "Man in the White Suit," "The Promoter" and "A Queen Is Crowned." France's biggest exports were "Forbidden Games," "Fanfan the Tulip" and "Seven Deadly Sins; while Italy's were "Anna," "Bellissima" and "Two Cents Worth of Hope."

The number of art theatres in the U. S. has risen just slightly in the past year, but not enough to indicate a trend. New York City has the most, numerically, followed by Los Angeles, Chicago, Philadelphia and St. Louis.

A report from the New York State Motion Picture Division, covering the period from April 1, 1952, to March 31, 1953, showed a total of 547 foreign films reviewed. Mexico topped the list with 102 and was followed by China with 101; England, 87; Italy, 62; Germany, 55; France, 42; U.S.S.R., 14 and Greece, 11.

The films listed below, include foreign-language—and also British—pictures with English subtitles, excepting some of the Hungarian, German and Spanish product. The language of the film is indicated in parentheses after the title: (Aust) Australian; (Au) Austrian; (Br) British; (Can.) Canadian; (Ch) Chinese; (Cz) Czechoslovak; (D) Danish; (F) French; (G) German; (H) Hungarian; (I) Irish; (It) Italian; (M) Mexican; (P) Polish; (Russ) Russian; (So.Af.) South African; (S) Spanish; (Sw) Swedish; (Y) Yugoslavian. (R) indicates a reissue and (C) a picture in color.

THE HISTORY OF OSCAR

THIS YEAR Oscar, the golden symbol of fame conferred by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, has reached the age of twenty-three. Long since his first appearance on the scene of glory in Hollywood his birth, origins and history have become confused in tradition and much elaborated myth.

Oft beset by perplexed inquiries in the years between, Motion Picture Almanac set about research for the purpose of presenting for the industry the truth about Oscar.

Oscar was nameless when he came into the world as an award symbol the year the Academy was founded, 1927, and he remained so for four years, known then just as "the statuette."

The idea for a statuette originated at a meeting of the first board of governors of the Academy. Cedric Gibbons, now executive art director for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, after hearing discussions of certificates, scrolls, medals and plaques, urged that the awards should be represented by a figure of dignity and individual character which recipients would be proud to display. While he talked he sketched a figure and design. It was Oscar's first picture. The drawing was adopted and sent for execution in the round to George Stanley, a Los Angeles sculptor. From his hands came the Oscar who has been growing in fame ever since.

THE golden figure was still without a name that day in 1931 when Mrs. Margaret Herrick, present executive secretary of the Academy, reported for her first day's work as librarian. A copy of the statuette stood on an executive's desk and she was formally introduced to it as the foremost member of the organization.

She regarded it a moment. "He reminds me," she observed, "of my Uncle Oscar."

Nearby sat a newspaper columnist and the next day his syndicated copy contained the line "Employees have affectionately dubbed their famous statuette 'Oscar'." From that day on he has been Oscar.

Mrs. Herrick's "Uncle Oscar," the Almanac's research discovers, is not her uncle at all, but is in fact a second cousin. This man so vicariously come into the fame of the arts around the world is Mr. Oscar Pierce, of a wealthy western pioneer family, formerly living in Texas. He did well in wheat and fruit and some years ago retired to California. The relationship is through first cousinship to Ada Morie, now Mrs. N. K. Buck of Yakima, Washington, mother of Mrs. Herrick of the Academy. At last report, Mr. Oscar Pierce was, if extant, living in or near Oakland, California, and somewhere in the region of eighty years of age.

Mrs. Herrick disclaims any marked resemblance between Oscar and Uncle Oscar, and admits now her history-making words were voiced in utter whimsy. Lots of history is made that way. Meanwhile Oscar has never met Uncle and Uncle Oscar probably never heard of Oscar.

The Academy's Oscar is ten inches high, weighs seven pounds, his insides being bronze and his exterior gold plate. He costs about a hundred dollars.

ON MAY 6, 1929, first year awards were presented—for achievements of 1927-28—eleven "Oscars" were presented by the Academy. Since that day the number of statuettes given the annual "choice few" has increased until this year thirty-one were given away. During the intervening years a total of four hundred eleven golden knights have gone to persons contributing "best achievements" in motion pictures.

The trophy is fully protected by copyright and is produced by only one manufacturer, licensed by the Academy. Use of the statuette or reproduction of it in any manner is prohibited, without written permission of the Academy.

ACADEMY AWARD WINNERS OF 1952

The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences was founded in May, 1927, in Hollywood with 36 charter members, including production executives and cinema luminaries. Its aims included a determination to raise the standards of production educationally, culturally and scientifically.

In the years since its inception this nonsubsidized organization has grown to embrace the 12 principal branches of film making. Through these branches almost 2,000 active motion picture members have been gathered from the acting field, the cinematograph group, the executive branch, the film editors division, the music group, the writers, the directors, the sound division, the art directors, the short subject and the public relations fields.

Voting for the Academy Awards of Merit is done by the entire membership with each of the 12 branches creating its own procedure and conducting individual nominations in the manner best suited to its special requirements. The final nominating ballot from each branch is limited to a maximum of five entrants. After nominations have been closed the Academy holds screenings of the nominated films in order that eligible voters can review them. A final ballot is then prepared and sent to the Academy membership. These ballots are marked and returned to Price, Waterhouse and Company, certified public accountants, who prepare the tabulation. The names of the winners are announced only at the annual Academy Awards presentation ceremonies.

Awards of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences for 1952 were as follows:

Without exception, ALL film should be treated, if you are to get maximum results in terms of good projection and number of showings. Without treatment, your film – from initial release to the last booking – is much more susceptible to damage. And damaged film can result in an indifferent audience.

Peerless Treatment is the finishing touch and the least expensive item in the whole process of picture-making. Yet it safeguards millions of dollars invested in finished prints.

Peerless Treatment assures: seasoned, toughened, smoothly projecting prints. Peerless-treated prints start off right and keep in good condition longer. So when you order prints, don't forget to include "PEERLESS TREATMENT" in every purchase order.

A prominent exhibitor paid us the kind of compliment that means most to us when he put it this way:

"Like most of the exhibitors I know, the trade papers I really read are Quigley publications—because I have solid confidence in them."

The "solid confidence" of the industry . . . . . we firmly believe that to be the greatest asset that any trade publication can possess. That has been the unswerving aim of Quigley Publications for more than a third of a century.

Government and the Industry

WITH foreign trade barriers and chaotic international conditions plaguing the motion picture industry, and the Government realizing more and more the value of films as a medium for carrying messages and for teaching at home and abroad, the close association developed during the war between the industry and Federal bureaus and agencies gives every indication of continuing.

Since the end of the war the industry's standing abroad has been a subject of deep concern. Depending on foreign film markets, the industry has had the assistance and cooperation of the U. S. Department of State and its embassies throughout the world in its effort to combat import restrictions and establish the principle of free trade in films.

To combat some of the trade barriers, several members of the State Department staff have been working with Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association, leading executives of the MPA's foreign department, and other industry executives.

Despite the fact that such agencies as the Office of War Information, the Office of Inter-American Affairs, the War Production Board and others were abolished and despite the curtailment of the production and distribution of training films by the War and Navy Departments, many government agencies continued producing and/or distributing motion pictures to commercial and non-commercial users.

Listed here are Government Departments their functions and principal personnel.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE:

Motion Picture Service, Office of Information, 14th Street & Independence Avenue, S. W., Washington 25, D. C.; Walter K. Scott, chief of the motion picture service.

This office produces and distributes motion pictures designed to aid in dissemination of information on the needs for agricultural products, their production, distribution and utilization. The films demonstrate improved methods in agriculture and home economics, stress the need for conservation of soil and other resources, explain the farm credit system, forestry, marketing and similar subjects. Production is under the direction of Calle A. Carrello.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE:

Motion Picture Division, 14th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

This division, under Nathan D. Golden, chief, studies and reports statistics of the industry at home and abroad. The material gathered is published in department reports and is used with information from other industries to help fulfill the function of "representing business to the Government and the Government to business."

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE:

The Pentagon Building, Washington, D. C.

Office of Public Information, Andrew Berding, director.

Pictorial Branch, J. A. Yovin, chief.

This section was set up as a result of the Unification Act to coordinate Army, Navy and Air Force public information films and other photographic work. It initiates requests for production and distributes pictorial material to those media which use it. It has three subsections—motion pictures, newsreels and still photography.

Newsreel Section: Lieutenant Colonel Bertram Kalisch (USA), chief.

Still Pictures Section: Robert Clark, chief. Spot News Unit: Lt. Lyle Tatum (USN), acting chief. Feature Unit: Bill Adams, chief.

DEPARTMENT OF THE AIR FORCE:

Public Relations Director, Brigadier General Sory Smith.

Air Photographing and Charting Service: Brigadier General Edwin M. Day, chief.

DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY:

Office of the Chief of Information: Major General Floyd L. Parks, chief.

Army Pictorial Service, Signal Corps: Colonel Charles S. Stodter, chief.

Produces and arranges for the production of Army training and orientation films, aids newsreels in coverage of matters pertaining to the Army in this country and overseas.

Army and Air Force Motion Picture Service (under Joint Welfare Board, Army and Air Force). Main Office: 1405 K Street, Washington, D. C. Fred Bund, Jr., chief; Alan McCarroll, deputy.

Supervises distribution of entertainment motion pictures throughout the Army and Air Force and supervises the operation of Army theatres on posts.

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY:

Office of Information: Rear Admiral Lewis S. Parks, chief.

U. S. Naval Photographic Center, Naval Air Station, Anacostia, Washington, D. C.: Captain John H. McElroy, commanding.

Produces and contracts for the production of training films, orientation and general information films for use by the Navy.

U. S. MARINE CORPS:

Public Information Division: Brigadier General V. J. McCaul, director.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR:

Bureau of Mines, Graphic Services Section, 4800 Forbes Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Bureau maintains a library of motion pictures depicting mining and metallurgical operations and related manufacturing processes. They are loaned free of charge, except for transportation, to educational institutions, industries training workers, engineering and scientific societies, civic and business associations, and other responsible organizations. The cost of production is paid by co-operating industrial concerns but the pictures do not carry trade-marks, trade names or other direct advertising material. Production is in charge of ALLAN SHERMAN, chief of the Office of Minerals Reports, Bureau of Mines, Washington. The main distributing center for the films is the Bureau of Mines Experiment Station, Pittsburgh. Copies of some of the films are deposited at industrial film libraries in various principal cities.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE:

HERBERT BROWNELL, Attorney-General.

Anti-Trust Division, Constitution Avenue and 10th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.; STANLEY N. BARNES, Assistant Attorney-General.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE:

JOHN FOSTER DULLES, Secretary of State.
CARL W. MCCARDLE, Assistant Secretary of State for Public Affairs.
HAROLD F. LINDER, Assistant Secretary of State for Economic Affairs.

OFFICE OF ECONOMIC DEFENSE AND TRADE POLICY:

JOHN M. LEDDY, director; COLTON HAND, commercial policy adviser. (Concerned with commercial aspects of film industry, trade treaties, quotas, restrictions, etc.)

International Information Administration:

(Informational Media Guaranty Program, ICS, Department of State, Washington 25, D. C.)

This agency inherited certain functions of the Office of War Information and the Office of Inter-American Affairs on January 1, 1946. Its film division is concerned with the acquisition and production of films giving a representative picture of the United States for distribution abroad mostly through diplomatic and consular channels, but occasionally through commercial channels.

EXECUTIVE AGENCIES

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION:

New Post Office Building, Washington 25, D. C.—ROSEL H. HYDE, chairman.

Charged with regulating interstate and foreign communications by means of electrical energy, including radio, television, and wire services. Licenses all standard, FM, and television broadcasting stations and services.

FEDERAL SECURITY AGENCY:

Public Health Service, Washington, D. C.—DR. L. A. SCHEELE, surgeon-general. MRS. L. H. APRIL, chief of the Public Inquiries Branch, Federal Security Building, Fourth Street, and Independence Avenue, S. W., Washington, D. C.

Distributes films on public health and advises state and city health departments on health films.

Office of Education, Fourth Street and Independence Avenue, S. W., Washington, D. C.—EARL J. McGRATH, commissioner. SEERLEY REID, chief of the Visual Education Service.

This section distributes on a sales basis only industrial and vocational training films made by the Office during war, and films released to it by other Government agencies on such subjects as agriculture, aviation, machine shop, medicine, forestry, science, etc.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION:

Sixth Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington 25, D. C.—EDWARD F. HOWREY, chairman.

Administers statutes designed to promote fair competition in interstate trade; institutes proceedings to prevent unfair or deceptive practices, combinations in restraint of trade, false advertising, and illegal price discrimination. Supervises associations of exporters under the Export Trade Act.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS:

LUTHER H. EVANS, librarian.

This agency continues to retain and to preserve its extensive collection of motion picture films, pending disposition. The Motion Picture Division was liquidated under the provisions of the Legislative Branch Appropriation Act, 1948, hence until further notice, loan and reference services are curtailed.

Copyright Office—ARTHUR FISHER, register.

JOSEPH W. ROGERS, chief of the Copyright Cataloging Division, prepares semi-annually a Motion Picture Catalog. This catalog contains descriptions of all theatrical and non-theatrical pictures registered for copyright during each six-month period. Filmstrips and renewal registrations for motion pictures are also included. Films are indexed under subject and type, sponsor, producing company, original author, etc. $1.00 per year.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION:

425 Second Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.—RALPH H. DEMMLER, chairman.

Registers new public security offerings, supervises exchange trading in securities, requires financial and other reports from listed companies.

How Much More Light for 3-D . . . Wide Screen?

When the screen found its voice more than a quarter century ago, the question, "How much will it cost?" was asked — if at all — from force of habit. Every showman knew he had to buy sound, just as he now sees the necessity for new equipment to handle the latest epoch-making projection techniques.

History Repeats

Exhibitors today are hurrying to exploit the terrific public interest in 3-D and wide screen showings—spending thousands and tens of thousands of dollars on new optics, screens, sound equipment . . . But what about screen lighting?

Light Losses Terrific

For 3-D and wide screen you need more light. Much more light. In almost every instance, regardless of theatre size or present equipment, you need ALL THE LIGHT YOU CAN POSSIBLY GET!

If that seems like a broad statement, just consider 3-D light losses, for example. Even with two projectors trained on the screen and with screens of much higher reflectivity than before, you give your patrons only about half as bright a picture as you previously furnished with conventional films!

Wide screen — same story. In this new medium, projection light is distributed over 2½ times the area of ordinary screens.

New Equipment the Answer

To repeat — you need all the light you can get. This means NEW EQUIPMENT — equipment to operate the higher-capacity carbons at maximum currents.

Give your patrons—and these great new entertainment media—the light they need. Don't delay—call in your theatre equipment supplier for a complete diagnosis of your projection lighting needs.

Now! Color movies can be better than ever with the

NEW ANSCO COLOR

NEGATIVE POSITIVE PROCESS!

You get finer screen quality

- Truer Color
- Excellent Screen Steadiness
- Finer Grain
- Superior Definition
- Greater Brilliance and Depth

You save money 3 ways

NO SPECIAL CAMERA REQUIRED

Any competent cinematographer with standard 35mm camera equipment can do an excellent job with Ansco Negative-Positive Color.

NO SPECIAL PROCESSING EQUIPMENT

Minor modifications adapt standard black and white equipment to the processing of Ansco Negative-Positive Color.

YOU SEE COLOR RUSHES SOONER

No costly, drawn-out delays—no holding of sets or keeping casts on location for long periods while you wait to see the results of your shooting.

Theatre Seating Division
Menominee, Michigan
Sales Offices:
Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, New York

Heywood-Wakefield's famous TC 706 AIRFLO is as comfortable as the average patron's own easy chair at home.

The reclining AIRFLO chair has the "rocking action" of the exclusive Heywood-Wakefield spring action mechanism. By virtue of this mechanism the AIRFLO retains the scientifically correct pitch of seat-to-back regardless of how the patron shifts his weight or position.

For further information contact your Heywood-Wakefield representative or write for the fully illustrated catalogue on Heywood-Wakefield Theatre Chairs.

Comfort is our business . . . in theatre seating as in Heywood's famous household furniture, like the Old Colony platform rocker at top.

Motion Picture Industry Council, Inc., of Hollywood is made up of 11 key organizations covering the production branch of the industry. After some months of preliminary discussion, MPIC became operational in March, 1949. The original statement of objectives is as follows: 1—To discuss and act on any problem which is properly the concern of the industry; 2—To promote sound relations among the groups that make up Hollywood. Wages, hours, and any other collective bargaining matters shall not be the concern of this Council; 3—To promote sound and serious understanding of the motion picture industry by the general public.

The preamble to the original charter declares:

"Perhaps no other industry contacts so intimately and significantly as many lives of the world's population as does the motion picture industry of the United States.

"The responsibility of people working within the industry is a responsibility not only to a major economic enterprise, but also to an important social institution. We in motion pictures portray human character and human emotions; we describe cultural patterns; we report information; we interpret individual and social experiences.

"Because of the role we play in public life, we face incalculable risks and a precarious system of trial and error. We are constantly trying to perform the extremely difficult task of interpreting successfully the varied and uncertain likes and dislikes of the motion picture going public at home and abroad.

"We believe that the motion picture industry of the United States has performed generally for the public good and for the public welfare in war and in peace, and that it has made a contribution to America. We seek to continue and expand this good influence of motion pictures.

"In an effort to continue to carry out our responsibilities to the nation and to humanity everywhere, we have organized a Motion Picture Industry Council so that all of us who work in the motion picture industry can seek and discover areas of common agreement to the end that we may move forward toward our objectives with dignity, integrity and conscience."

MPIC is a charter member of the Council of Motion Picture Organizations (COMPO).

The Production Code

THE ORIGIN OF THE PRODUCTION CODE

AT MID-YEAR in 1929, while the screen was engaged in the initial adjustments arising out of the acquisition of sound and the spoken word, Martin Quigley, industry trade journal publisher, observed a growing trend of departure from the level of accepted moral standards. The causes were many, dominant among them the influence of both material and precedent from the stage theatre which had come to serve principally sophisticated metropolitan minorities. Along with this he noted, among industry executives, a rising sense of responsibility and a purpose to accept the inherent responsibilities of the revolutionized medium.

After a study of the situation, Mr. Quigley undertook the formulation of a specific program designed to render guidance to producers in the problems due to the moral and social implications of screen material. Reverend Daniel A. Lord, S.J., of St. Louis, a trained moralist with an interest in the theatre, was invited into conference and active collaboration. Late in 1929 the document identified as "The Production Code" was completed.

Mr. Quigley engaged the interest of Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., and in the ensuing January of 1930 the Code idea and document were presented by Mr. Quigley and discussed at a series of meetings of the producers of the organized industry in Hollywood. In a subsequent formal meeting the Production Code was adopted by the Producers Association and its adoption was ratified March 31, 1930, by the board of directors of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., which organization is now known as the Motion Picture Association of America, Inc.

A foreword to the Code, dated January 1, 1949, reads:

Motion pictures made in the United States are, with few exceptions, produced in accordance with the provisions of a Production Code. A majority of the foreign pictures, exhibited in theatres here, likewise conform to these self-imposed industry rules and regulations.

In Hollywood, there is a department of the Association, with an office also in New York, known as the Production Code Administration organized by the Motion Picture Association of America, Inc.,* and which is authorized and maintained by the producing companies using it.

The group which forms this Administration has been empowered by the Association and these same producing companies to make certain that the articles of the Production Code are uniformly and impartially interpreted and applied.

All the major producing and distributing companies in the United States, and the great majority of the others, work with, and through, the Production Code Administration. Very few of the producers of English-dialogue motion pictures now being publicly exhibited in theatres in the United States fail to make use of the facilities of the Code Administration.

This service is rendered and this work conducted on a purely voluntary basis. No one is compelled to produce motion pictures in accordance with the Code regulations. No attempt is made to force producers to accept the service of the Production Code Administration. As a result, however, of more than 20 years of day-by-day operations, during which time eight thousand feature-length motion pictures and twice as many short-subject films have been serviced by the Code Administration, there is evident on all sides a ready disposition to conform to the regulations of the Code and to be guided in large measure by the judgment and experience of its administrators.

This effort to establish high principles of public responsibility for an art-industry has been singularly difficult and significant because of the newness, nature, and variety of this remarkable medium of expression which draws its raw material from all of drama, all of music, all of literature, and all of life; and because of the world-wide character of a consumer audience estimated at upwards of 75,000,000 admissions a week in the United States and, in normal times, an additional estimated 150,000,000 weekly in the rest of the world.

Industrial democracy can no longer be taken for granted. It must be strengthened. The problem of our national economy very properly has been stated to be the problem of maintaining, to the highest degree, initiative, enterprise and freedom in industry and in business. But these are rights that must be matched by equivalent responsibilities—moral, social and economic.

*Until December 14, 1945, the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc.

There is no real substitute for successful self-government in industry. There can be no permanent progress for a creative industry controlled in the interest of economic regimentation or political dictatorship. Yet, every error of judgment in the movies brings immediate criticism and inevitably jeopardizes the essential freedom of expression on which our democracy has been built. The motion picture industry in the United States is an important and significant case-study of the economic, artistic and social achievement of self-government in business.

The development of high moral and artistic standards in motion picture production has vastly improved the supply of popular entertainment and raised the artistic stature of the screen. To this result the vigorous and painstaking application of the Motion Picture Production Code to every process of film production, from the story to the finished picture, has contributed immeasurably.

Our experience indicates clearly that self-regulation is wholly consonant with freedom of expression for the motion picture art. None of the objectives toward which the industry must strive, in carrying out its public responsibilities, is outside the framework of self-discipline.

An alive and responsible public opinion is the guiding force in this, as in all systems of self-government. The motion picture public is not millions more or less conditioned to the suggestive and sensational. It is a universal public attracted to the motion picture theatre by a vast variety of clean and artistic entertainment.

THE CODE:

A CODE TO GOVERN THE MAKING OF MOTION AND TALKING PICTURES: The Reasons Supporting It and the Resolution for Uniform Interpretation: by Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., June 13, 1934.

The Motion Picture Production Code was formulated and formally adopted by the Association of Motion Picture Producers, Inc. (California), and the Motion Picture Association of America, Inc. (New York), in March, 1930.

Motion picture producers recognize the high trust and confidence which have been placed in them by the people of the world and which have made motion pictures a universal form of entertainment.

They recognize their responsibility to the public because of this trust and because entertainment and art are important influences in the life of a nation.

Hence, though regarding motion pictures primarily as entertainment without any explicit purpose of teaching or propaganda, they know that the motion picture within its own field of entertainment may be directly responsible for spiritual or moral progress, for higher types of social life, and for much correct thinking.

During the rapid transition from silent to talking pictures they realized the necessity and the opportunity of subscribing to a Code to govern the production of talking pictures and of reacknowledging this responsibility.

On their part, they ask from the public and from public leaders a sympathetic understanding of their purposes and problems and a spirit of cooperation that will allow them the freedom and opportunity necessary to bring the motion picture to a still higher level of wholesome entertainment for all the people.

GENERAL PRINCIPLES

1. No picture shall be produced which will lower the moral standards of those who see it. Hence the sympathy of the audience shall never be thrown to the side of crime, wrongdoing, evil or sin.

2. Correct standards of life, subject only to the requirements of drama and entertainment, shall be presented.

3. Law, natural or human, shall not be ridiculed, nor shall sympathy be created for its violation.

PARTICULAR APPLICATIONS

I. CRIMES AGAINST THE LAW

These shall never be presented in such a way as to throw sympathy with the crime as against law and justice or to inspire others with a desire for imitation.

1. Murder
   - a. The technique of murder must be presented in a way that will not inspire imitation.
   - b. Brutal killings are not to be presented in detail.
   - c. Revenge in modern time shall not be justified.
2. Methods of Crime should not be explicitly presented.
   - a. Theft, robbery, safe-cracking, and dynamiting of trains, mines, buildings, etc., should not be detailed in method.
   - b. Arson must be subject to the same safeguards.
   - c. The use of firearms should be restricted to essentials.
   - d. Methods of smuggling should not be presented.

*3. Neither the illegal drug traffic nor drug addiction must ever be presented.

*The original text read: "Illegal drug traffic must never be presented." An amendment adopted by resolution of MPA board of directors Sept. 11, 1946 read: "The illegal drug traffic must not be portrayed in such a way as to stimulate curiosity concerning the use of, or traffic in, such drugs; nor shall scenes be approved which show the use of illegal drugs, or their effects, in detail." Return to the original was voted by the MPA board March 27, 1951.

4. The use of liquor in American life, when not required by the plot or for proper characterization, will not be shown.

II. SEX

The sanctity of the institution of marriage and the home shall be upheld. Pictures shall not infer that low forms of sex relationship are the accepted or common thing.

1. Adultery and Illicit Sex, sometimes necessary plot material, must not be explicitly treated, or justified, or presented attractively.

2. Scenes of Passion
   a. These should not be introduced except where they are definitely essential to the plot.
   b. Excessive and lustful kissing, lustful embraces, suggestive postures and gestures, are not to be shown.
   c. In general, passion should be treated in such manner as not to stimulate the lower and baser emotions.

3. Seduction or Rape
   a. These should never be more than suggested, and then only when essential for the plot. They must never be shown by explicit method.
   b. They are never the proper subject for comedy.

4. Sex perversion or any inference of it is forbidden.

5. White slavery shall not be treated.

6. Miscegenation (sex relationship between the white and black races) is forbidden.

7. Abortion, sex hygiene and venereal diseases are not subjects for theatrical motion pictures.

8. Scenes of actual child birth, in fact or in silhouette, are never to be presented.

9. Children's sex organs are never to be exposed.

III. VULGARITY

The treatment of low, disgusting, unpleasant, though not necessarily evil subjects, should be guided always by the dictates of good taste and a proper regard for the sensibilities of the audience.

IV. OBSCENITY

Obscenity in word, gesture, reference, song, joke, or by suggestion (even when likely to be understood only by part of the audience) is forbidden.

V. PROFANITY

Pointed profanity or every other profane or vulgar expression, however used, is forbidden.

No approval by the Production Code Administration shall be given to the use of words and phrases in motion pictures including, but not limited to, the following:

"Bronx Cheer" (the sound)
Chippie
God, Lord, Jesus, Christ (unless used reverently)
Cripes
Fanny
Fairy (in a vulgar sense)
Fire—cries of Gawd
Goose (in a vulgar sense)
"Hold your hat," or "hats"
Hot (applied to a woman)
"In your hat"
Madam (relating to prostitution)
Nance
Nerts
Nuts (except when meaning crazy)
Pansy
Razzberry (the sound)
S.O.B.
Tart
Toilet gags
Tom-cat (applied to a man)
Traveling salesman and Farmer's daughter jokes
Whore
Damn, Hell (excepting when the use of said last two words shall be essential and required for portrayal, in proper historical context, of any scene or dialogue based upon historical fact or folklore, or for the presentation in proper literary context of a Biblical, or other religious quotation, or a quotation from a literary work, provided, that no such use shall be permitted which is intrinsically objectionable or offends good taste).

In the administration of Section V of the Production Code, the Production Code Administration may take cognizance of the fact that the following words and phrases are obviously offensive to the patrons of motion pictures in the United States and more particularly to the patrons of motion pictures in foreign countries: Chink, Dago, Frog, Greaser, Hunkie, Kike, Nigger, Spig, Wop, Yid.

VI. COSTUME

1. Complete nudity is never permitted. This includes nudity in fact or in silhouette, or any licentious notice thereof by other characters in the picture.
2. Undressing scenes should be avoided, and never used save where essential to the plot.
3. Indecent or undue exposure is forbidden.
4. Dancing costumes intended to permit undue exposure or indecent movements in the dance are forbidden.

VII. DANCES

1. Dances suggesting or representing sexual actions or indecent passion are forbidden.
2. Dances which emphasize indecent movements are to be regarded as obscene.

The original text read: "Sex hygiene and venereal diseases are not subjects for theatrical motion pictures." The amendment was adopted by resolution of the board of directors March 27, 1951.

VIII. RELIGION

1. No film or episode may throw ridicule on any religious faith.
2. Ministers of religion in their character as ministers of religion should not be used as comic characters or as villians.
3. Ceremonies of any definite religion should be carefully and respectfully handled.

IX. LOCATIONS

The treatment of bedrooms must be governed by good taste and delicacy.

X. NATIONAL FEELINGS

1. The use of the Flag shall be consistently respectful.
2. The history, institutions, prominent people and citizenry of all nations shall be represented fairly.

XI. TITLES

†The following titles shall not be used:

1. Titles which are salacious, indecent, obscene, profane or vulgar.
2. Titles which suggest or are currently associated in the public mind with material, characters or occupations unsuitable for the screen.
3. Titles which are otherwise objectionable.

XII. REPELLENT SUBJECTS

The following subjects must be treated within the careful limits of good taste.

1. Actual hangings or electrocutions as legal punishments for crime.
2. Third degree methods.
3. Brutality and possible gruesomeness.
4. Branding of people or animals.
5. Apparent cruelty to children or animals.
6. The sale of women or a woman selling her virtue.
7. Surgical operations.

SPECIAL REGULATIONS ON CRIME IN MOTION PICTURES

RESOLVED, that the Board of Directors of the Motion Picture Association of America, Inc., hereby ratifies, approves and confirms the interpretations of The Production Code, the practices thereunder, and the resolutions indicating and confirming such interpretations heretofore adopted by the Association of Motion Picture Producers, Inc., all effectuating regulations relative to the treatment of crime in motion pictures, as follows:

1. "Details of crime" must never be shown and care should be exercised at all times in discussing such details.
2. Action suggestive of wholesale slaughter of human beings, either by criminals, in conflict with police, or as between warring factions of criminals, or in public disorder of any kind, will not be allowed.
3. There must be no suggestion, at any time, of excessive brutality.
4. Because of the increase in the number of films in which murder is frequently committed, action showing the taking of human life, even in the mystery stories, is to be cut to a minimum. These frequent presentations of murder tend to lessen regard for the sacredness of life.

††5. Suicide, as a solution of problems occurring in the development of screen drama, is to be discouraged as morally questionable and as bad theatre—unless absolutely necessary for the development of the plot. It should never be justified or glorified or used to defeat the due process of law.

6. There must be no display, at any time, of machine guns, sub-machine guns, or other weapons generally classified as illegal weapons in the hands of gangsters, or other criminals, and there are to be no off-stage sounds of the repercussion of these guns.
7. There must be no new, unique or trick methods shown for concealing guns.
8. The flaunting of weapons by gangsters, or other criminals, will not be allowed.
9. All discussions and dialogue on the part of gangsters regarding guns should be cut to the minimum.

†10. There must be no scenes, at any time, showing law-enforcing officers dying at the hands of criminals unless such scenes are absolutely necessary to the development of the plot. This includes private detectives and guards for banks, motor trucks, etc.

11. With special reference to the crime of kidnapping—or illegal abduction—such stories are acceptable under the Code only when the kidnapping or abduction is: (a) not the main theme of the story; (b) the person kidnapped is not a child; (c) there are no details of the crime of kidnapping; (d) no profit accrues to the abductors or kidnappers; and (e) where the kidnappers are punished.

It is understood and agreed that the word kidnapping as used in paragraph (11) of these Regulations is intended to mean abduction, or illegal detention, in modern times, by criminals for ransom.

12. Pictures dealing with criminal activities in which minors participate, or to which minors are related, shall not be approved if they incite demoralizing imitation on the part of youth

††13. No picture shall be approved dealing with the life of a notorious criminal of current or recent times which uses the name, nickname, or alias of such notorious criminal in the film, nor shall a picture be approved if based upon the life of such a notorious criminal unless the character shown in the film be punished for crimes shown in the film as committed by him.

SPECIAL RESOLUTION ON COSTUMES

On October 25, 1939, the Board of Directors of the Motion Picture Association of America, Inc., adopted the following resolution:

RESOLVED that the provisions of Paragraphs 1, 3 and 4 of Sub-Division VI, of the Production Code, in their application to costumes, nudity, indecent or undue exposure, and dancing costumes, shall not be interpreted to exclude authentically photographed scenes photographed in a foreign land of natives of such foreign land showing native life if such scenes are a necessary and integral part of a motion picture depicting exclusively such land and native life, provided that no such scenes shall be intrinsically objectionable nor made a part of any motion picture produced in any studio, and provided further that no emphasis shall be made in any scenes of the customs or garb of such natives or in the exploitation thereof.

SPECIAL REGULATIONS ON CRUELTY TO ANIMALS

On December 27, 1940, the Board of Directors of the Motion Picture Association, Inc., approved a resolution adopted by the Association of Motion Picture Producers, Inc., reaffirming previous resolutions of the California Association concerning brutality and possible gruesomeness, branding of people and animals, and apparent cruelty to children and animals:

RESOLVED, by the Board of Directors of the Association of Motion Picture Producers, Inc., that

(1) Hereafter, in the production of motion pictures there shall be no use by the members of the Association of the contrivance or apparatus in connection with animals which is known as the "running W", nor shall any picture submitted to the Production Code Administration be approved if reasonable grounds exist for believing that use of any similar device by the producer of such picture resulted in apparent cruelty to animals; and

(2) Hereafter, in the production of motion pictures by the members of the Association, such members shall, as to any picture involving the use of animals, invite on the lot during such shooting and consult with the authorized representative of the American Humane Association; and

(3) Steps shall be taken immediately by the members of the Association and by the Production Code Administration to require compliance with these resolutions, which shall bear the same relationship to the sections of the Production Code quoted herein as the Association's special regulations re: Crime in Motion Pictures bear to the sections of the Production Code dealing therewith; and it is FURTHER RESOLVED, that the resolutions of February 19, 1925 and all other resolutions of this Board establishing its policy to prevent all cruelty to animals in the production of motion pictures and reflecting its determination to prevent any such cruelty, be and the same hereby are in all respects reaffirmed.

REASONS SUPPORTING PREAMBLE OF CODE

1. Theatrical motion pictures, that is, pictures intended for the theatre as distinct from pictures intended for churches, schools, lecture halls, educational movements, social reform movements, etc., are primarily to be regarded as ENTERTAINMENT.

Mankind has always recognized the importance of entertainment and its value in rebuilding the bodies and souls of human beings.

But it has always recognized that entertainment can be of a character either HELPFUL or HARMFUL to the human race, and in consequence has clearly distinguished between:

a. Entertainment which tends to improve the race, or at least to re-create and rebuild human beings exhausted with the realities of life; and

b. Entertainment which tends to degrade human beings, or to lower their standards of life and living.

††Regulation No. 13 was adopted by the MPA board of directors Dec. 3, 1947.

Hence the MORAL IMPORTANCE of entertainment is something which has been universally recognized. It enters intimately into the lives of men and women and affects them closely; it occupies their minds and affections during leisure hours; and ultimately touches the whole of their lives. A man may be judged by his standard of entertainment as easily as by the standard of his work.

So correct entertainment raises the whole standard of a nation.

Wrong entertainment lowers the whole living conditions and moral ideas of a race.

Note, for example, the healthy reactions to healthful sports, like baseball, golf; the unhealthy reactions to sports like cock-fighting, bull-fighting, bear baiting, etc.

Note, too, the effect on ancient nations of gladiatorial combats, the obscene plays of Roman times, etc.

2. Motion pictures are very important as ART.

Though a new art, possibly a combination art, it has the same object as the other arts, the presentation of human thought, emotion, and experience, in terms of an appeal to the soul through the senses.

Here, as in entertainment: Art enters intimately into the lives of human beings. Art can be morally good, lifting men to higher levels. This has been done through good music, great painting, authentic fiction, poetry, drama.

Art can be morally evil in its effects. This is the case clearly enough with unclean art, indecent books, suggestive drama. The effect on the lives of men and women is obvious.

Note: It has often been argued that art in itself is unmoral, neither good nor bad. This is perhaps true of the THING which is music, painting, poetry, etc. But the thing is the PRODUCT of some person's mind and the intention of that mind was either good or bad morally when it produced the thing. Besides the thing it has its EFFECT upon those who come into contact with it. In both these ways, that is, as a product of a mind and as the cause of definite effects, it has a deep moral significance and an unmistakable moral quality.

Hence: The motion pictures, which are the most popular of modern arts for the masses, have their moral quality from the intention of the minds which produce them and from their effects on the moral lives and reactions of their audiences. This gives them a most important morality.

1. They reproduce the morality of the men who use the pictures as a medium for the expression of their ideas and ideals.
2. They affect the moral standards of those who, through the screen, take in these ideas and ideals.

In the case of the motion pictures, this effect may be particularly emphasized because no art has so quick and so widespread an appeal to the masses. It has become in an incredibly short period the art of the multitudes.

3. The motion picture, because of its importance as entertainment and because of the trust placed in it by the peoples of the world, has special MORAL OBLIGATIONS:

A. Most arts appeal to the mature. This art appeals at once to every class, mature, immature, developed, undeveloped, law abiding, criminal. Music has its grades for different classes; so has literature and drama. This art of the motion picture, combining as it does the two fundamental appeals of looking at a picture and listening to a story at once reaches every class of society.

B. By reason of the mobility of a film and the ease of picture distribution, and because of the possibility of duplicating positives in large quantities, this art reaches places unpenetrated by other forms of art.

C. Because of these two facts, it is difficult to produce films intended for only certain classes of people. The exhibitor's theatres are built for the masses, for the cultivated and the rude, the mature and the immature, the self-respecting and the criminal. Films, unlike books and music, can with difficulty be confined to certain selected groups.

D. The latitude given to film material cannot, in consequence, be as wide as the latitude given to book material. In addition:

- a. A book describes; a film vividly presents. One presents on a cold page; the other by apparently living people.
- b. A book reaches the mind through words merely; a film reaches the eyes and ears through the reproduction of actual events.
- c. The reaction of a reader to a book depends largely on the keenness of the reader's imagination; the reaction to a film depends on the vividness of presentation.

  Hence many things which might be described or suggested in a book could not possibly be presented in a film.

E. This is also true when comparing the film with the newspaper.

- a. Newspapers present by description, films by actual presentation.

Market
Britain
Press
Non-

b. Newspapers are after the fact and present things as having taken place; the film gives the events in the process of enactment and with the apparent reality of life.

F. Everything possible in a play is not possible in a film.

a. Because of the larger audience of the film, and its consequential mixed character. Psychologically, the larger the audience, the lower the moral mass resistance to suggestion.

b. Because through light, enlargement of character, presentation, scenic emphasis, etc., the screen story is brought closer to the audience than the play.

c. The enthusiasm for and interest in the film actors and actresses, developed beyond anything of the sort in history, makes the audience largely sympathetic toward the characters they portray and the stories in which they figure. Hence the audience is more ready to confuse actor and actress and the characters they portray, and it is most receptive of the emotions and ideals presented by their favorite stars.

G. Small communities, remote from sophistication and from the hardening process which often takes place in the ethical and moral standards of groups in larger cities, are easily and readily reached by any sort of film.

H. The grandeur of mass settings, large action, spectacular features, etc., affects and arouses more intensely the emotional side of the audience.

In general, the mobility, popularity, accessibility, emotional appeal, vividness, straightforward presentation of fact in the film make for more intimate contact with a larger audience and for greater emotional appeal.

Hence the larger moral responsibilities of the motion pictures.

REASONS UNDERLYING THE GENERAL PRINCIPLES

1. No picture shall be produced which will lower the moral standards of those who see it. Hence the sympathy of the audience should never be thrown to the side of crime, wrongdoing, evil or sin.

This is done:

1. When evil is made to appear attractive or alluring, and good is made to appear unattractive.

2. When the sympathy of the audience is thrown on the side of crime, wrongdoing, evil, sin. The same thing is true of a film that would throw sympathy against goodness, honor, innocence, purity or honesty.

NOTE: Sympathy with a person who sins is not the same as sympathy with the sin or crime of which he is guilty. We may feel sorry for the plight of the murderer or even understand the circumstances which led him to his crime. We may not feel sympathy with the wrong which he has done.

The presentation of evil is often essential for art or fiction or drama.

This in itself is not wrong provided:

a. That evil is not presented alluringly. Even if later in the film the evil is condemned or punished, it must not be allowed to appear so attractive that the audience's emotions are drawn to desire or approve so strongly that later the condemnation is forgotten and only the apparent joy of the sin remembered.

b. That throughout, the audience feels sure that evil is wrong and good is right.

3. Correct standards of life shall, as far as possible, be presented. A wide knowledge of life and of living is made possible through the film. When right standards are consistently presented, the motion picture exercises the most powerful influences. It builds character, develops right ideals, inculcates correct principles, and all this in the attractive story form.

If motion pictures consistently hold up for admiration high types of characters and present stories that will affect lives for the better, they can become the most powerful natural force for the improvement of mankind.

4. Law, natural or human, shall not be ridiculed, nor shall sympathy be created for its violation.

By natural law is understood the law which is written in the hearts of all mankind, the great underlying principles of right and justice dictated by conscience.

By human law is understood the law written by civilized nations.

1. The presentation of crimes against the law is often necessary for the carrying out of the plot. But the presentation must not throw sympathy with the crime as against the law nor with the criminal as against those who punish him.

2. The courts of the land should not be presented as unjust. This does not mean that a single court may not be represented as unjust, much less that a single court official must not be presented this way. But the court system of the country must not suffer as a result of this presentation.

REASONS UNDERLYING PARTICULAR APPLICATIONS

1. Sin and evil enter into the story of human beings and hence in themselves are valid dramatic material.

2. In the use of this material, it must be distinguished between sin which repels by its very nature, and sins which often attract.

a. In the first class come murder, most theft, many legal crimes, lying, hypocrisy, cruelty, etc.

b. In the second class come sex sins, sins and crimes of apparent heroism, such as banditry, daring thefts, leadership in evil, organized crime, revenge, etc.

The first class needs far less care in treatment, as sins and crimes of this class are naturally unattractive. The audience instinctively condemns all such and is repelled.

Hence the important objective must be to avoid the hardening of the audience, especially of those who are young and impressionable, to the thought and fact of crime. People can become accustomed even to murder, cruelty, brutality and repellant crimes, if these are sufficiently repeated.

The second class needs great care in handling, as the response of human nature to their appeal is obvious. This is treated more fully below.

3. A careful distinction can be made between films intended for general distribution, and films intended for use in theatres restricted to a limited audience. Themes and plots quite appropriate for the latter would be altogether out of place and dangerous in the former.

NOTE: The practice of using a general theatre and limiting its patronage during the showing of a certain film to "Adults Only" is not completely satisfactory and is only partially effective.

However, maturer minds may easily understand and accept without harm subject matter in plots which do younger people positive harm.

Hence: If there should be created a special type of theatre, catering exclusively to an adult audience, for plays of this character (plays with problem themes, difficult discussions and maturer treatment) it would seem to afford an outlet, which does not now exist, for pictures unsuitable for general distribution but permissible for exhibitions to a restricted audience.

I. CRIMES AGAINST THE LAW

The treatment of crimes against the law must not:

1. Teach methods of crime.
2. Inspire potential criminals with a desire for imitation.
3. Make criminals seem heroic and justified.

Revenge in modern times shall not be justified. In lands and ages of less developed civilization and moral principles, revenge may sometimes be presented. This would be the case especially in places where no law exists to cover the crime because of which revenge is committed.

The illegal drug traffic, and drug addiction, must never be presented.

The use of liquor should never be excessively presented. In scenes from American life, the necessities of plot and proper characterization alone justify its use. And in this case, it should be shown with moderation.

II. SEX

Out of regard for the sanctity of marriage and the home, the triangle, that is, the love of a third party for one already married, needs careful handling. The treatment should not throw sympathy against marriage as an institution.

Scenes of passion must be treated with an honest acknowledgement of human nature and its normal reactions. Many scenes cannot be presented without arousing dangerous emotions on the part of the immature, the young or the criminal classes.

Even within the limits of pure love, certain facts have been universally regarded by lawmakers as outside the limits of safe presentation.

In the case of impure love, the love which society has always regarded as wrong and which has been banned by divine law, the following are important:

1. Impure love must not be presented as attractive and beautiful.
2. It must not be the subject of comedy or farce or treated as material for laughter.
3. It must not be presented in such a way as to arouse passion or morbid curiosity on the part of the audience.
4. It must not be made to seem right and permissible.
5. In general, it must not be detailed in method and manner.

III. Vulgarity; IV. Obscenity; V. Profanity, hardly need further explanation than is contained in the Code.

VI. COSTUME

General principles:

1. The effect of nudity or semi-nudity upon the normal man or woman, and much more upon the young and and upon immature persons, has been honestly recognized by all lawmakers and moralists.

Market
Britain
Non-

2. Hence the fact that the nude or semi-nude body may be beautiful does not make its use in the films moral. For, in addition to its beauty, the effect of the nude or semi-nude body on the normal individual must be taken into consideration.

3. Nudity or semi-nudity used simply to put a "punch" into a picture comes under the head of immoral actions. It is immoral in its effect on the average audience.

4. Nudity can never be permitted as being necessary for the plot. Semi-nudity must not result in undue or indecent exposures.

5. Transparent or translucent materials and silhouette are frequently more suggestive than actual exposure.

VII. DANCES

Dancing in general is recognized as an art and as a beautiful form of expressing human emotions.

But dances which suggest or represent sexual actions, whether performed solo or with two or more, dances intended to excite the emotional reaction of an audience, dances with movement of the breasts, excessive body movements while the feet are stationary, violate decency and are wrong.

VIII. RELIGION

The reason why ministers of religion may not be comic characters or villains is simply because the attitude taken toward them may easily become the attitude taken toward religion in general. Religion is lowered in the minds of the audience because of the lowering of the audience's respect for a minister.

IX. LOCATIONS

Certain places are so closely and thoroughly associated with sexual life or with sexual sin that their use must be carefully limited.

X. NATIONAL FEELINGS

The just rights, history, and feelings of any nation are entitled to most careful consideration and respectful treatment.

XI. TITLES

As the title of a picture is the brand on that particular type of goods, it must conform to the ethical practices of all such honest business.

XII. REPELLENT SUBJECTS

Such subjects are occasionally necessary for the plot. Their treatment must never offend good taste nor injure the sensibilities of an audience.

RESOLUTION FOR UNIFORM INTERPRETATION

as amended June 13, 1934

1. When requested by production manager, the Motion Picture Association of America, Incorporated, shall secure any facts, information or suggestions concerning the probable reception of stories or the manner in which in its opinion they may best be treated.

2. That each production manager shall submit in confidence a copy of each or any script to the Production Code Administration of the Motion Picture Association of America, Incorporated (and of the Association of Motion Picture Producers, Inc., California). Such Production Code Administration will give the production manager for his guidance such confidential advice and suggestions as experience, research, and information indicate, designating wherein in its judgment the script departs from the provisions of the Code, or wherein from experience or knowledge it is believed that exception will be taken to the story or treatment.

3. Each production manager of a company belonging to the Motion Picture Association of America, Incorporated, and any producer proposing to distribute and/or distributing his picture through the facilities of any member of the Motion Picture Assoication of America, Incorporated, shall submit to such Production Code Administration every picture he produces before the negative goes to the laboratory for printing. Said Production Code Administration, having seen the picture, shall inform the production manager in writing whether in its opinion the picture conforms or does not conform to the Code, stating specifically wherein either by theme, treatment or incident, the picture violates the provision of the Code. In such latter event, the picture shall not be released until the changes indicated by the Production Code Administration have been made; provided, however, that the production manager may appeal from such opinion of said Production Code Administration, so indicated in writing, to the Board of Directors of the Motion Picture Association of America, Inc., whose finding shall be final, and such production manager and company shall be governed accordingly.

NEW YORK: 28 West 44th Street; BRyant 9-4000—HOLLYWOOD: 8480 Beverly Blvd., WEbster 3-7101.

The Advertisers' Advisory Council is a department of Motion Picture Association of America, Inc. Members of the Council are the directors of advertising and publicity of the principal motion picture companies. It is charged with the administration of an "Advertising Code," voluntarily adopted by members on June 6, 1930. The official Code follows:

AN ADVERTISING CODE: To Reflect the High Quality of Motion Pictures

The purpose of the Advertising Code is to apply to motion picture advertising, publicity and exploitation, within their range, the high principles which the Production Code applies to the content of motion pictures.

The provisions of the Advertising Code shall apply to pressbooks, newspaper, magazine and trade paper advertising, publicity material, trailers, posters, lobby displays and all other outdoor displays, novelty distribution, radio copy and every form of motion picture exploitation.

We urge all motion picture producers, distributors, and exhibitors, and their advertising agents, whether affiliated with the undersigned or not, to adhere to these principles; and for ourselves, we pledge compliance with these principles without reservation.

1. We subscribe to a code of business ethics based upon truth, honesty and integrity. All motion picture advertising shall: (a) conform to fact, (b) scrupulously avoid all misrepresentation.
2. Good taste shall be the guiding rule of motion picture advertising.
3. Illustrations and text in advertising shall faithfully represent the pictures themselves.
4. No false or misleading statements shall be used directly, or implied by type arrangements or by distorted quotations.
5. No text or illustration shall ridicule or tend to ridicule any race, religion or religious faith; no illustration of a character in clerical garb shall be shown in any but a respectful manner.
6. The history, institutions and nationals of all countries shall be represented with fairness.
7. Profanity and vulgarity shall be avoided.
8. Pictorial and copy treatment of officers of the law shall not be of such a nature as to undermine their authority.
9. Specific details of crime, inciting, imitation, shall not be used.
10. Motion picture advertisers shall be guided by the provision of the Production Code that the use of liquor in American life shall be restricted to the necessities of characterization and plot.
11. Nudity with meretricious purpose and salacious postures shall not be used; and clothed figures shall not be represented in such manner as to be offensive or contrary to good taste or morals.
12. Court actions relating to censoring of pictures, or other censorship disputes, are not to be capitalized in advertising or publicity.
13. †Titles of source materials or occupations or names of characters on which motion pictures may be based should not be exploited in advertising or upon the screen if such titles or such names are in conflict with the provisions of the Production Code affecting titles.
14. ††No text or illustration shall be used which capitalizes, directly or by implication, upon misconduct of a person connected with a motion picture thus advertised.

Regulations for the Administration of the Advertising Code

(The following Regulations were adopted by the Board of Directors of the Motion Picture Association of America, Inc., April 22, 1948, and June 21, 1950.)

1. These regulations are applicable to all members of the Motion Picture Association of America, Inc. (hereinafter referred to as the "Association"), subsidiaries of a member producing or distributing motion pictures, and to all producers and distributors of motion pictures with respect to each picture for which the Association has granted its Certificate of Approval, pursuant to an application therefor.

2. The term "advertising" as used herein shall be deemed to mean all forms of motion picture advertising and exploitation, and ideas therefor, including, among other things, but without limitation thereto, the following: press books; still photographs; newspaper, magazine and trade paper advertising;

Market
Britain
Non-

publicity copy and art intended for use in press books or otherwise intended for general distribution in printed form or for theatre use; trailers; posters, lobby displays and other outdoor displays; advertising accessories, including heralds, throwaways, etc.; novelties; copy for exploitation tie-ups; radio and television copy.

The term "Company" as used herein shall be deemed to mean any person, firm or corporation.

3. All advertising shall be submitted to the Advertising Code Administration of the Association for approval before use, and shall not be used in any way until so submitted and approved as hereinafter set forth. All advertising shall be submitted in duplicate with the exception of press books, which shall be submitted in triplicate.

4. The Advertising Code Administration shall proceed as promptly as it finds feasible to approve or disapprove the advertising submitted on the basis of whether it complies with the Advertising Code.

The Advertising Code Administration shall stamp its approval on one copy of all advertising approved and return such stamped copy to the Company submitting the same. If the Advertising Code Administration disapproves of any advertising, there shall be stamped the word "Disapproved" on one copy thereof, which shall be returned to the Company submitting the same; or, if the Advertising Code Administration so desires, it may return the same with suggestions for such changes or corrections in the advertising as will cause it to be approved.

5. After advertising for a motion picture shall have been approved by the Advertising Code Administration, if circumstances arise, either before or after the picture's release, which in the judgment of the Administrator seems to require the withdrawal of all, or any portion of such previously approved advertising, then, after consultation with the Advertising Advisory Council, he shall immediately file a written report with the President and Secretary of the Association (a) setting forth the situation existing at the time such prior approval was granted for such advertising, (b) reciting the intervening circumstances with resultant changes in the situation, (c) listing the reasons why in the opinion of the Administrator all or a designated portion of the advertising previously approved should be withdrawn and (d) certifying that if such advertising were then being presented to him for the first time, it would not be approved by him under the Advertising Code for stated reasons.

If the President of the Association (or a Vice-President of the Association in the absence of the President), upon receipt of such report from the Advertising Code Administration, is of the opinion that the situation presented is sufficiently serious to justify consideration by the Board of Directors, the Secretary of the Association shall be instructed to call immediately an emergency meeting of the Board at which meeting the Board shall sit as a Board of Appeal with adequate opportunity for the producer and/or distributor of the motion picture to appear in person or through a duly authorized representative and present reasons orally or in writing, or both, as to why the prior approval of the advertising should be affirmed, and with adequate opportunity for the Administrator of the Advertising Code to appear and present reasons, either orally or in writing, or both, as to why in his judgment all or a designated portion of such previously approved advertising should be withdrawn.

Thereafter, the Board, meeting in executive session with the producer and/or distributor of the picture not voting, shall determine by vote of a majority of the Directors present and voting, whether all or any portion of the previously approved advertising shall be withheld from use and/or withdrawn, and such action of the Board of Directors shall be final and binding upon the producer and/or distributor of said film.

When any previously approved advertising for a motion picture is withdrawn pursuant to action of the Board hereunder, the company withdrawing same shall be reimbursed the unrecoverable portion of its out-of-pocket expenditures for such advertising to the extent deemed equitable and proper under all the circumstances by the Board. The amount of such reimbursement shall be prorated among all members of the Association including the company affected on the same basis as dues to the Assocation are currently paid.

If neither the producer nor the distributor of said film is a member of the Association, then the non-member withdrawing such advertising shall be reimbursed the unrecoverable portion of its out-of-pocket expenditures for such advertising by the members of the Association to the extent deemed equitable and proper under all the circumstances by the Board.

6. Appeals. Any Company whose advertising has been disapproved may appeal from the decision of the Advertising Code Administration, as follows:

Within ten days after its advertising has been disapproved, it shall serve notice of such appeal in writing on the Director of the Advertising Code Administration and on the Secretary of the Association. Said notice of appeal shall set forth the grounds upon which the appeal is taken. Within a reasonable time after the receipt of such notice by the Director of the Advertising Code Administration and the Secretary of the Association, the President or, in the event of his absence from the country or his inability to act, a board consisting of three members of the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors of the Association appointed by him, shall hold a hearing to pass upon the appeal. Oral and written evidence may be introduced by the Company and the Advertising Code Administration. Oral argument shall be had at the hearing and written memoranda or briefs may be submitted by the Company and the Advertising Code Administration. The President or said board, as the case may be, may admit such evidence as is deemed relevant, material and competent, and may determine the nature and length of the oral argument and of the written memoranda or briefs to be submitted. The President, or said board, as the case may be, shall decide the appeal as expeditiously as possible and shall notify the Company and the Director of the Advertising Code Administration in writing of the decision. Such decision shall be final.

A company appealing from a decision of the Advertising Code Administration under Section 14 of the Advertising Code shall have the right, by written notice to the Secretary of the Association, to appeal directly to the Board of Directors of the Association, whose decision shall be final. The provisions relating to evidence, argument and written memoranda or briefs, set forth in these Regulations shall apply to such appeals.

7. Any Company to which these regulations are applicable, which publishes, or makes available for sale or lease, or which in any way uses advertising without prior approval as hereinabove provided, may be brought up on charges before the Board of Directors by the Director of the Advertising Code Administration, or by any of the following officers of the Association, viz.: the President, a Vice-President, the Secretary or the Treasurer. The Company shall be entitled to receive a written statement of the charges and to a hearing before the Board of Directors. Within a reasonable time after the receipt of said statement of charges by the Company, the Board of Directors of the Association shall meet in a Special meeting to hear and pass upon such charges. Oral and written evidence may be introduced by the Company and by the Advertising Code Administration. Oral argument shall be had and written memoranda or briefs may be submitted by the Company and by the Advertising Code Administration. The Board of Directors may admit such evidence as it deems relevant, material and competent, and may determine the nature and length of the oral argument and of the written memoranda or briefs to be submitted. The Board of Directors, by a majority vote of those present, shall decide the matter as expeditiously as possible.

If the Board of Directors finds that the Company has published, or made available for sale or lease or in any way used advertising without prior approval as hereinabove set forth, the Board may take one or more of the following actions:

(a) Direct the Production Code Administration to void and revoke the Certificate of Approval granted by the Association for the picture so advertised and require the removal of the Association's seal from all prints of said picture, and the Production Code Administration shall thereupon do so;

(b) Require the Company, if a member of the Association, to pay to the Association as and for liquidated damages, not more than $100 for each publication, lease, sale or use of an unapproved item of advertising which has been published, made available for lease or sale or used, provided, however, that the total sum assessed for advertising relative to one motion picture may not exceed the sum of $25,000. The amount so assessed and collected shall be used by the Association for expenses incurred in the administration of the Advertising Code. It is recognized that any violation of the Advertising Code will disrupt the stability of the industry and cause serious damage to the Association and its members which cannot be definitively computed.

The decision of the Board of Directors shall be final.

8. Each Company shall assume responsibility for seeing that all its employees and agents comply with these regulations.

The Television Code

A NEW CODE of standards and practices for the television industry went into effect March 1, 1952 following a series of developments almost a year in the making.

The code is an aftermath of a meeting held in Washington in June, 1951 at which NBC made public a code of its own. Set up as a standard of operations in television, this code bore an essential resemblance to the instrument earlier adopted by the same network for radio broadcasting. Both NBC codes, a Code of Standards adopted for radio by the National Association of Broadcasters—predecessor organization of the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters—in Atlantic City in 1947 and now the industry-wide TV code, drew upon the Motion Picture Production Code for their pattern.

Four subcommittees were active in preparation of the television code throughout the summer of 1951. Their tentative draft was approved by the NARTB board in September and a final polishing job undertaken in Washington shortly before the text was ratified in Chicago, October 19, 1951.

The TV code provides for a review board consisting of five members of NARTB. This board is empowered to enforce the rules governing programming and advertising. There will be issued a Seal of Approval, available to subscribing members whether affiliated with NARTB or not. While the power to hold in check unfair and unscrupulous acts will be vested in the Review Board, the common impression in television is that this will be largely an unwritten power.

Intensive promotion on behalf of the seal is contemplated. Subscribing stations will be permitted to televise it so long as they adhere to the code itself. The Review Board will be charged with the policing task and report violations to the board of directors of NARTB who will be empowered to revoke the seal by a two-thirds' vote from which there will be no appeal.

In those phases that deal with programming and its approaches, the code bears striking similarity to the Motion Picture Production Code, conceived and formulated in 1929 by Martin Quigley, and ratified by the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors Association of America, Inc. which became the Motion Picture Association of America, Inc. late in 1945 when Eric Johnston was named president.

Meeting in Bandera, Tex. in February, TV board members of NARTB approved a review board of five and adopted a plan for financing administration of the code as well as an operating budget of $40,000 for the first year of operations.

The review board, designed to be a preliminary hearing group in considering complaints that specific TV programs and advertising practices violate the code, included the following:

John E. Fetzer, owner of TV station WKZO-TV at Kalamazoo, as the chairman; J. Leonard Reinsich, vice-president, WSB, Atlanta; Mrs. Scott Bullitt, owner of KING-TV, Seattle; Walter J. Damm, vice-president and general manager, WTMJ-TV, Milwaukee, and E. K. Jett, vice-president and general manager of WMAR-TV, Baltimore.

Under the financing plan, each subscribing TV station pays $520 a year. If it is an NARTB member, $250 of this is credited against NARTB dues, leaving $270 for defraying code administration costs.

Text of the code follows:

Preamble

Television is seen and heard in every type of American home. These homes include children and adults of all ages, embrace all races and all varieties of religious faith, and reach those of every educational background. It is the responsibility of television to bear constantly in mind that the audience is primarily a home audience, and consequently that television's relationship to the viewers is that between guest and host.

The revenues from advertising support the free, competitive American system of telecasting, and make available to the eyes and ears of the American people the finest programs of information, education, culture and entertainment. By law the television broadcaster is responsible for the programming of his station. He, however, is obligated to bring his positive responsibility for excellence and good taste in programming to bear upon all who have a hand in the production of programs, including networks, sponsors, producers of film and of live programs, advertising agencies, and talent agencies.

The American businesses which utilize television for conveying their advertising messages to the home by pictures with sound, seen free-of-charge on the home screen, are reminded that their responsibilities are not limited to the sale of goods and the creation of a favorable attitude toward the sponsor by the presentation of entertainment. They include, as well, responsibility for utilizing television to bring the best programs, regardless of kind, into American homes.

Television, and all who participate in it are jointly accountable to the American public for respect for the special needs of children, for community responsibility, for the advancement of education and culture, for the acceptability of the program materials chosen, for decency and decorum in production, and for propriety in advertising. This responsibility cannot be discharged by any given group of programs, but can be discharged only through the highest standards of respect for the American home, applied to every moment of every program presented by television.

In order that television programming may best serve the public interest, viewers should be encouraged to make their criticisms and positive suggestions known to the television broadcasters. Parents in particular should be urged to see to it that out of the richness of television fare, the best programs are brought to the attention of their children.

Advancement of Education and Culture

1. Commercial television provides a valuable means of augmenting the educational and cultural influences of schools, institutions of higher learning, the home, the church, museums, foundations, and other institutions devoted to education and culture.

2. It is the responsibility of a television broadcaster to call upon such institutions for counsel and cooperation and to work with them on the best methods of presenting educational and cultural materials by television. It is further the responsibility of stations, networks, advertising agencies and sponsors consciously to seek opportunities for introducing into telecasts factual materials which will aid in the enlightenment of the American public.

3. Education via television may be taken to mean that process by which the individual is brought toward informed adjustment to his society. Television is also responsible for the presentation of overtly instructional and cultural programs, scheduled so as to reach the viewers who are naturally drawn to such programs, and produced so as to attract the largest possible audience.

4. In furthering this realization, the television broadcaster:

a) Should be thoroughly conversant with the educational and cultural needs and desires of the community served.

b) Should affirmatively seek out responsible and accountable educational and cultural institutions of the community with a view toward providing opportunities for the instruction and enlightenment of the viewers.

c) Should provide for reasonable experimentation in the development of programs specifically directed to the advancement of the community's culture and education.

Acceptability of Program Material

Program materials should enlarge the horizons of the viewer, provide him with wholesome entertainment, afford helpful stimulation, and remind him of the responsibilities which the citizen has towards his society. Furthermore:

a) (i) Profanity, obscenity, smut and vulgarity are forbidden, even when likely to be understood only by part of the audience. From time to time, words which have been acceptable, acquire undesirable meanings, and telecasters should be alert to eliminate such words.

(ii) The Television code Review Board (see V, Section 3) shall maintain and issue to subscribers, from time to time, a continuing list of specific words and phrases which should not be used in keeping with this subsection. This list, however, shall not be considered as all-inclusive.

b) (i) Attacks on religion and religious faiths are not allowed.

(ii) Reverence is to mark any mention of the name of God. His attributes and powers.

(iii) When religious rites are included in other than religious programs, the rites are accurately presented, and the ministers, priests and rabbis portrayed in their callings are vested with the dignity of their office and under no circumstances are to be held up to ridicule.

c) (i) Contests may not constitute a lottery.

(ii) Any telecasting designed to "buy" the television audience by requiring it to listen and/or view in hope of reward, rather than for the quality of the program, should be avoided. (see Contests.)

d) Respect is maintained for the sanctity of marriage and the value of the home. Divorce is not treated casually nor justified as a solution for marital problems.

e) Illicit sex relations are not treated as commendable.

f) Sex crimes and abnormalities are generally unacceptable as program material.

g) Drunkenness and narcotic addition are never presented as desirable or prevalent.

h) The administration of illegal drugs will not be displayed.

i) The use of liquor in program content shall be de-emphasized. The consumption of liquor in American life, when not required by the plot or for proper characterization, shall not be shown.

j) The use of gambling devices or scenes necessary to the development of plot or as appropiate background is acceptable only when presented with discretion and in moderation, and in a manner which would not excite interest in, or foster, betting nor be instructional in nature. Telecasts of actual sport programs at which on-the-scene betting is permitted by law should be presented in a manner in keeping with Federal, state and local laws, and should concentrate on the subject as a public sporting event.

k) In reference to physical or mental afflictions and deformities, special precautions must be taken to avoid ridiculing sufferers from similar ailments and offending them or members of their families.

l) Exhibitions of fortune-telling, astrology, phrenology, palm-reading, and numerology are acceptable only when required by a plot or the theme of a program, and then the presentation should be developed in a manner designed not to foster superstition or excite interest or belief in these subjects.

m) Televised drama shall not simulate news or special events in such a way as to mislead or alarm. (see News.)

n) Legal, medical and other professional advice, diagnosis and treatment will be permitted only in conformity with law and recognized ethical and professional standards.

o) The presentation of cruelty, greed and selfishness as worthy motivations to be avoided.

p) Unfair exploitation of others for personal gain shall not be presented as praiseworthy.

q) Criminality shall be presented as undesirable and unsympathetic. The condoning of crime in the treatment of the commission of crime in a frivolous, cynical or callous manner is unacceptable.

r) The presentation of techniques of crime in such detail as to invite imitation shall be avoided.

s) The use of horror for its own sake will be eliminated; the use of visual or aural effects which would shock or alarm the viewer, and the detailed presentation of brutality or physical agony by sight or by sound are not permissible.

t) Law enforcement shall be upheld, and the officers of the law are to be portrayed with respect and dignity.

u) The presentation of murder or revenge as a motive for murder shall not be presented as justifiable.

v) Suicide as an acceptable solution for human problems is prohibited.

w) The exposition of sex crimes will be avoided.

x) The appearances or dramatization of persons featured in actual crime news will be permitted only in such light as to aid law enforcement or to report the news event.

Responsibility Toward Children

1. The education of children involves giving them a sense of the world at large. Crime, violence and sex are a part of the world they will be called upon to meet, and a certain amount of proper presentation of such is helpful in orienting the child to his social surroundings. However, violence and illicit sex shall not be presented in an attractive manner, nor to an extent such as will lead a child to believe that they play a greater part in life than they do. They should not be presented without indications of the resultant retribution and punishment.

2. It is not enough that only those programs which are intended for viewing by children shall be suitable to the young and immature. (Attention is called to the general items listed under Acceptability of Program Materials.) Television is responsible for insuring that programs of all sorts which occur during the times of day when children may normally be expected to have the opportunity of viewing television shall exercise care in the following regards:

a) In affording opportunities for cultural growth as well as for wholesome entertainment.
b) In developing programs to foster and promote the commonly accepted moral, social and ethical ideals characteristic of American life.
c) In reflecting respect for parents, for honorable behavior, and for the constituted authorities of the American community.
d) In eliminating reference to kidnaping of children or threats of kidnapping.
e) In avoiding material which is excessively violent or would create morbid suspense, or other undesirable reactions in children.
f) In exercising particular restraint and care in crime or mystery episodes involving children or minors.

Decency and Decorum in Production

1. The costuming of all performers shall be within the bounds of propriety, and shall avoid such exposure or such emphasis on anatomical detail as would embarrass or offend home viewers.

2. The movements of dancers, actors, or other performers shall be kept within the bounds of decency, and lewdness and impropriety shall not be suggested in the positions assumed by performers.

3. Camera angles shall avoid such views of performers as to emphasize anatomical details indecently.

4. Racial or nationality types shall not be shown on television in such a manner as to ridicule the race or nationality.

5. The use of locations closely associated with sexual life or with sexual sin must be governed by good taste and delicacy.

Community Responsibility

A television broadcaster and his staff occupy a position of responsibility in the community and should conscientiously endeavor to be acquainted fully with its needs and characteristics in order better to serve the welfare of its citizens.

Treatment of News and Public Events

News

1. A television station's news schedule should be adequate and well-balanced.

2. News reporting should be factual, fair and without bias.

3. Commentary and analysis should be clearly identified as such.

4. Good tastse should prevail in the selection and handling of news:

Morbid, sensational or alarming details not essential to the factual report, especially in connection with stories of crime or sex, should be avoided. News should be telecast in such a manner as to avoid panic and unnecessary alarm.

5. At all times, pictorial and verbal material for both news and comment should conform to other sections of these standards, wherever such sections are reasonably applicable.

6. Pictorial material should be chosen with care and not presented in a misleading manner.

7. A television broadcaster should exercise due care in his supervision of content, format, and presentation of newscasts originated by his station, and in his selection of newscasters, commentators, and analysts.

8. A television broadcaster should exercise particular discrimination in the acceptance, placement and presentation of advertising in news programs so that such advertising should be clearly disinguishable from the news content.

9. A television broadcaster should not present fictional events or other non-news material as authentic news telecasts or announcements nor should he permit dramatizations in any program which would give the false impression that the dramatized material constitutes news. Expletives, (presented aurally or pictorially such as "flash" or "bulletin" and statements such as "we interrupt this program to bring you . . ." should be reserved specifically for news room use. However, a television broadcaster may property exercise discretion in the use in non-news programs of words or phrases which do not necessarily imply that the material following is a news release.

PUBLIC EVENTS

1. A television broadcaster has an affirmative responsibility at all times to be informed of public events, and to provide coverage consonant with the ends of an informed and enlightened citizenry.

2. Because of the nature of events open to the public, the treatment of such events by a television broadcaster should be effected in a manner to provide for adequate and informed coverage as well as good taste in presentation.

Controversial Public Issues

1. Television provides a valuable forum for the expression of responsible views on public issues of a controversial nature. In keeping therewith the television broadcaster should seek out and develop with accountable individuals, groups and organizations, programs relating to controversial public issues of import to its fellow citizens; and to give fair representation to opposing sides of issues which materially affect the life or welfare of a substantial segment of the public.

2. The provision of time for this purpose should be guided by the following principles:

a) Requests by individuals, groups or organizations for time to discuss their views on controversial public issues, should be considered on the basis of their individual merits, and in the light of the contribution which the use requested would make to the public interest, and to a well-balanced program structure.

b) Programs devoted to the discussion of controversial public issues should be identified as such, and should not be presented in a manner which would mislead listeners or viewers to believe that the program is purely of an entertainment, news or other character.

Political Telecasts

Political telecasts should be clearly identified as such, and should not be presented by a television broadcaster in a manner which would mislead listeners or viewers to believe that the program is of any other character.

Religious Programs

1. It is the responsibility of a television broadcaster to make available to the community as part of a well-balanced program schedule adequate opportunity for religious presentations.

2. The following principles should be followed in the treatment of such programs:

a) Telecasting which reaches men of all creeds simultaneously should avoid attacks upon religion.

b) Religious programs should be presented respectfully and accurately and without prejudice or ridicule.

c) Religious programs should be presented by responsible individuals, groups, and organizations.

d) Religious programs should place emphasis on broad religious truths, excluding the presentation of controversial or partisan views not directly or necessarily related to religion or morality.

3. In the allocation of time for telecasts of religious programs it is recommended that the television station use its best efforts to apportion such time fairly among the representative faith groups of its community.

Presentation of Advertising

1. Ever mindful of the role of television as a guest in the home, a television broadcaster should exercise unceasing care to supervise the form in which advertising material is presented over his facilities. Since television is a developing medium, involving methods and techniques distinct from those of radio, it may be desirable from time to time to review and revise the presently suggested practices:

a) Advertising messages should be presented with courtesy and good taste; disturbing or annoying material should be avoided; every effort should be made to keep the advertising message in harmony with the content and general tone of the program in which it appears.

b) A sponsor's advertising messages should be confined within the framework of the sponsor's program structure. A television broadcaster should seek to avoid the use of commercial announcements which are divorced from the program either by preceding the introduction of the program (as in the case of so-called "cow-catcher" announcements) or by following the apparent sign-off of the program (as in the case of so-called "trailer" announcements). To this end, the program itself should be announced and clearly identified before the sponsor's advertising material is first used, and should be signed off after the sponsor's advertising material is last used.

c) Advertising copy should contain no claims intended to disparage competitors, competing products, or other industries, professions or institutions.

d) Since advertising by television is a dynamic technique, a television broadcaster should keep under surveillance new advertising devices so that the spirit and purpose of these standards are fulfilled.

e) Television broadcasters should exercise the utmost care and discrimination with regard to advertising material, including content, placement and presentation, near or adjacent to programs designed for children. No considerations of expediency should be permitted to impinge upon the vital responsibility towards children and adolescents, which is inherent in television, and which must be recognized and accepted by all advertisers employing television.

f) Television advertisers should be encouraged to devote portions of their allotted advertising messages and program time to the support of worthy causes in the public interest in keeping with the highest ideals of the free competitive system.

g) A charge for television time to churches and religious bodies is not recommended.

Acceptability of Advertisers and Products—General

1. A commercial television broadcaster makes his facilities available for the advertising of products and services and accepts commercial presentations for such advertising. However, a television broadcaster should, in recognition of his responsibility to the public, refuse the facilities of his station to an advertiser where he has good reason to doubt the integrity of the advertiser, the truth of the advertising representations, or the compliance of the advertiser with the spirit and purpose of all applicable legal requirements. Moreover, in consideration of the laws and customs of the communities served, each television broadcaster should refuse his facilities to the advertisement of products and services, or the use of advertising scripts, which the station has good reason to believe would be objectionable to a substantial and responsible segment of the community. The foregoing principles should be applied with judgment and flexibility, taking into consideration the characteristics of the medium and the form and content of the particular presentation. In general, because television broadcast is designed for the home and the family, including children, the following principles should govern the business classifications listed below:

a) The advertising of hard liquor should not be accepted.

b) The advertising of beer and wines is acceptable only when presented in the best of good taste and discretion, and is acceptable subject to Federal and local laws.

c) Advertising by institutions or enterprises which in their offers of instruction imply promises of employment or make exaggerated claims for the opportunities awaiting those who enroll for courses is generally unacceptable.

d) The advertising of firearms and fireworks is acceptable only subject to Federal and local laws.

e) The advertising of fortune-telling, occultism, spiritualism, astrology, phrenology, palm-reading, numerology, mind-reading or character-reading is not acceptable.

f) Because all products of a personal nature create special problems, such products, when accepted, should be treated with especial emphasis on ethics and the canons of good taste; however, the advertising of intimately personal products which are generally regarded as unsuitable conversational topics in mixed social groups is not acceptable.

g) The advertising of tip sheets, race track publications, or organizations seeking to advertise for the purpose of giving odds or promoting betting or lotteries is unacceptable.

2. Diligence should be exercised to the end that advertising copy accepted for telecasting complies with pertinent Federal, state and local laws.

3. An advertiser who markets more than one product should not be permitted to use advertising copy devoted to an acceptable product for purposes of publicizing the brand name or other identification of a product which is not acceptable.

Advertising of Medical Products

1. The advertising of medical products presents considerations of intimate and far-reaching importance to the consumer, and the following principles and procedures should apply in the advertising thereof:

a) A television broadcaster should not accept advertising material which in his opinion, offensively describes or dramatizes distress or morbid situations involving ailments, by spoken word, sound or visual effects.

b) Because of the personal nature of the advertising of medical products, claims that a product will effect a cure and the indiscriminate use of such words as "safe", "without risk", "harmless", or terms of similar meaning should not be accepted in the advertising of medical products on television stations.

Contests

1. Contests should offer the opportunity to all contestants to win on the basis of ability and skill, rather than chance.

2. All contest details, including rules, eligibility requirements, opening and termination dates should be clearly and completely announced and/or shown, or easily accessible to the viewing public, and the winners' names should be released and prizes awarded as soon as possible after the close of the contest.

3. When advertising is accepted which requests contestants to submit items of product identification or other evidence of purchase of product, reasonable facsimiles thereof should be made acceptable.

4. All copy pertaining to any contest (except that which is required by law) associated with the exploitation or sale of the sponsor's product or service, and all references to prizes or gifts offered in such connection should be considered a part of and included in the total time allowances as herein provided. (see Time Standards for Advertising Copy.)

Premiums and Offers

1. Full details of proposed offers should be required by the television broadcaster for investigation and approval before the first announcement of the offer is made to the public.

2. A final date for the termination of an offer should be announced as far in advance as possible.

3. Before accepting for telecast offers involving a monetary consideration, a television broadcaster should satisfy himself as to the integrity of the advertiser and the advertiser's willingness to honor complaints indicating dissatisfaction with the premium by returning the monetary consideration.

4. There should be no misleading descriptions or visual representations of any premiums or gifts which would distort or enlarge their value in the minds of the listeners.

5. Assurances should be obtained from the advertiser that premiums offered are not harmful to person or property.

6. Premiums should not be approved which appeal to superstition on the basis of "luck-bearing" powers or otherwise.

Time Standards for Advertising Copy

1. As a guide to the determination of good telecast advertising practice, the time standards for advertising copy, presently suggested, are as follows:

Length of Program	Length of Advertising Message (Minutes and Seconds)
	News Programs	All Other Programs
(Minutes)	Day and Night	Class "A" Time	All Other Hrs.
5	1:00	1:00	1:15
10	1:45	2:00	2:10
15	2:15	2:30	3:00
25		2:50	4:00
30		3:00	4:15
45		4:30	5:45
60		6:00	7:00

2. The time standards set forth above do not affect the established practice of reserving for station use the last 30 seconds of each program for station break and spot announcements.

3. Announcement programs are designed to accommodate a designated number of individual live or recorded announcements, generally one minute in length, which are carried within the body of the program and are available for sale to individual advertisers. Normally not more than 3 one-minute announcements (which should not exceed approximately 125 words if presented live) should be scheduled within a 15-minute period and not more than six such announcements should be scheduled within a 30-minute period in local announcement programs; however, fewer announcements of greater individual length may be scheduled, provided that the aggregate length of the announcements approximates three minutes in a 15-minute program or six minutes in a 30-minute program. In announcement programs other than 15 minutes or 30 minutes in length, the proportion of one minute of announcement within every five minutes of programming is normally applied. The announcements must be presented within the framework of the program period designated for their use and kept in harmony with the content of the program in which they are placed.

4. Programs presenting women's services, features, shopping guides, market information, and similar material, provide a special service to the listening and viewing public in which advertising material is an informative and integral part of the program content. Because of these special characteristics the time standards set forth above may be waived to a reasonable extent. In the present state of experimentation in programming and advertising techniques in television programs of this type no definite limitations to these exceptions are set forth at this time.

5. Any casual reference in a program to another's product or service under any trade name or language sufficiently descriptive to identify it should, except for normal guest identifications, be condemned and discouraged.

6. Stationary backdrops or properties in television presentations showing the sponsor's name or product, the name of his product, his trade mark or slogan may be used only incidentally. They should not obtrude on program interest or entertainment. "On Camera" shots of such materials should be fleeting, not too frequent, and mindful of the need of maintaining a proper program balance.

Dramatized Appeals and Advertising

Appeals to help fictitious characters in television programs by purchasing the advertiser's product or service or sending for a premium should not be permitted, and such fictitious characters should not be introduced into the advertising message for such purposes. When dramatized advertising material involves statements by doctors, dentists, nurses or other professional people, the material should be presented by members of such profession reciting actual experience or it should be made apparent from the presentation itself that the portrayal is dramatized.

Sponsor Identification

Identification of sponsorship must be made in all sponsored programs in accordance with the requirements of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and the Rules and Regulations of the Federal Communications Commission.

REGULATIONS AND PROCEDURES

The following regulations and procedures shall obtain as an integral part of the Television Code of the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters:

I

Name

The name of this Code shall be The Television Code of the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters.*

II

Purpose of the Code

The purpose of this Code is cooperatively to maintain a level of television programming which gives full consideration to the educational, informational, cultural, economic, moral and entertainment needs of the American public to the end that more and more people will be better served.

III

Subscribers

Section 1. Eligibility

Any individual, firm or corporation which is engaged in the operation of a television broadcast station or network, or which holds a construction permit for a television broadcast station within the United States or its dependencies, shall, subject to the approval of the Television Board of Directors as hereinafter provided, be eligible to subscribe to the Television Code of the NARTB to the extent of one subcription for each such station and/or network which it operates or for which it holds a construction permit; provided, that a non television member of NARTB shall not become eligible via code subscription to receive any of the member services or to exercise any of the voting privileges of a member.

Section 2. Certification of Subscription

Upon subscribing to the Code, subject to the approval of the Television Board of Directors, there shall be granted forthwith to each such subscribing station authority to use the "NARTB Television Seal of Good Practice," a copyrighted and registered seal to be provided in the form of a certificate, a slide and/or a film, signifying that the recipient thereof is a subscriber in good standing to the Television Code of the NARTB. The seal and its significance shall be appropriately publicized by the NARTB.

* "Television Board. The Television Board is hereby authorized:—(4) to enact, amend and promulgate standards of practice or codes for its Television members, and to establish such methods to secure observance thereof as it may deem advisable:—". By-Laws of the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters, Article VII, section 2,B.(4).

Section 3. DURATION OF SUBSCRIPTION

Subscription shall continue in full force and effect until thirty days after the first of the month following receipt of notice of written resignation. Subscription to the Code shall be effective from the date of application subject to the approval of the Television Board of Directors; provided, that the subscription of a television station going on the air for the first time shall, for the first six months of such subscription, be probationary, during which time its subscription can be summarily revoked by an affirmative two-thirds vote of the Television Board of Directors without the usual processes specified below.

Section 4. SUSPENSION OF SUBSCRIPTION

Any subscription, and/or the authority to utilize and show the above-noted seal, may be voided, revoked or temporarily suspended for television programming, including commerical copy, which, by theme, treatment or incident, in the judgment of the Television Board constitutes a continuing, willful or gross violation of any of the provisions of the Television Code, by an affirmative two-thirds vote of the Television Board of Directors at a regular or special meeting; provided, however, that the following conditions precedent shall apply: (1) The subscriber shall be advised in writing by registered mail of the charges preferred; (2) Such subcriber shall have a right to a hearing and may exercise same by filing an answer within 10 days of the date of such notification; (3) Failure to request a hearing shall be deemed a waiver of the subscriber's right thereto; (4) If hearing is requested by the subscriber, it shall be designated as promptly as possible and at such time and place as the Television Board may specify. Oral and written evidence may be introduced by the subscriber and by the Television Code Review Board (hereinafter provided for). Oral argument may be had at the hearing and written memoranda or briefs may be submitted by the subscriber and by the Television Code Review Board. The Television Board of Directors may admit such evidence as it deems relevant, material, and competent and may determine the nature and length of the oral argument and the written argument or briefs to be submitted. The Television Board of Directors shall decide the case as expeditiously as possible and shall notify the subscriber and the Television Code Review Board in writing of the decision.

Section 5. ADDITIONAL PROCEDURES

The Television Board of Directors shall, from time to time, establish such additional rules of procedure as, in its opinion, may be necessary for the proper administration of the Code; provided, that special consideration shall be given to the procedures for receipt and processing of complaints and to necessary rules to be adopted from time to time, taking into account the source and nature of such complaints; such rules to include precautionary measures such as the posting of bonds to cover costs and expenses of processing same; and further provided, that the Board of Directors shall take the steps necessary to insure the confidential status of any proceedings before it.

Section 6. AMENDMENT AND REVIEW

Because of the new and dynamic aspects inherent in television broadcast, the Television Code, as a living, flexible and continuing document, may be amended from time to time by the Television Board of Directors; provided that said Board is specifically charged with review and reconsideration of the entire Code, its appendices and procedures, at least once each year.

Section 7. TERMINATION OF CONTRACTS

All subscribers on the air at the time of subscription to the Code shall be permitted that period prior to and including the earliest legal cancellation date to terminate any contracts, then outstanding, calling for program presentations which would not be in conformity with the Television Code, provided, however, that in no event shall such period be longer than fifty-two weeks.

IV

Rates

Each subscriber shall pay "administrative" rates in accordance with such schedule, at such time, and under such conditions as may be determined from time to time by the Television Board (see Article VII, section 2,B. (3) and (4), By-Laws of the NARTB); provided, that appropriate credit shall be afforded to a television member of the NARTB against the regular dues which he or it pays to NARTB-TV.

V

The Television Code Review Board

Section 1. COMPOSITION

The Television Board of Directors shall establish a continuing committee entitled The Television Code Review Board, upon the promulgation of the Television Code. The Review Board shall be composed of five members, all of whom shall be from the Television membership of NARTB. Members of the Television Board of Directors shall not be eligible to serve on the above specified Review Board. Members of the Review Board shall be appointed by the President of the NARTB, subject to confirmation by the Television Board of Directors. Due consideration shall be given, in making such appointments, to factors of diversification of geographical location, company representation and network affiliation. Those members appointed, following promulgation of the Code, shall serve until immediately following the annual NARTB Convention of 1952. Thereafter a term shall be for one year.

A. Limitation of Service

A person shall not serve consecutively as a member of the Review Board for more than two years.

Section 2. QUORUM

A majority of the membership of the Television Code Review Board shall constitute a quorum for all purposes unless herein otherwise provided.

Section 3. AUTHORITY AND RESPONSIBILITIES

The Television Code Review Board is authorized and directed:

(1) To maintain a continuing review of all television programming, esspecially that of subscribers to the Television Code of the NARTB; (2) to receive, screen and clear complaints concerning television programming; (3) to define and interpret words and phrases in the Television Code; (4) to develop and maintain appropriate liaison with governmental agencies and with responsible and accountable organizations and institutions; (5) to inform, expeditiously and properly, a subscriber to the Television Code of complaints or commendations, as well as to advise all subscribers concerning the attitude and desires programwise of accountable organizations and institutions, and of the American public in general; (6) to review and monitor, if necessary, any certain series of programs, daily programming, or any other program presentations of a subscriber, as well as to request recordings, aural or kinescope, or script and copy, with regard to any certain program presented by a subscriber; (7) to reach conclusions, and to make recommendations or prefer charges to the Television Board of Directors concerning violations and breaches of the Television Code by a subscriber; (8) to recommend to the Television Board of Directors, amendments to the Television Code.

A. Delegation of Powers and Responsibilities

The Television Code Review Board may delegate, from time to time, such of its above-specified responsibilities, as it may deem necessary and desirable, to a Staff Group of the NARTB-TV.

B. Meetings

The Television Code Review Board shall meet regularly at least four times a year at a date to be determined by it in the months of January, March, June and September. The chairman of the Review Board may at any time on at least five days' written notice call a special meeting of the Board.

State and City Censor Boards

State Film Censor Boards

WASHINGTON

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA—The nearest to a Censor Board is the police power in District of Columbia to order elimination of scenes or withdrawal of picture from screen, after it has been exhibited, if objectionable. Police women generally see pictures, also one of the District Attorneys. Latter has final say.

Sunday Showings

ALABAMA—Legalized by local option. Sunday shows in Mobile, Anniston, Ensley, Montgomery Auburn, Demopolis, Dothan, Selma, Troy, Bessemer, Cullman, Jasper, Tuscaloosa. Sunday shows legalized for Jefferson County, including Leeds and Tarrant and Birmingham. Sunday closing in Camden, Greenville, Linden, Livingstone, Piedmont and York. State Attorney-General rules Sunday films are legal in cities of less than 15,000 population.

ARIZONA—No state legislation.

ARKANSAS—Legislature of 1931 passed law legalizing Sunday shows by local option. Legislature of 1939 passed bill legalizing Sunday motion pictures.

CALIFORNIA—No state legislation against Sunday amusements.

COLORADO—Legalized by local option—law on statute books interpreted as prohibiting Sunday shows, passed in 1871, but some years ago case was appealed to Supreme Court of State, and decision rendered that law did not prevent operation of motion pictures on Sunday. No towns in state forbid shows by local ordinance, although some of smaller towns do not have Sunday shows.

CONNECTICUT—Local option throughout the state. Hartford and Danbury do not allow Sunday matinees, but theatres open at five p.m. State passed bill in 1937 permitting theatres to remain open Sunday night until 11 instead of 10:30. By local option 1945 legislation permits theatres to open at 1 P. M. and close at 11:30 P. M.

DELAWARE—State Blue Laws repealed in 1941. Sunday films permitted by local option between noon and 6 p. m. and from 8 p. m. until midnight. Newark by referendum banned Sunday pictures in 1942.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA—Theatres open on Sunday.

FLORIDA—Legalized by local option. All large towns have Sunday showings. Key West in Dec., 1946 enforced 1913 ordinance calling for Sunday openings after 6 P. M. and requiring theatres to pay 20% of net proceeds to local charity.

GEORGIA—Does not permit motion pictures on Sunday. In spite of blue laws, however, Atlanta, Albany, Columbus and Thomasville do show pictures. Savannah allows Sunday motion pictures between 2 and 6 p. m., and after 9:30 p. m., provided receipts go to charity. To serve war plant workers and servicemen theatres open in Marietta on Sunday from 1 to 7 p. m. and again at 8:54 p. m. Shows sponsored by Jr. Welfare League which covers law that Sunday shows must be for charity. Legislature permitting theatres to open from 2 P. M. to 11:30 P. M. by local option, referred bill to 1946 session; took no action. Winder City—half receipts of Sunday shows be given to city for operation of schools. Blackshear permitted American Legion to show Sunday pictures, but city council rescinded ordinance.

IDAHO—State law prohibits Sunday shows but upon signed petition of the majority of voters, presented to City Council, question is submitted to voters of community and popular vote governs action of council. Practically every sizeable town in state operates on Sunday.

ILLINOIS—No state law legalizing or making illegal showing of pictures on Sunday. This is controlled by municipalities. No Sunday shows in Sparta and Waverly.

INDIANA—Not legalized, but Sunday motion pictures are shown in every principal city in State. No Sunday shows in Oakland City.

IOWA—Legalized by local option.

KANSAS—Has Sunday Labor Laws which include motion pictures for Sunday showing. Law has never been enforced and all towns operate except White Cloud, Smith Center, Lindsborg, Scott City, Clifton, Baldwin, Greenleaf, Lincoln, Jetmore, Spearville, Oskaloosa. State's Memorial Day blue law repealed, 1945.

KENTUCKY—Bill legalizing Sunday performances passed 1934. State Court of Appeals declared in May, 1942, that Sunday motion pictures are allowed by State law and that no municipality can prohibit them.

LOUISIANA—Legalized by local option.

MAINE—1939 law permits Sunday shows between 3 and 11 P. M. Legislature passed local option referendum exercised at regular elections, effective July 26, 1941.

MARYLAND—Legislature in 1931 enacted law providing referendum for city of Baltimore which was voted on and passed. Theatres open in following counties: Baltimore, Montgomery, Prince George, St. Mary's, Howard, Oakland, Anne Arundel, Carroll and Frederick. Incorporated Towns in Allegheny County may have Sunday showings if they get permit. By Act of 1943 Legislature Sunday movies are permitted in Aberdeen and Frederick City and in Washington County from 1 to 7 p. m. Cecil County may have Sunday shows by local option from 2-11 P. M. Other counties have not passed laws permitting Sunday shows.

MASSACHUSETTS—Legalized for Sunday showing. A large number of cities and towns are forbidden film showings on Sunday.

MICHIGAN—Has old Blue Law statute prohibiting showing of pictures on Sunday, but statute is not enforced. Holland alone has closing ordinance.

MINNESOTA—Sunday Closing Law of 1905 amended 1909 legalizing outdoor sports. In a decision of 1910, motion pictures were classed as sports and allowed to operate.

MISSISSIPPI—Not legalized. One town, Shaw, operates—they open on Sunday, pay fine and continue to operate. City Commission of Jackson, in May, 1942, gave permission for Sunday films. But in October State Circuit Court closed Sunday shows. Jackson, Meridian and other towns operate on Sunday by collecting "free will offering" instead of admission charge.

MISSOURI—Has Sunday Labor Laws which include motion pictures for Sunday showing. Law was never enforced and all towns operate except Marshall, Fairfax, Fulton.

MONTANA—No state statute prohibiting showing of motion pictures on Sunday and no law legalizing such showing, but all towns run shows on Sunday.

NEBRASKA—Legalized by local option. Sunday shows forbidden in Stromsberg. Town council opened Arnold for Sunday shows. Beatrice approved Sunday shows April, 1940.

NEVADA—No state ban on Sunday shows.

NEW HAMPSHIRE—State passed Sunday Sports and Entertainment Bill in 1931 and individual cities and towns may vote on it. Entire state open by local option after 1 p. m.

NEW JERSEY—Blue laws repealed in 1933. Towns which have local ordinance prohibiting Sunday shows: Belvedere, Blairstown, Frenchtown, Highbridge, Jamesburg, Metuchen, Ocean Grove, Peapack, Ridgewood, Upper Montclair, Westfield. November 8, 1938, Montclair, by referendum vote, made Sunday movies legal. State removed ban on Sunday shows in Princeton to provide recreation for men in training camps.

NEW MEXICO—Bill passed 1931 legislature legalizing Sunday showings and prohibiting local option measures from closing theatres.

NEW YORK—Home rule law by which towns or cities are permitted to show motion pictures on Sunday after 2 P.M., provided local ordinance is enacted to this effect by local legislative body and ratified by direct vote of people at special election. Under this law leading towns and cities show pictures on Sunday. The following towns have local ordinances prohibiting Sunday shows: Bronxville, Carmel, Middletown, New Paltz, Hancock, Cazenovia. Rensselaer repealed ordinance November, 1940. Law passed in 1939 provides referendum by villages on Sunday shows.

NORTH CAROLINA—Not legalized. State law, city ordinances and public opinion opposed to Sunday films, but the following towns do have Sunday shows: Asheville, Benson, Chapel Hill, Dunn, Durham, Elizabeth City, Henderson, High Point, Louisburg, Plymouth, Raleigh, Robersonville, Scotland Neck, Tarboro, Williamston. Sunday films legalized for Cherokee County. Numerous towns have Sunday shows with percentage of proceeds to charity. 1939 Sunday closing law repealed in Johnston and Hyde Counties. Law also passed in 1939 prohibiting Sunday shows in Yadkin County, and in Northampton between 1 and 6 P. M. Sanford closed by City ordinance, April 1, 1940. Sunday films permitted in Charlotte and Salisbury in 1941.

NORTH DAKOTA—Sunday shows legalized by referendum in 1933.

OHIO—Legalized showing on Sunday. Forbidden in Bayesville and Cambridge. State Supreme Court in 1940 upheld right of municipalities to forbid Sunday performances. Wellsville resumed Sunday pictures September, 1946, after being closed since 1914.

OKLAHOMA—Legalized by local option. No state law against operation of Sunday shows. No towns of any consequence have closing laws.

OREGON—Legalized by local option to run shows on Sunday. No closed situation known.

PENNSYLVANIA—Sunday opening law passed, effective July 22, 1935. Legalized by local option. Law passed in 1941 provided referendum may be held every four years instead of five, on request of 20 per cent of highest vote cast for any candidate (old law specified five per cent).

RHODE ISLAND—Legalized by local option. 1943 legislature passed law permitting theatres in Providence and several other communities to open at 1 P. M. instead of 2 on Sundays.

SOUTH CAROLINA—Legislature in 1942 passed bill permitting Sunday films after 2 P. M., except between 7 and 9 P. M., in cities of 62,000 or more population.

SOUTH DAKOTA — Has state law prohibiting Sunday pictures. Local option has overruled this law, however, and pictures are shown on Sunday.

TENNESSEE—Governor signed bill repealing blue laws in April, 1935. Sunday opening by local option. However, few operate. Memphis, Dresden, Savannah, Knoxville, Ripley, Lexington and Maryville have Sunday shows. 1939, passed state law providing majority in any municipality shall decide for Sunday movies (Previous law, 4/5 majority). February, 1939 Nashville voted for Sunday shows. Murfreesboro theatres closed by poll tax vote in 1940. Etowah and Clarksville approved Sunday films in 1942. Jackson, which had shown movies on Sunday afternoons, forced to discontinue by referendum vote in 1943. Sunday films banned by City Council in Martin, 1943. Lebanon, Dyersburg, LaFollette and Whiteville voted for Sunday shows. City Council of Knoxville passed Sunday opening measure on first reading March, 1946, but no further action taken.

TEXAS—Governor signed bill legalizing Sunday pictures, which law became effective August 12th, 1931, subject to local option. Prior to passage of law, majority of principal towns were open. Most towns now have Sunday shows.

UTAH—No law preventing showing of pictures on Sundays. Former state statute made it illegal to operate a theatre on Sunday, but this statute was repealed in 1925. Local option bill was subsequently introduced but failed to pass.

VERMONT—Sunday movies after 6 p. m., law passed 1939. 1941 legislature eliminated necessity for voting every year on Sunday amusements, except on petition of 5% of voters.

VIRGINIA—Motion pictures are exhibited on Sunday in Richmond, Norfolk, and various other Virginia cities, usually after juries and test cases have failed to convict the exhibitor. In Williams versus Commonwealth 179 Va. 741, decided in 1942, the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia approved the operation of Sunday movies where the proceeds were devoted to charity, and three members of the Court, in a concurring opinion, held that the defendant was engaged in a "work of necessity," within the meaning of the Virginia Sunday Observance Law. The effect of this concurring opinion has been far-reaching in discouraging prosecutions for the exhibition of motion pictures on Sunday.

WASHINGTON—Sunday opening not legalized except in Colfax where old statute providing Sunday closing was attempted to be enforced, but was defeated. Theatres throughout State operate without interference. Closed in Pullman Sunday evenings as result of friendly arrangement with people of Normal School of Pullman.

WEST VIRGINIA—Not legalized, but all principal cities show pictures on Sunday which include Charleston, Bluefield, Huntington, Williamson (theatres in last city open after closing of church in morning and close prior to evening service). Forbidden by local ordinance in Lewisburg, Milton, and Ronceverte.

WISCONSIN—Blue laws repealed in 1933.

WYOMING—No state law concerning motion pictures.

National Legion of Decency

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY
Rev. Thomas F. Little, s.t.l.

In October, 1933, during the nineteenth meeting of the National Conference of Catholic Charities held in New York, his Excellency the Most Rev. Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, Apostolic Delegate to the United States, issued a challenge to the Catholics of this country to take action in the matter of "immoral" motion pictures. At the annual meeting of the Bishops in Washington, November, 1933, the Bishops' Committee on Motion Pictures was formed.

Present members of the Bishops' Committee are: Most Rev. Michael Ready, Bishop of Columbus, chairman; Most Rev. Joseph T. McGucken, Auxiliary Bishop of Los Angeles; Most Rev. Bryan J. McEntegart, Bishop of Ogdensburg; Most Rev. William A. O'Connor, Bishop of Springfield, Ill.; Most Rev. Charles H. Helmsing, Auxiliary Bishop of St. Louis.

The Legion of Decency states, "It seeks to obtain and maintain fundamental moral standards on the screen. It desires a screen which will not endanger the moral welfare of children and citizens and, therefore, not jeopardize the moral welfare of our country. It issues, regularly, classifications of films in terms of Christian morality. It presents these moral ratings to the public in order that the public may be informed of the moral character of films currently exhibited, and, thereby, be enabled to act wisely and choose for themselves, and for those entrusted to their care, screen entertainment which will not threaten moral and spiritual welfare."

In February, 1936, the Bishops' Committee on Motion Pictures transferred the responsibility for the review and classification of motion pictures to the archdiocese of New York. The Motion Picture Department of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae, which had been reviewing motion pictures for over a decade and had, over this period, published a list of "Endorsed Motion Pictures," was officially designated as the reviewing and classifying group of the Legion of Decency. The Motion Picture Department of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae acts under the chairmanship of Mrs. James F. Looram. At the present time the reviewing staff of the Motion Picture Department of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae is comprised of 53 members.

The Very Rev. Msgr. John J. McClafferty, as executive secretary of the Bishops' Committee on Motion Pictures, was in charge of the New York office from its inception until his appointment, in June, 1947, as dean of the School of Social Service of Catholic University.

The Legion issues bi-weekly a list of the moral classifications of current feature pictures. This list is distributed to the Catholic press throughout the United States through the National Catholic Welfare Conference News Service. Information on moral evaluation of films is given to the secular press as occasion requires. The Legion list of film ratings may be obtained by subscription, $2.50 a year, third class mail, $3.50 a year, first class mail.

The Legion also distributes the moral classifications to organizations comparable to it throughout the world. Catholic groups in England, France, Italy, Spain, Germany, others in the Near and Far East and in Central and South America also receive the evaluations of the Legion.

From October, 1951 to October, 1952, the National Legion of Decency reviewed 446 feature motion pictures. Of the total number of films reviewed, 182 were rated as Class A—Section I—Morally Unobjectionable for General Patronage; 172 were rated as Class A—Section II—Morally Unobjectionable for Adults; 78 were rated as Class B—Morally Objectionable in Part for All; 14 were rated as Class C—Condemned.

General Conditions and Outook: The Cereijo-Johnston agreement, signed in 1951, following a period of almost two years during which time no import permits for American pictures were granted, was made effective on the date indicated and importation of American product was resumed freely. Nevertheless, in August 1952, alleging that certain clauses of the agreement had not been fulfilled by the American companies, the granting of exhibition permits was again suspended. In February, this year, Mr. Eric Johnston visited Argentina and had interviews with the President of the Republic, Minister of Foreign Affairs and Under-Secretary of Information Bureau. During the conversations it was agreed that during the months of December (52), January and February (53), two pictures would be authorized for exhibition every month for each one of the 10 American distributing companies, and from March on exhibition permits would be authorized freely. Notwithstanding this fact, up to April 15th only a total of 4 pictures per company has been authorized.

Admission prices for first run houses was increased from $4.10 to $6.20 (approximately $0.25 use). From this amount $0.90 are deducted in respect of a special tax and promotion towards Argentine motion picture industry, leaving thus $5.30, of which numerous taxes have to be deducted.

The Argentine government has signed agreements for the exchange of pictures with Italy, Spain and France, besides the United States. A similar agreement with Mexico is now under conversation.

Argentine production has been notoriously reduced, but artistic values has been increased to a certain extent. Outstanding box-office successes were "Deshonra" (Interamericana) and "Las Aguas Bajan Turbias" (Hugo del Carril). The local studios encounter difficulties due to the lack of technical elements and raw material, but with respect to thus latter item, the trade agreements signed with Italy and France contemplate its importation into the country.

The importation of projection equipments is practically paralized and exhibitors cover their necessities with those manufactured in the country. There is only one TV station and reception equipments are so expensive that this does not constitute a menace to motion pictures.

AUSTRALIA

Number of theatres in operation: 1,663 plus 49 touring situations.

Number of features passed by the censor in 1952: 390. From the USA—290; from the UK—72; from other countries—280.

Feature production in 1952: Production hit rock bottom. Cambridge Film Productions Pty. Ltd., produced a film called "Night Club" in Melbourne. A half-hour film for TV in the U. S. was released as a featurette here under the title "I Found Joe Barton," but this was only a pilot film for a proposed series. Charles Chauvel started work on "Jedda" and shot a good deal of location film in the Northern Territory.

Censorship: No feature film was ultimately rejected during the year, the censor praising British and American producers for their high standards. Of 392 films passed (including 2 Australian films) for exhibition, 277 were classified as Suitable for General Exhibition, 115 as Not Suitable for Exhibition Before Children Under 16. Of the 290 U. S. films imported during 1952, 47 were passed with eliminations, while of the the total 390 imported, 324 were passed without eliminations. There were 4.406 16 mm films imported (USA, 1,118; UK, 1,472; others, 1,816). Just as 35mm imports declined by 57 over preceding year, 16mm imports increased by 252 over 1951. Position of previous year was reversed when a great increase in supply of short films passed through censorship. The censor noted that there was a big increase in production of Australian educational films. The censor recommended that the right to seize privately owned films be retained as a number of filthy films had made their way to Australia. He said, also, that enquiries had been made to ascertain what changes in equipment would be necessary for 3-D film censorship. The number of complaints against films during the year was negligible.

Customs and other duties: Duty of eight pence per linear foot on imports if imported for duplication purposes; five pence if imported for exhibition. All films subject to a primage duty of 10 per cent of assessed value and a 10 per cent special war duty tax. British imports for duplication are duty free; when imported for exhibition there is a duty of one pence a foot.

Admissions taxes: There has been a slight decrease in the tax since the war and price control on admissions has been lifted. Theatres in all states have received general price increases.

Legislation: New South Wales, Queensland and Tasmania have licensing authorities to control growth of new theatres. Queensland's Films Commission has power to arbitrate contract disputes. New South Wales quota laws impose a 3 per cent quota on distributors a 2½ per cent quota on exhibitors. Exhibitors' British quota is 15 per cent.

Government departments: Commonwealth Film Censorship, 9 Bligh St., Sydney. Films Division of the Department of the Interior, which can produce documentary and educational films, NSW Theatres and Films Commissions, Chief Secretary's Dept., 121 Macquarie St., Sydney; executive member, F. Lake. Queensland Picture Theatres and Films Commission, Department of Local Government, Treasury Bldg., Brisbane.

Principal industry organizations: M. P. Distributors' Association of Australia; F. McN. Ackland, chairman and executive officer, and chairman of the Film Renters' Association. Exhibitor organizations exist in all states. In Victoria, there are two: Victorian Independent Exhibitors' Association and the Cinematograph Exhibitors' Association. Theatrical and Amusement Employees' Assoication has branches in every state, with head offices at Trades Hall, Melbourne; projectionists' section of this union is known as the Inner Circle. Theatre Managers' Association has branches in all states of Australia. Head office: 160 Castlereagh St., Sydney. Motion Picture Technicians Assn. of Australia, with H. B. Alexander as president. This looks after the interests of laboratory and production technicians.

Principal producers: Avondale Studios, Turella, Sydney, Charles Chauvel Productions, Ltd.

Principal distributors: Sydney: British Empire Films Pty., Ltd., 251A Pitt St.; Gaumont British Dominions Films Distributors Pty., Ltd., 43-51 Brisbane St. Victoria: Herschells Pty., Ltd., 31 Agnes St., East Melbourne; London Films, Sydney. all American companies, with branches in every state. Arrow Film Distributors (Aust.) Pty. Ltd., 390 Little Collins St., Melbourne. Robert Kapferer Productions (foreign-language films) 1 Bond St., Sydney. National Films of NSW (Reg.) 198-200 Pitt St., Sydney. J. Arthur Rank Film Distributors (Aust.) Pty. Ltd., 251A Pitt St., Sydney. Ray Films (Reg.) 198-200 Pitt St., Sydney. Natan Scheinwald Pty. Ltd. (foreign language films) 8 Spring St., Sydney. Independent Film Distributors, Pitt St., Sydney. F. D. B. Films (foreign language films) 42 Adelaide St., Melb.

Principal theatre circuits: Birch, Carroll & Coyle, Edward Sa., Brisbane; M. G. M. Theatres, 20 Chalmers St., Sydney; Northern Suburbs Cinemas, 228 Pitt St., Sydney; Riverina Theatres Pty. Ltd., Leeton, NSW. Consolidated Theatres, Howard St., Perth; Far Northern Theatres, P. O. Box 865; Cairns Fullers Theatres, 89 Elizabeth St., Sydney; Goldfields Pictures, William St., Perth; Grand Theatre Company, Murray St., Perth; Greater Union Theatres, 49 Market St., Sydney; Hoyts Theatres, Ltd., 600 George St., N. S. W.; Robert McLeish Theatres, 243 Collins St., Melbourne; Snider & Dean Theatres, 155 King St., Sydney; Star Theatres, 60 St. John St., Launceston; Suburban Theatres, Claremont; T. J. Dorgan, Molesworth St., Lismore; J. C. Williamson Theatres, 51 Castlereagh St., Sydney; Wollongong Theatres, 60 Hunter St., Sydney; Woodrow Distributing Corporation, 239 Collins St., Melbourne.

General conditions and outlook: The big topic of conservation in and out of the trade is 3-D. "Bwana Devil" is due for release at the Sydney Plaza this April and is eagerly awaited. M. G. M. tried to scoop the third dimension pool by re-releasing Pete Smith's old Audioscopics under the title 'Metroscopics,' but were not sensationally successful. Cinema Scope, promised by the end of the year, is eagerly awaited. TV is definitely on the way. The Federal Government has introduced legislation allowing private enterprises to exist alongside national TV. The Prime Minister has also formed a Royal Commission into Television which has been hearing evidence all over Australia. The shape of Australian TV could well result from its findings.

tory. Skouras was feted widey by the trade, by top level political and diplomatic representatives, both in Sydney, Melbourne and Canberra. Ernest Turnbull made two trips to the U.S. On the first, he witnessed Eidophor demonstrations, on the second, a rush trip, he was present at the launching of CinemaScope.

20th-Fox went into the 16mm field during the year. Greater Union's profit for the year was £140,754, approximately £10,000 below the preceding year's total profit. Herc McIntyre was appointed UI's representative supervising complete business interests in Australia, N.Z. and the South Pacific area.

Latest statistics released during the year showed total theatre admissions for year ended June 30, 1950 were 129,028,000 and entertainment tax collected was £2,903,609 (approx. $6,531,120). Adolf Schwartz arrived to take over Westrex in place of Pete Tower who was sent to London. In April, Manny Reiner arrived on Sam Goldwyn's business. Earlier, Bob Skene had surveyed the Commonwealth for wild life film suitable for Disney.

Exhibitors were disturbed by the growth of free 16mm screenings in hotels; they were also worried by Metro released films in certain suburban houses day and date with the city. Surprise flop of the year was "Kangaroo," the film Fox sent a crew to Australia to make. After much ballyhooed charity screenings for Red Cross, the film nosedived. Surprise death during the year was Dave Lake's. Lake had been general sales manager of MGM practically since its inception here.

Film business has been spotty during the year, but the interest in 3-D is expected to lift the box office in the next few months. There are more Raycophone (local) equipments in use in Australia than any other make. No equipments may be brought in from the U.S., but Westrex and RCA equipment is obtained via the U.K., which also sends out Gaumont Kalee projectors. Other local makes include Pyrox (which is believed after a tariff increase because it proposes making projection heads here) and Cummings & Wilson, which has a Model G. twin-shutter projector. Some Centrex (Century) projectors were being made at the Lithgow Small Arms Factory (NSW) are still being sold. Westalite rectifiers are made here, although the plates are imported. Seamless plastic screens are made here by G. R. Brakel. Lenses are imported, but there are two firms manufacturing them locally. They are Warterworths and Aust. Optical Co.

AUSTRIA

Number of theatres in operation (Dec. 31, 1952): 1,073 compared to 1.032 in 1951, and 957 in 1950. This includes 222 theatres in Vienna, which accounts for nearly half of the box office receipts.

Total attendance: about ninety million in 1951, or an average of 87,500 visitors per theatre.

Seating capacity: 290,000 averaging 270 per theatre, or one seat to twenty-seven persons.

Production: 132 features and 11 full length documentaries and cultural films were produced since 1946. 13 of them in color. 23 were completed in 1952.

Number of imported features: 383 foreign pictures were offered by distributors in Austria in 1951 (184 U.S., 98 German, 32 British, 23 French, 11 Russian, and 35 others).

Distribution: 31 distributors are active in Austria, 23 of whom handle home productions. U.S. product is distrbuted mainly by MPEA, British by J. Arthur Rank, Soviet and East German product by Universal-Film.

Censorship: Only to determine which pictures are to be admitted for general attendance and which barred to persons under sixteen years of age. Censorship is exercised by the city of Vienna for all Austrian Lands.

Regulations: Minimumprogram lenght 2,600 meters.

Principal producers: Wien-Film VII, Siebensterng. 31 Styria, I. Schubentring 3; Vindobona-Film I. Wallnerstr. 2; Donau-Film, VII, Neubaugasse 38. All in Vienna.

Principal distributors: (All in Vienna): MPEA VII, Neubaugasse 1; J. Arthur Rank Overseas Film, VII, Neubaugasse 2; Universal Film, IV, Brahmsplatz 8; Sascha Filmverleih und Filmvertrieb, VII, Kirchengasse 19; Union Film, VI, Gumpendorferstr. 63; Oefram-Film, VII, Neubaugasse 36; Tirol-Film, VII, Mariahilferstr. 62; Hope-Film, VII, Mariahilferstr. 114; Styria-Film, VI, Koestlergasse 5; Ringfilm, VII, Neubaugasse 11; Apollo-Film, VI, Koestlergasse 5.

Newsreels: 2 MPEA Toenende Wochenschau (Dist. by MPEA); Austria Wochenschau (Dist. by Sascha).

Studios: Wien Film Studios, at Sievering and Schoenbrunn, Vienna. Ring Film Studios, Kalvarienberg, Vienna. Studio Parsch, Salzberg. Studio Thiersee, Tirol (at present not in use). Total annual capacity about 30 features. Wien Film Studios, Rosenhuegel, Vienna, are under Soviet control.

Conditions and outlook: Austrian motion picture industry is small, but fairly consolidated. As it could not subsist on the home market alone, it is relying heaviy on exports. Principal imported of Austrian films is Western Germany, with whom a mutual export-import relation has been agree upon so as to balance box office revenues. Theatres are plentiful, though many of them are in need of reconditioning. Admission rates, which for many years were held by a government price stop, are still excessively low. The stop has now been lifted, but exhibitors are moving very cautiously, as attendance has somewhat declined recently. However, with fifteen yearly visits per capita of the population it is still high, and Austrian industry is looking into the future with confidence.

BELGIUM

Number of theatres in operation: There are 1,543 motion picture theatres.

Number of features imported in 1952: No exact data are available. The U.S.A. supplied some 70 or 75% of all imported films.

Features Produced in 1952: "De Moedige Bruidegom," producing company: ANTWERPSE FILM-ONDERNEMING; director, E. Kiel.

Censorship: There is no censorship in Belgium, but a Government appointed committee determines which films are suitable to children under the age of sixteen. Theatres must conspicuously display "Children Admitted" sign.

Customs and duties: Import duties for films: Positive films, Fr 1,66 per meter; Negative film Fr 0,35 per meter; Cost of sub-titling varies between Fr 10.000 and 15.000 per film.

Taxes: Taxes on motion picture admissions vary between 18% and 25% on gross takings (including copyright).

Financial exchange regulations: The proceeds of films are allowed to be exported freely, taking into account the recent conditions concerning the dollar zone. 50% will be blocked in Belgium.

Industry legistlation: There is no definite legislation on the motion picture industry in Belgium, which works independently from Government instances. In very extraordinary cases, such as those in which the whole national economy is concerned and of which resulted the agreement about import and export of the dollar zone products, the Belgian Government will act as an advisor in order to serve as well as possible the interest of everybody concerned, including those of the motion picture people.

Government departments: As far as necessary, the Ministry of Economical Affairs and the Ministry of Finance are concerned with films.

Industry organizations: The Belgium film trade consists of three organizations, two of which are constituted by producers, distributors and laboratories. They are: "Chambre Syndicale Belge du Cinéma" and the "Union Professionelle des Distributeurs de Films de Belgique." The third organization groups most of the exhibitors and is called the "Association des Directeurs de Théâtres Cinématographiques de Belgique." As a rule the films are distributed on a percentage basis. This amounts to 30% with a reduction of 1% for members of the A.D.T.C.B.

General conditions and outlook: Last year was a year of normal business. Statistics proved that the takings remained nearly the same as in the preceding twelve-month period. However, some moves are expected for the coming period, as television experiments will start in October-November, and nobody can tell how the Belgian public will respond to them. At any rate, it is generally admitted, that in 1954 the influence of television as a competitor will not yet be notable and is not to be feared.

At present, a new bill on the admission of children in motion picture theatres has been introduced into Parliament. It tends to shift the admission limit from 16 to 18 years. It seems that this bill has a good chance of getting a serious majority of votes, and that it may be operative from next season on.

On the other hand, some delegates of the film industry will have a seat on the board of film censors, which implies influence of the corporation in the matter of censorship.

The negotiations on rationing of film import and on the export of foreign currency are going on. According to the latest news, there will be no change for some time to come. Nevertheless, the officials hope to reach a solution acceptable for all parties.

The first 3-D performances have not been very successful, and people in Belgium are waiting for further evolutions, before pronouncing for one of the various systems. As a national production, André Cauvin's "Bongolo," the first Belgian color film, entirely made in Congo, was to be presented at the Cannes Festival. The Flemish film "De moedige Bruidegom" ("The Valiant Bridegroom"), directed by E. Kiel, is worth mentioning.

BRAZIL

Number of theatres in operation: Over 2,000.

Number of features released in 1952: No information now available.

Features planned for 1953-54: Information not available.

Censorship: Approval of all films for the entire Brazilian territory must be obtained from the Departamento de Divertimentos Públicos (Divisao de Censura). There are four classes of censorship: films for all ages unsuitable for children under 10 years; unsuitable for youngsters under 14 years; unsuitable for youngsters under 18 years.

Admission taxes: Taxes on admissions are in Rio de Janeiro 10% municipal tax, 10% "statistics" and 50 centavos per ticket for "popular stamp." In Sao Paulo, there is no "popular stamp," however, municipal tax is 15%. There is no "statistics" tax for admissions under 4.00 cruzeiros.

General conditions and outlook: Business fell off somewhat, due to sharp import restrictions which prevented the showing of many new foreign pictures, especially American, while British producers refused in part to send features here in view of the backlog of Brazilian payments. Therefore, many older pictures were shown, which reduced public attendance. In view of the governmental requirement that for each foreign newsreel shown here a certain percentage of it in Brazilian newsreels should be purchased by the respective country, most of these, especially American, have refused to do so and thus no foreign newsreels are being shown here; only recently France and Spain have accepted this and their newsreels are again appearing. Supply of theatre equipment has also been severely handicapped by import restrictions.

In 1951, one of Sao Paulo's biggest newspapers, the "Estado de Sao Paulo," instituted a sort of Brazilian "Oscar," called the "Saci," awarded annually to the best Brazilian picture, director, actor, etc. For 1952, among 34 pictures, the awards went to: "Tico-Tico no Fubá," produced by Vera Cruz, best picture; Alberto Cavalcanti, best director, for Maristela's "Simao o Caolho" (Simon the One-Eyed); best script, J. B. Tanko for Atlantida's "Areias Ardentes" (Burning Sands); best photography, Edgar Brasil for Vera Cruz' "Veneno" (Poison) best Music, Enrico Simonetti in "Veneno" and "A Carne" (The Flesh) from Brasil Arte Filme; best actress, Fada Santoro in "Areias Ardentes"; best actor, Alberto Ruschel in "Apassionata" by Vera Cruz; best supporting actress, Ludy Veloso in Vera Cruz' "Sai da Frente" (Get out of my way) and "Nadando em Dinheiro" (Swimming in Money); best supporting actor, Claudio Barsotti in "Simao o Caolho"; best sets, Aldo Calvo in "Tico-Tico no Fubá"; best editor, Oswald Haffenrichter for his overall work at Vera Cruz; best short subjects, Benedito Duarte for seven short subjects dealing with the fight against income tax evasion and another about the city of Sao Paulo no "Saci" was awarded for best producer.

CANADA

Number of theatres in operation: 2,028 (at end of 1952).

Number of features released in 1952: 701, an increase over the 516 released in 1951. Majority of films came from United States, followed by Britain, and the remainder from France, Italy, Germany and Russia, in that order.

Domestic production was restricted to three feature films, all in French, and none in English, other than films produced in Canada by American producers. These numbered two features, eight others with Canadian backgrounds. Some 15 shorts were produced and/or released by U.S. motion picture companies. Of the 15, seven were in Canada by Canadian companies, four by the National Film Board and Canada and three by Associated Screen News.

Production was restricted to four films, three of which were in French and the fourth in English. A number of American producers shot their films on location in this period.

Censorship: Each province, with the exception of Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland, has its own censor board, the exceptions having no form of censorship. Dominion Government imposes no censorship. Fees are charged on the basis of length or by the reel.

Customs, duties and taxes: 10 per cent duty on negatives from all countries; duty of 1½ cents per foot plus an ad-valorem sales tax of 8 per cent on positive prints when imported. Average duty and tax for 1,000 feet on positive prints: $22.60. Remittance tax of 10 per cent is paid by distributors on film rental revenue paid to home offices in the U. S.

Admission taxes: Eight of the Provinces collect a form of ticket tax. Ontario reduced its amusement tax from 15 to 12½ per cent on April 1, 1951. In Quebec the provincial tax averages 10 per cent. In Saskatchewan the municipalities collect tax on admissions.

There are no regulations, with the Canadian dollar left to seek its own level.

Theatre and exchange licenses: Provincial and municipal governments require annual licenses from theatres and film exchanges, the fees for theatres ranging up to $200. Theatres and distributing offices where films are stored come under strict building and inspection codes.

General conditions and outlook: An optimistic outlook is held for 1953, with theatre grosses 1952 at their peak. Inroads are expected from television. Some 76, both standard and drive-in theatres, were opened, bringing the total number of both types in operation to 2,028. Theatre-building continues at a high pace, with government restrictions on steel being lifted.

Population of the country continues to increase with immigration from all parts of Europe, and the prosperity of the country continuing due to the opening of a number of factories and new fields of mining, both oil and metal. U.S. capital continues to be invested in the country. Discoveries of uranium have been made in northern Ontario, and new discoveries have been discovered in New Brunswick where a depressed business has been given an uplift.

Great interest in the building of drive-ins has continued, with many independents, with no previous experience in the exhibition field, entering. In 1952, 24 drive-ins were added, as compared with the 20 added in 1951. In the standard type of house, 52 houses were added. A survey by the Canadian Motion Picture Distributors Association reveals that 1,202 communities have theatres, representing 963,914 seats, a gain of about 18,000. Car capacity at the ozoners jumped from 37,786 in 1951 to 48,337 in 1952. It is anticipated the country will have 2,100 licensed 35mm. theatres by the end of 1953.

Admission prices were up slightly in 1952, and indications are that 1953 will see a minute increase particularly among the first-run houses. Latest figures from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics point out that the per capita expendture on entertainment was $7.72 in 1951, a rise of 60 cents over the previous year. The average admission in 1951 was 43 cents, of which five cents went to amusement taxes.

The 2,689 establishments of all types in which motion pictures were shown in Canada in 1951 had receipts of $96,319,583, excluding $11,887,226 in amusement taxes, representing a gain of 11 per cent over the previous year. From this, film rentals of all films totaled $29,221,200, of which $27,331,759 was for 35mm., while $1,894,461 was derived from 16mm. The nine per cent rentals gain kept pace with that of the receipts.

Television has been given its greatest impetus, with the granting of licenses to six privately-operated stations. One of the recipients is a company in which Famous Players Canadian Corp. has an interest, the only station in which film interests have a share. The Government now has two of its own stations operating, in Montreal and Toronto, with at least four more to open this year, forming the start of a national circuit of television stations. The Government has taken the most lucrative field in television, operating stations in the larger cities of the country.

Despite the inroads of television, with an estimated 150,000 sets in operation, and the possibility of a number of sub-standard houses in 1953, leaders of the industry are looking for greater box-office take, and in turn, increased film rentals. Three-dimension films will, as in the U.S., provide a shot in the arm.

CHINA

Number of theatres in operation: approximately 800.

Number of features released in 1951: approximately 600.

Studios: In Hong Kong the British colony, the three largest Chinese films studios are located: The Yung Hwa Studio and Great Wall Studio which are producing pictures with Mandarin dialogues while Grand View Studio is producing Cantonese dialogue picture, those pictures are supplied for the local and overseas Chinese audience. In Hong Kong there are 30-odd theatres, of which two thirds are showing mostly American and British films, and the other third, Chinese films.

Censorship: All films, whether imported or home produced, must go through the censor from the central educational department, Shanghai Office. At the beginning of 1949, a branch office was in Canton, Kwangtung, for the facility of censorship in South China. Censor charges: $1.25 (U. S.) for one reel.

Custom duty: $0.275 (U. S.) for each meter of film. Amusement tax: 23% levied from the total receipts on each picture after public exhibition. Revenue stamps: 5% of the face value of each ticket.

Financial exchange regulations: No foreign exchange by official rate is available for the film importers. All funds distributors receive from their picture public exhibitions are remitted out at the black market rate from black market channels.

Import regulations: All foreign films imported into China must have their own import quota which is obtained from the Import and Export Commission in Shanghai or in Canton. This is a very strict regulation.

KRUT 67-PETERSEN (Saga Studio), HUSMANDSTOSEN (Asa Film) and DET STORE LOB (Asa Film).

Censorship: Approval of all films must be obtained from State's Censorship Board appointed by Ministry of Justice. Three classifications: banned (white seal), general showing (red seal), adults only (yellow seal). All posters and stills used for advertising must be approved by same board.

Customs and other duties: A customs duty of d.kr. 25.00 per kilogram is paid. Minor fees for censorship of films and advertising.

Admission taxes: 60 per cent on basic admission price (40 per cent on gross price).

Financial exchange regulations: The allocation system still prevails permitting foreign producers to have funds frozen in Denmark on films imported on a percentage basis. However, as the allocation given for 1953 amounted to d.kr. 3,900,000, this amount seems to cover most of the demand from the various distributors. The allocation for 1952 was d.kr. 3,500,000, the same amount as 1951.

Industry legislation: A distributor must be a Danish citizen or a Danish company headed by a Danish citizen. No distributor may be an exhibitor unless he is a Danish producer, in which case he may be given an exhibitor's license. No exhibitor may operate or control more than one house, consequently there are no circuits. The law provides for 25 per cent of the entertainment tax receipts from the exhibition of Danish films to be remitted to the film producers.

General conditions and outlook: Business was good in 1952 with many Danish hits and a good deal of great foreign product, among others some great Italian successes. Danish products is continuing to dominate the market and now takes up nearly 40% of the total playing time resulting in greater and greater difficulties for distributors of foreign films. After the increased film rental in Norway, Denmark is now the only country in the world that pays only 30% film rental. At the same time Denmark has the highest taxation (entertainment tax) in the world. It is expected that negotiations about increased film rental will take place shortly and it is expected that distributors will demand 40% film rental from August 1st, 1953. Television is still experimental here thus not influencing the market. 3-D film is expected at the middle of the year and will probably take in the crowds everywhere.

ECUADOR

Numbers of theatres in operation: Approximately 240.

Number of features released in 1952: 463 (mostly from U.S.).

Number of features imported during 1952: approximately 492. The title, producing company, producer and director of all feature films made in the country during 1952: "Amanecer in the Pichincha" other Ecuador Sono Films picture made in Ecuador under direction of Alberto Santana. This picture has been just exhibited with great success and there are others in production.

Censorship: Censorship Board must approve all films before release. Films fall into four classes: for general audience, rejected for women, rejected for children and banned. These classifications must be publicly advertised and the Companies must ask for censorship within three days in advance. The Municipality of Quito is trying to put into effect a new censorship code that will be very dangerous for the industry because it will classify the pictures in accordance with the category of the theatres. At the present time many pictures have been banned in Quito, the same that have been released in Guayaquil, that means that there is not accordance between the two Municipalities.

Customs, duties and other fees: Five Ecuadorian gold sucres per gross kilo on imports and an additional 25 per cent ad-valorem tax. All the imported films will have an Imported License given by the Control de Cambios paying five dollars tax for each reel. The pictures have been in List C that means that dollars will be calculated at the official rate 15.15.

Admission taxes: Municipal tax of 60 centavos for first and second run house theatres when the admission is up of three sucres. Government tax of 10 per cent for reconstruction of devastated zones by the August 5, 1949, earthquake. The value of two highest tickets in the shows of more than 500 sucres production for the National Symphony Orchestra and an additional 10 per cent tax for the Municipality.

Financial exchange regulations: June 1947, decree permits all film companies operating in the country to transfer funds to United States by purchasing dollars through the "free market" instead of the Central Bank of Ecuador. This means, in effect, a decrease in film income because the "free market" sells dollars at 18.00 whereas the official rate is 15.15, including taxes, but there is no limit in the transferences.

Industry legislation: November 1948, decree by which all film companies operating in Ecuador must pay seven per cent of their profits to their employees, according to the annual declaration to the Government for payment of taxes. Now, all the companies have had paid that percentage until 1952 operation because at the first year some of them denied payment.

General condition and outlook: Business during the past year of 1952 has been excellent and the outlook for the year has been considered as the best one in the industry history of Ecuador due to the fact that now all the small towns in territory have built theatres increasing production. The equipment of the theatres have been changed specially all those of the Empresa de Tatros of Quito, most of them RCA Victor, the last model. Some Guayaquil and Quito theatres are ready for exhibition of 3-D productions. Many theatres are also under construction and the others that have been constructed in 1952 are making good figures. The Government has established that new theatres and all imported equipment are free of taxes and it is expected an increase of 25 per cent in film business.

EGYPT

Number of theatres in operation: 361 of which 128 are located in Cairo and 46 in Alexandria. There are also about 85 16mm situations.

Number of features released in 1952: 585. This total included 72 Egyptian films and imports from the U. S., Britain France, Italy, Greece and Mexico.

Number of features imported in 1952: 20. (U. S. 360; France 28; Italy 65; Greece 14; Britain 20, and Turkey 2).

Feature production in 1952: 74 including two in color.

Censorship: Every imported picture must be censored by the Ministry of the Interior. Pictures with subversive ideas, i.e. Communism, showing a king or a royal family ridiculed and touching on Moslem religion, honor and Arab prestige, etc. are forbidden. Local productions must have their script approved first by the Ministry of the Interior and the Ministry for Social Affairs. After shooting, the film is again submitted to censorship.

Customs and other duties: A new decree provides that all imported features have their customs duties raised by 25 per cent. The duty stands at L9 a kilo with the original fee, the four per cent ad valorem and the 25 per cent increase decreed recently.

Legislation: A new tax law was passed December 20, 1951. Theatres pay approximately 33 per cent of their take at the box office. Under an arrangement with the government, Motion Picture Association of American members can withdraw 35 per cent of their income in dollars and 35 per cent in pound sterling. It is almost impossible to buy a picture from a hard-currency area so that practically only the major companies are bringing in films. The Ministry for Social Affairs gives out only three dubbing licenses a year under a "Gentleman's Agreement."

Government departments: The Ministry of the Interior under the direction of M. Anwar Habib, director of the Bureau de Presse, and the Ministry of Social Affairs under the direction of Anwar Ahmed, director of the Dept. of Propaganda and Orientation and the supervision of the new ministry of "Directions Nationally" headed by H. E. Fouad Galal.

Industry organizations: There is only one official organization created by Royal Decree and called "Chambre de Cinema." This Chamber includes producers, distributors and exhibitors. The board is headed by M. Hassan Ramzy, president.

General Conditions and Outlook: Business during the past year was not so good and depended a great deal on the political situation. Prospects for better business are bright however. A number of houses were burned and destroyed in Cairo earlier in the year, but are all rebuilt, the equipment is generally speaking in good shape now. Studios and exhibitors would like very much to import American materials but owing to the shortage of materials they were obliged to look to countries where currency is more easily available. Arabic pictures are shown widely, especially in the provinces. British pictures are rarely shown. The attendance figure in 1952 was 86,000,000, which compares with only 12,000,000 in 1939. Local production is expected to turn out 50 features in 1953.

FINLAND

Number of theatres in operation: January 1st, 1953: 512 cinemas with 147,000 seats. Besides these exist also 12 hospital cinemas and 26 military regiment cinemas.

Numbers of features released in 1952: 407 film (U.S.A. 254, Finland 29, England 27, Germany 24, France 20, Sweden 14, U.S.S.R. 13, Austria 8, Italy 7, Mexico 3, Denmark & Hungary 2 each, Australia, Brazil, Poland and Switzerland 1 each).

Feature productions in 1952: 27 films.

Censorship: All films for official showing in Finland are subject to the Government Censorship Board (Valtion Elokuvatarkastamo), which bureau classifies each film in a): four categories: (adults only, general public over 12 years old, general showing and totally banned); b): decides into which class of entertainment taxes the film belongs.

Because of an existing agreement with the Soviet, the Finnish censorship have been forced to ban several films dealing with Russians or with anticommunistic tendencies, while on the other hand Russian films with typical anti-American tendencies are allowed for showing. It is understood that if Finnish censors didn't use this policy, the immediate result would be Russian protests stating that Finland did not follow its stipulations in the peace and other existing agreements.

Customs and other duties: A fee of 34 Marks on each kilogram must be paid for all imported films.

Admission taxes: Finnish films: All films of educational or cultural worth are free from taxes. Other films pay 15%, 20% or 25% of admission prices, with the highest rate used for preferable show films.

Imported films: These also can be free from entertainment taxes after the same stipulations as for Finnish films. Other films pay 35%, 40% or 45% of admission prices in taxes.

Financial exchange regulations: There are no quotas limiting the number of films which can be brought into Finland, but restrictions on the transfer of foreign exchange may tend to reduce the distribution of imported product. Import licenses are required and are granted to distributors who state in each license application that they will not require foreign exchange before the Bank of Finland is ready to grant it.

Industry legislation: Market is free for competition, and no stipulations giving domestic productions certain conditions before imported features exists. Twenty first-run houses in Helsinki played 392 films during 1951, and after their run at these houses the films go to other cinemas (second-runs). Running time varies from one week to 14 weeks, which was the record-run for 1951, made by "Louisa" (U-I), at the 400-seater, Elysee.

General conditions and outlook: Finnish films, which in lack of artistic quality have had difficulties on world market, now seem to have some chance in international competition. A film produced a couple of years ago, was highly praised by British trade people, and in 1953, the Finns enjoyed the Cannes festival, in which the film "Valkoinen Peura" (The White Reindeer) was praised by both the public and critics. Number of films is steadily growing, both as far as concerns number of imports as well as products. 3-D is here as everywhere else the much discussed "news" of the year. Nothing has been heard about domestic production in 3-D yet, but it can be expected any day.

In general the future outlook is promising, and the 1953-54 season can be described as "acceptable," which is more then the Finns have been able to say for years. —LARS-ERIC SVENSSON

FRANCE

Number of theatres in operation: Approximately 5,200, 35mm houses. About 2,500,000 seats. About 1,200 16mm projectors and between 12,000 to 14,000 halls visited by ambulant 16mm projectors.

Features produced in 1952: In 1952 96 feature films were produced in France as well as 4 co-productions. The average cost of production, during the first six months of the year was 62,710,000 francs. 157 foreign films were dubbed against 189 in 1951, 94 were American, 29 Italian and 12 British. 119 foreign films (against 123 in 1951) were shown in the original version. They were 91 American, 12 British and 4 Italian. Receipts from French films exported in 1952 were 1,060,000,000 francs; 50% from French speaking countries, 4.5% from North America, 18% German speaking countries, 6.8% Italy, 5% South America and 4.3% Scandinavia.

Censorship: The Film Control Board under its president, Maurice Delepine, is comprised solely of Government nominees and members of the Family Association. Representatives of the industry have returned to the Film Control Board. Equality was reached by introducing a representative of French Thought nominated by the Ministry of Information and in agreement with the industry. The representative is Mr. Pierre Descave who is also administrator of the Comedie Francaise. Several films have been cut for what is believed to be political reasons. Otherwise, the present board has been quite lenient. No further visas have been granted to Russian films because the Soviet Union refuses to grant visas to French films.

Admission taxes: Prices now average 90 francs, having increased from 69 francs over the period 1st January 1950 to 31st December 1950.

Industry organizations: The industry is divided into the following professional organizations: Syndicat Francais des Productors de films de long metrage (President M. Richibé); Syndicat Francais des Producteurs de Films Educatifs, Documentois et de Court Metrage (President Mon. de Hubsché); Chambre Syndicale de la Presse Filmé (President M. Joy). The above are all included in the Syndicat General des Producteurs de Films. Federation Nationale des Distributeurs grouping all the regional distributors; Federation Nationale des Cinemas Francais (President M. Trichet) which groups all regional exhibitors; Syndicat des Studios Cinematographique (President M. Gerardot); Syndicat des Laboratoirs et Usines de Tirarge de Films (President M. Sefert); Syndicat de la Pellicule iVerge (President M. Moreau); Syndicat des Constructeurs et Negociants de Material Cinematographique (President M. Enon); All these are included in the Federation des Industries Techniques du Cinema Francais (President M. Jacques Mathot). The whole of the above are affiliated to the Confederation National du Cinemas Francais (President Remaugé) 92 Avenue des Champs Elysees. Labor organizations are as follows: Federation Syndicaliste Force Ouvriere (Socialist);

Confederation Generale des Cadres: Syndicat des Cadres de la Cinematographie; Syndicat National Autonome des Techncians du Film; Federation Nationale des Syndicats du Spectacle.

The Cinema comes under the Ministry of Industry. The Centre National de la Cinemaographie draws up official controls for the industry and assures their application. It controls receipts, applies sanctions in cases of proved infraction, watches over technical education and the formation of operators and technicians, the Institute des Hautes Etudes Cinematographique etc.

General conditions and outlook: The renewal of the Aid Law is now before Parliament. The old Law expires in September 1953. Taxation imposed on cinemas and the industry is very heavy. Gross receipts carry a 26% tax not counting the different taxes paid by all section of the industry.

The so called "non-commercial" cinema is a serious competitor. Under a law of 1951 favoring all methods of spreading popular culture these cinemas were exempted from taxation. They have passed beyond their original aim and now attract no fewer than 100,000,000 spectators yearly.

The French now manufacture their own lamps for taking color. Previously these were imported as French production was unsatisfactory. The Compagnie des Lamps was invited to join with the various technical organizations to examine the possibility of producing French lamps. This year the first color films are being made with French lamps although it will take some time before the industry is able to produce lamps on a sufficient scale.

GERMANY

Number of theatres in operation: Approximately 6,700, compared to 3,000 in 1947. 4,900 with 2,000,000 seats are in Western Germany (including 220 theatres in West Berlin), 1,800 with 800,000 seats in the Soviet zone. Average seating capacity is 418. In Western Germany, the average is one theatre seat to every 26 inhabitants. Average revenue in 1952 was 279 German marks (66 Dollars) per seat.

In addition, there are 450 itinerant units, serving about 3,650 communities.

Number of imported features in 1952: 354 foreign pictures were offered by distributors in Germany in 1952 (216 U.S., 31 French, 29 Austrian, 22 British, 22 Italian, 16 Swedish, and 18 others) 46 per cent of Western German screen time was filled by American features, 24 per cent by German ones, the rest by other nations.

Distribution: While during the first year's of occupation the distribution was in the hands of Motion Picture Export Association (U.S. zone), Eagle Lion Distributors (British zone), International Film Allianz (French zone), and Soveport (Russian zone), there are now 59 German and foreign private distributors, 11 of whom offered mainly new German films, 9 mainly American ones, 18 a mixed program, 17 mainly revivals, and 4 documentaries and shorts. The ten American companies formerly associated in the Motion Picture Export Association are now operating separately.

Feature production in 1952: 121 German features had their first night showing in 1952, as against 83 in 1951, 77 in 1950, 70 in 1949, 27 in 1948, 10 in 1947, and 4 in 1946. Actually produced in the year were 78 features, six of which in the Soviet zone. Five features were in color.

There are at present 85 companies in Germany that have completed feature films. There are also 145 further producers, including those specializing in documentaries, shorts, scientific films etc.

Principal studios and their annual feature production capacity (in parentheses) follow: Muenich-Geiselgasteig, Bavaria-Filmplatz 7 (35); Berlin Tempelhof, Oberland St. 26-35 (12); Hamburg-Wandsbek, Tonndorfer Haupt. 90 (10); Goettingen, Flugplatz (10) Berlin-Spandau, Verlaengerte Dammst. 16 (8); Hamburg-Bendestorf (8); Wiesbaden, Unter den Eichen (7).

Censorship: Since July 15, 1949, Allied control has been replaced by a German Production Code and a system of voluntary censorship patterned after the American example. This "Freiwillige Selbstkontrolle der deutschen Filmwirtschaft" (German Council of Voluntary Censorship), with headquarters at Schloss St. 2 Wiesbaden-Biebrich, has jurisdiction in Western Germany and West Berlin. Decisions of the Review Committee may be appealed to the Central Committee, thence to the Lawyers' Committee, whose verdict is final. Members coming from motion picture industry are in the majority on all committees except the last, which is formed by five public jurists or professors of law. The ministries of education, the Roman Catholic and the Protestant churches, the Jewish denomination, and the public Youth Offices are represented on the Central Committee. During 1952, the Censorship Council passed on 950 pictures of all categories, including imports. 376 or 39.6 per cent were barred to persons under sixteen years of age, while another group of 318 or 33.2 per cent were admitted for public showing on Good Friday, All Souls Day, and Rogation Day.

Nearly 4,500 pictures were reviewed by the Council up to December 31, 1952.

Admission taxes: These vary by state and community, ranging between 18 and 40 per cent. Amusement tax revenues from theatres in Western Germany, excluding Berlin, totaled 110,000,000 German marks (about 26,000,000 Dollars), an increase of over 10 per cent compared to 1951. Persistent protests against excessive rates (the tax used to average only 7 per cent before the war) have brought some reductions conceded to pictures of cultural or educational value. West Berlin productions are exempt from sales tax in Western Germany as a move to help the capital.

Financial exchange regulations: Since November 1, 1949, jurisdiction over motion picture imports has been handed back to German authorities. Income from foreign films is still deposited on special blocked accounts, but part of this money is released for transfer by setting aside ECA funds and through other channels. Another part is free for investment within Western Germany. With some countries, such as Austria and Italy, an export-import balance has been agreed upon for motion picture exchange.

Industry legislation: While each occupying power in Germany went its separate way at the outset, regulation and procedures are today equalized within the German Federal Republic. Free competition between German and foreign firms has been recognized. The number of motion pictures that may be owned and operated by one company is strictly limited. Production, distribution and exhibition may not be united in the hands of one firm, except that a producer may distribute his own pictures and operate one theatre, but it is hoped that these restraints will shortly be lifted by the powers of occupation. In the Amerian zone, theatres no longer need licenses either for personal efficiency or economic need. In May 1951, the West German government agreed to hold down to 27 per cent any screen quota it may set up for German films, leaving American companies free to compete for the other 73 per cent in German theatres. In addition, the government bound the duty-free status of negative film exposed and developed at the present rate.

In the Russian zone, motion picture industry has been organized in a state monopoly after the Soviet example, and theatres have been nationalized. Due to the dislike for Soviet pictures and a strong demand for Western productions, some exchange of pictures has been conceded.

General conditions and outlook: For the first time since the end of the war, German motion picture production, rising from 4 features in 1946 to 83 in 1951 has fallen off in 1952. Only 78 features were produced, including six in the Soviet zone. The year was overshadowed by the fact that three of the foremost German producers, Junge Film Union, Real Film and National Film succumbed to financial difficulties. Some new companies were formed, but many more went quietly out of business. The number of distributors also shrank. Most of the last years' problems, especially extreme scarcity of capital, have not been solved but rather become more acute.

Yet there seems hope that the current year may turn the tide. UFA assets should finally be released by the occupation powers and used to set up four privately owned, competing production companies, small by American standards, but at least big enough to produce several pictures a year according to planned programs. Federal production guarantees voted in 1950 have again been extended to help industry meet the crisis; the German lands will also cooperate. Quality of native production has improved in 1952. All of the ten top box office attractions in the year were of German origin, while only five native productions made the list last year. This may help somewhat in competing for a place in foreign markets, in order to balance the two thirds of screen time taken up by foreign product in Germany.

American features are still predominant, taking twice the screen time of German product and eight times more than French or British imports.

The number of theatres has again increased in 1952. They are now plentiful, larger in size than they used to be (average 418 seats), and in good condition. Equipment is produced here and not imported in significant quantities.

—VOLKMAR VON ZUEHLSDORFF

—o—

(Soviet Zone of Occupation)

Number of theatres in operation: Approximately 1,600. Seating capacity about 600,000, or one seat to every 31 inhabitants. Average seating capacity 375.

Number of features distributed in 1952: 41, compared to 50 in 1951, and 41 in 1950. In addition, some selected pictures from Western Germany and Western-Europe were admitted by way of exchange.

Numbr of features imported in 1952: 33 (Czechoslovakia 13, USSR 7, Hungary 4, Austria 3, Bulgaria 2, China 2, Poland 2).

Number of features produced in 1952: 6.

Number of features produced since 1945: 49.

Industry legislation: All except 50 theatres in East Berlin have been expropriated and are owned and run by the land governments or the Communist party (SED) as "Volkseigene Betriebe."

Distribution is state directed, handled by one centralized, state-owned PROGRESS company.

Production is equally state directed and strictly controlled by a "state committee," headed by Sepp Schwab. There is one producing company, DEFA, Berlin-Babelsberg.

Features produced in 1952: "Geheimakten Solvay"; "Jicke wie Hose"; Die Unbesiegbaren" "Störenfriede"; "Ernst Thälmann"; "Kein Hüsung."

Newsreel: Der Augenzeuge.

General conditions and outlook: Motion picture production has made a very poor showing in the Soviet zone of Germany in 1952. Only six of the eighteen features officially scheduled were completed. None of these had its first night in 1952. Instead, six features of the 1951 production (fifteen had been heralded for that year) were brought on the screen. Another picture, "Anna Susanne," has been in the studios for the record time of two years without being released yet, owing to "ideological" difficulties. Theatres have their programs dictated. Resistance to Soviet or satellite pictures is great, and empty or half-empty houses are common. Open or veiled subsidies are necessary. The number of theatres is shrinking. East Berliners are flocking to the so-called "frontier cinemas," playing non-Soviet pictures near the Soviet sector at reduced prices.

Raw stock needs are covered by the AGFA plant in Wolfen, which also exports to the West. Equipment is produced in Eastern Germany.

GREAT BRITAIN

(See Index under Britain and British; also The Industry in Great Britain.)

—o—

GREECE

Number of theatres in operation: Approximately 550, of which about 250 are open-air ones.

Number of features imported in 1951: Approximatetely 380, of which 253 were American, 43 French, 31 Italian, 31 British, about 20 from various European countries.

Censorship: Every imported picture must pass censorship which is exercised by the film section of the Press and Information Department. Domestically-produced films also fall under the Department's supervision.

Customs and other duties: The custom duties amount to nearly 75 per cent of the value of each print of every film. In this amount is also included an approximate royalty right of the mentioned print.

Admission taxes: Tax is calculated on a scaled basis. For the First Run theatres it reaches 40 per cent, all subsequent runs other sundries admission price pay nearly 30 per cent.

Financial exchange regulations: A foreign exchange permit and the approval of the foreign exchange section of the Bank of Greece is necessary. The over-all dollar remittance is regulated every year by the Department of National Economy which for the last five years allocated to all the American product $500,000 per year.

Industry legislation: There are laws insuring the undisturbed operation of the electric machinery at every theatre.

Industry organizations: a) Film importers and Distributors Association: T. PAPACRISTOFILOU, chairman, 38 El. Venizelu Street, Athens.—b) P. E. K. (Panhellenic Union of Exhibitors) A. Distributor of French Pictures. Address: Emm. Benaki Str. 18, Athens. h) FRANCOIS COLLAROS. Distributor of French and Italian pictures. Address: Santarosa Str. 5, Athens.

Principal theatre circuits in Athens: a) DAMASKINOS-MICHAELIDES: Controlling "PALLAS," "ORPHEUS," "TITANIA," "MAXIM." Managing: "KOTOPOULI," "ESPEROS," "ASTOR." b) SKOURAS FILMS CORP.: Controlling: "REX," "ATTIKON," "ASTY." Managing: "PANTHEON." c) PARTHENON FILMS: Managing "IDEAL." d) SAVAS FILMS Managing "STAR," "ELLI." e) MOVIE FILM CORP. "CINEAC" (Newsreel).

General conditions and outlook: Import of European product was increased (especially Italian) and each Box Office was important becoming a serious competitor to American Films.

Domestic films always draw a good crowd here and for that reason this year the number of locally produced pictures was double than the previous year. It should be noticed that an average Greek picture is collecting here more than the best American one.

Principal producers: Profilti Filmfabriek N.V., 3 Boslaan, The Hague; Filmfabriek Polygoon N.V., 8 Koudenhorn, Haarlem; Multifilm N.V., 8 Kenaupark, Haarlem.

General conditions and outlook: The general situation during 1952 is about the same as in 1951. Admission taxes in key-cities are still 35%, and protests of exhibitors and the trade organization are increasing in strength. The main import during 1952 was American product, though popularity of European product is steadily growing. The highest film rental here is 32½%. American major companies are pleading for higher rentals.

In general domestic equipment (Philips) is used, but also German, American and British import. Every Dutch theatre has excellent equipment. There is some indifference of the Dutch patrons for picturegoing: too weak screenplays, too many pictures handling the same subject, too little action and too much talk. Real big pictures do big business here.

There is no progress in television here. A very limited number of owners of television sets have an opportunity to see programs on Tuesday and Friday night only.

HUNGARY

The Motion Picture Export Association is operating in Hungary. Production, distribution and exhibition of films have been nationalized and are completely under government control. A contract which was signed with the MPEA in 1948 was never honored and the films covered by it were never released in Hungary. No new U. S. films are known to have been imported and released in the country during the past four years. The MPEA had reported in 1950 that the Hungarian government had issued an order requiring the MPEA to surrender all prints of member companies on hand in Hungary to the Ministry of Education.

INDIA

Number of features released in 1952: 179 Indian and 240 imported.

Number of features imported in 1952: About 263, all but about 60 from U. S. A. Others from England, France, Russia. The year saw the introduction of Japanese and Italian films into the Indian theatres. Some outstanding foreign language films are dubbed.

Feature productions in 1952: 233 features in Indian languages were produced in 1952, out of which Bombay accounted for 123, against 117 in the previous year. Bengal produced 48 and Madras 59, against Bengal's 48 and Madras' 73 in the preceding year.

Industry legislation: Central Censorship was introduced, with provincial boards in Bombay, Calcutta and Madras.

Equipment: Almost the entire equipment for production was imported, mostly from U. S. A. More than 90 per cent of the exhibition equipment and accessories also are imported. 75 per cent of these from the U. S. A. There is resistance from equipment-trade to any project involving attempts to manufacture of equipment locally.

Principal producers and studios: Bombay Talkies, Ltd., Bombay; Central Studios, Bombay; Prakash Pictures, Bombay; Prabhat Film, Poona; Navayug Chitrapat, Poona; Shree Ranjit Movietone, Bombay; Rajkamal Kalamandir, Bombay; Wadia Movietone, Bombay; New Theatres, Ltd., Calcutta; M. General conditions and outlook: The exhibition of Indian Films in Pakistan continued to be a serious problem, and several films remained unexploited in that Dominion, owing to heavy penalty imposed by that Government. There is no official indication of any change so far. The recommendations of the Film Inquiry Committee, two years old now, are still 'under consideration' by Government. The year marked a further downward trend in production-values, box office collections; and increased costs.

Colour in full-fledge made its first appearance in Indian film industry. The first one made with kodachrome, and blown-up-printed by Technicolor London, was a box-office success, but the second one, a full-scale Technicolor production was a complete failure—not because of its technical quality, but because of other reasons. Several new Indian productions are under way in Gevacolor.

Three-D interest is keen, but mainly of 'wait-and-watch' type. So far no production in 3-D is contemplated by any India producer.

IRELAND

Number of theatres in operation: 326 (35mm); 360 (16mm).

Number of features imported in 1952: 459.

Censorship: Films imported in bond are submitted to censor for approval and, if passed, taken out of bond for distribution. Rejected films still in bond are sent back to the country of origin not liable for duty.

Customs and other duties: Full duty on all imported films, except educational films and newsreels and negatives and prints of any film processed abroad and reimported by a local Irish company. No import duty on raw stock. Censorship fees on all except educational films.

Admission taxes: Ranges from ½d. on seats costing 4½d. to 1/- on seats costing between 1/5d. to 1/6d. Seats costing 2/- to 2/10½d. are taxed at 2/1½d., and seats from 2/11d. are taxed at 3/-.

Government departments: Office of Revenue Commissioners, The Castle, Dublin; R. Rice, chairman; J. Walsh, chief inspector, Customs and Excise, Film Censor's Office, Harcourt Terrace, Dublin; Richard Hayes, censor; J. T. Farrell, chairman, Board of Appeal.

Industry organizations: Kinematograph Renters Society, Ltd., Irish Advisory Committee, 4 Grafton Street, Dublin; S. Safir, chairman; K. Briscoe, secretary, Theatre and Cinema Association, 4 Westmoreland Street, Dublin; D. McAlister, chairman, Irish Transport and General Workers Union, Theatre and Cinema Branch, 29, Eden Quay, Dublin; C. McLoughlin, chairman.

Principal distributors: Dublin; Anglo-American Film Corp., 75, Middle Abbey Street. Cinema and General Films, 35, Upper Abbey Street. Irish International Film Agency, 112 Marlboro Street. Abbey Films, 40, Mary Street. Egan Film Services, Ltd. 62, Middle Abbey Street.

16mm distributors: Ron Harris (Ireland) Ltd. 112, Middle Abbey Street. Cinema and General Equipments Ltd. 30, Lower Abbey Street. Atlas Cine Supply Co. 50, Lower O'Connell Street. Grand National Films Ltd. 32, Lower Abbey Street.

Principal producers: George Fleischmann, 53, Pembroke Road, Dublin.

General conditions and outlook: In 1952 the over-all trading figures were slightly less than the preceding year. This however is not peculiar to the film industry but is a reflection of the general trend in entertainment and parallel industries.

Contrary to expectation, cinema admissions were not subject to the steep taxation rises that hit liquor, tobacco and other trades, and it seems that the Government feels that admission taxes have almost reached saturation point. Continued rise in overhead costs has not been offset by any increase in admission prices since our inflexible tax system means that any small price increase results in a big jump into a new tax bracket and resulting admission charges that would cause a drop in attendances. This position has caused particular hardship in cinemas in the smaller towns. The slight expansion of the industry which had continued through previous years has now ceased, and though a few more cinemas have been built these are chiefly necessary replacements and modernization of existing theatres. American product still dominates the market though there is an increasing tendency for British controlled circuits to push British product. New developments in 1952 included the inauguration of a proper Irish Edition of one of the major newsreels and the growth of a small market for Continental films. The latter has resulted in one small 300 seat theatre being built in Dublin for presentation of such films, another small theatre turning almost exclusively to continental films, and one major first-run house including continental films amongst its releases. The 16mm entertainment industry is now thoroughly established in rural areas, and special 16mm theatres are taking the place of the mobile units that used village halls. The present strong position of the 16mm industry however depends on the continuation of the Government arrangement exempting rural entertainment from admission taxes.

Crowds still flock to outstanding films but a higher proportion of poor product and high living costs have resulted in a slight decline in the cinema habit and in the public being much more exacting in its "shopping" for films.

There is no TV in Ireland at present and no likelihood of its advent in the coming year. Current taxes on such items as liquor, and other luxuries mean that the cinema is still the public's cheapest item of relaxation. The Trade on a whole faces the coming year with quiet confidence, feeling that the present position will be maintained.

ISRAEL

Features produced in 1952: None.

Censorship: Each film has to be licensed by a censorship board, against payment of IL.15/- per picture as tax.

Customs duties: There is a new import duty on films still under negotiation between motion picture companies and the customs authorities.

Admission taxes: These taxes now amount to 104% of the ticket value. The taxes go to the Government and the municipalities.

Financial exchange regulations: These regulations are very strict. All income of American companies are deposited as blocked accounts, except a fraction of out-of-pocket expenses divided among the American companies working in Israel.

Industry organizations: The American film companies are organized in the MPA for Israel under the chairmanship of S. Grinwald. There is an Association of Independent Films Distributors and the Cinema Owners Association, the latter temporarily without chairmanship until new elections take place. There is also a producers' organization consisting of 6 independent producers. But there are national institutions as well, which are the most important producers in the country.

Distributors: Kombor Film Service, P. O. Box 8574, Jaffa.

General conditions and outlook: Business conditions in 1952 were not so successful, owing mainly to the huge taxation imposed by the Government. The number of cinemas operating is, however, lucky enough to have increased to 126, and the pressure formerly prevalent on the cinemas has now been relieved to an appreciable extent.

No license has been granted to cinemas to import new equipment for renovating theatres, owing to the lack of hard currency. American pictures are still leading here pictures of outstanding popularity being projected for weeks, especially in Tel-Aviv. The majority of the public is American-minded, and therefore prefer American pictures.

It is to be noted that the Israeli pound in relation to the U. S. dollar is based upon 3 official rates of exchange:

a). $2.80 to the pound in respect of a few items of essential foods.

b). $1.40 to the pound in respect of general imports other than those included in (a) and (c).

c). $1.00 to the pound in respect of any imports without value; raw materials without value, for industrial purposes; diplomatic corps and consular expenditures; tourists' services and expenditures; sea and air travelling expenses.

ITALY

Number of theatres in operation: Estimates range from 8,600 to 12,300. Some 6,500 theatres can be considered important from an industrial point of view. 271 theatres were opened in 1952. 2,400 towns out of the total of 7,800 (i.e. 30%) are without any theatre at all, 400 of which with more than 3,000 inhabitants. Average number of patrons per theatre in Italy: 5,250.

Number of features imported in 1952: 395 (U.S.A. 246, of which 221 released by American companies and 25 by independent distributors; France, 60; Britain, 31; West Germany, 20; U.S.S.R., 9; Mexico, 7; other countries, 22).

Number of features exported in 1952: 1,046 export permits were granted in 1952 for 78 different countries (from January to October: Switzerland, 62; Portugal, 54; Egypt, 42; France, 38; Belgium, 38; Greece, 38; etc. and only 17 to the U.S.A.). Global profits from exported pictures are officially estimated around 4,800,000 U.S.A. dollars.

Feature production in 1952: 132 of which 80% got the Government subsidy of 18% of the gross income; 15% the subsidy of only 10% and 5% were excluded.

Newsreels and documentaries: 380 newsreels were produced in 1952 with a total number of released copies of 24,500. The global Government subsidy (3% of gross income including that of the feature film) reached $3,000,000. Subsidy reduction from 3 to 2.50% of gross income scheduled for 1953. About 185,000 yards of lavender prints of newsreels concerning Italian events were exported in 1952.

329 documentaries produced in 1952, of which 55% got the Government subsidy of 3% of gross income and 15% the subsidy of 5%. New regulations on schedule for 1953 with reduction of subsidy to black-white shorts and an extra-subsidy to the colored ones. Cost of average black-white short, $2,400; colored short, $8,000. Documentaries have poor market abroad. A special catalogue of Italian shorts has been edited by the I.F.E. (see Organizations).

Feature films released: The total number of feature films released in the season 1952-1953 were about 550, including native and foreign production. Of them 405 at rental percentage lower than 40% and 145 at rental of 40 to 50%—according to distributors declarations to the Government Dept. for Show Business.

Custom fees and other duties: On July 7, 1950, the Annecy Agreement was slightly changed. Besides the general regulations of the Section 4 concerning films, the agreement considers the following custom fees for Italy: Sound track, four lira per meter; negative: newsreels, 10 lira per meter; films less than 10 mm: eight lira; from 10 mm to less than 35 mm: (a) if educational, five lira; (b) if feature film, 60 lira; 35 mm and more: (a) educational, 10 lira; (b) features, 50 lira.

In addition the tax on receipts of 3% must be paid on the amount of custom fees.

A frozen deposit of 2,500,000 lira has to be made for each non-native film more than 1,000 meters long and shown dubbed in the Italian version, at the Banca Nazionale Del Lavoro. The deposit will be returned without interest after ten years. In the meanwhile it is used for financing native production at the official rate of discount of Bank of Italy plus 0.50 (presently 4.50 per cent). Exempt from this duty are: foreign films shown in the original version with or without Italian titles; foreign films from countries with which special agreement was signed (see: Financial regulations); one dubbed foreign film for each native film produced (the producer can sell his right).

Admission taxes: Under the law enacted in May, 1951, the tax is calculated as follows: on an admission up to 60 lira, 15%; on an admission ranging from 61 to 200 lira, on the basis of the formula Y (i.e., admission tax) equals 0.25 X, the letter X representing the price of the ticket not including the admission tax; on an admission from 201 lira up, 50% of the price of the ticket excluded the tax. In addition the tax on receipts must be paid on the gross income by exhibitors. For the 1952-1953 season Parliament approved a special fixed tax for unemployed people to be added on the admission only on Sunday given days.

In spite of the steady increase of the total proceeds from admission taxes, the share which went to the Government Budget is estimated lower than in precedent financial years because the new rate is slightly lower than the one preceding it and because most of the admission tax goes to the municipalities and other organizations.

Exhibitors are obliged to grant by turns on freely established given days a reduction on the entrance fee to the members of ENAL (Entre Nazionale Assistenza Lavoratori), semi-governmental organization of workers established during the Fascism with the name of OND (Opera Nazionale Dopolavoro) and corresponding to the nazist "Arbeit and Freude". Compulsory reductions are enforced also for soldiers of the Italian Army.

Government censorship: All native and foreign production is subjected to Government censorship on moral and political standards. Contracts for the import of foreign films include the reserve that the contract is void if the film is not approved by the Italian censorship. The censorship is extended also to posters and other advertising material.

Though no new law has been issued, the observance of the current regulations were made stricter during 1953 to face the growing tendency of the native industry to produce pictures of lower moral standard. Applications for getting the preventive Government censorship visa (by payment of a special tax were higher in number during 1952-53 than ever before.

The matter is handled by the "Commissione Per la Revisione" which can exclude films from their sreenings in public theatres or prohibit admission to young people (under age of 16 years) or give suggestions on the sequences of the film to be cut. Presently four "Commissioni" are operating by turns. Each "Commissione" is of three members, i.e. an official of the Government Dept. for Show Business, an official of the Justice Dept. and an official of the Home Office Dept.—Against decision of those "Commissioni", application can be made to a special "Commissione di Appello" headed by the State Under-secretary.

Financial regulations: On March, 1953, the most important regulation, reached between M.P.A.A. and the Italian Association of Producers in 1951 has been extended until the end of August, 1954. According to the agreement, import of American films to Italy is limited to 225 dubbed releases for the major American companies operating in Italy and 60 dubbed releases for Italian independent distributors. In addition each American company releases two films of its imported features through Italian distributors. Earnings of American films are used as follows: one 40% can be remitted to the U.S.A.; one 10% is granted as a loan to the Italian Film Export (I.F.E.; see Organizations); one 50% is frozen in blocked accounts and must be used for production in Italy. The amount of the loan thus granted to the Italian industry is expected to reach five million U.S.A. dollars at the end of August, 1954. It is estimated that around three million dollars of the blocked accounts were used for productions and coproductions in Italy during 1952.

The agreement with France for co-production has been extended to the end of October, 1953. It is likely it will be renewed at the expiration date. According to this agreement pictures produced with the cooperation of French and Italian firms will be granted all Government benefits and subsidies for native production in both the countries. Since the beginning of the agreement to the end of April, 1953, the Italian-French films coproduced under these regulations were about 50, of which 20 in the year 1952. The two leading champion box office films in the French market were Italian-French coproductions in 1952.

Early in July, 1952 an agreement was signed with West Germany by which the exchange of pictures between Germany and Italy is free in the original version. For pictures to be dubbed only 30 permits can be yearly granted by each Government. Earnings of dubbed films can be remitted to the respective country where they were produced. Only ten coproductions per year are admitted to benefit of subsidies and facilites granted by each of the two Governments to the native production.

Under the agreement signed in 1952 between the British Film Producer Association and the Italian Association of Producers all British films dubbed in the Italian version are exempted from the frozen deposit of 2,500,000 lira at the Banca Nazionale Del Lavoro. However, the British exporter must pay £500 for each picture to the special B.F.P.A.-ANICA fund in London. This money is yearly shared among British distributors and exhibitors of Italian films dubbed in the English version. Coproductions can be consented only case by case.

Another agreement between Argentina and Italy was reached in 1952 by which 30 Italian pictures can be imported in Argentina and 11 Argentina pictures in Italy every year with the remittance of earnings to the respective country where the film was produced. The agreement included also an arrangement for the Italian-Argentinian coproductions the number of which per year has been not yet established.

In March of 1953 was signed the agreement between the Spanish and Italian Government, by which for pictures to be dubbed only 20 permits per year will be granted by the Italian Government to the Spanish production and vice-versa. Earnings can be remitted. The arrangement for Spanish-Italian coproductions operating only after Summer, 1953.

Coproductions with firms of other countries are also permitted provided that proper application be made to the Government Dept. For Show Business which decides case by case in view of encouraging the flow of foreign capitals to the native industry. Temporary import and export of films can be consented in order to facilitate exchange and sale of them in Italy and abroad.

Government departments: All film activity under jurisdiction of "Direzione Generale dello Spettacolo" (General Dept. for Show Business) of the Presidence of Cabinet Council, which takes care both of stage and film shows. The "Direzione Generale dello Spettacolo" includes a general office only for film business, (address: Rome, Via Veneto 56). This office is divided into four Sections: production (Dr. Annibale Scicluna, head of the section); general affairs (Dr. Luigi Natale, head); import & export (Dr. Benito Orta, head); censorship, exhibition and 16 mm. (Dr. Giovanni De Tomasi, head). Avv. Nicola De Pirro is the general manager of "Direzione Generale dello Spettacolo", head of which is State Undersecretary Hon. Giulio Andreotti.

Also the State Dept. for the Foreign Trade (Ministero per il Commercio Estero) includes a special section for motion picture exchange regulations. Care of this Dept. there is a special committee for the examination of matters dealing with import & export of films, raw film stock, motion picture materials. Head of the Committee is the State Undersecretary of the Department. The Association of Italian Producers and Distributors is also represented in the Committee which in 1952 took into consideration about 1,300 applications for import of films or equipment and about 1,900 applications for export of the same goods. In addition to them, 130 applications for temporary import and 450 for temporary export of films were also considered by the Committee.

Government organizations: Centro Sperimentale di Cinematografia, Via Tuscolana 832, Rome: teaching school for actors, directors, cameramen, etc. Founded in 1942. President: Avv. Nicola De Pirro, General Manager: Prof. Giuseppe Sala.

Sezione Autonoma Credito Cinematografico della Banca Nazionale del Lavoro, Via San Basilio 45, Rome. Established 1935. Capital and surplus: 596 million lira. Amount of loans to the film industry, five billion lira on Dec. 31, 1952, half of which granted with the compulsory deposits for foreign pictures dubbed in the Italian version (see Custom Duties). Altogether 74 feature films were partially or totally financed by the Banca Lavoro in 1952. General Manager: Ing. Imbriani Longo; manager of the section: Rag. Giuseppe La Guardia.

Società Italiana Autori Editori, protecting the rights of authors, checking and in control of admission taxes and of demesne rights for works because of public property. S.I.A.E. takes care of sharing proceeds from films to the entitled people. Headquarters: Via Valadier 37, Rome. President: Hon. Dr. Mario Vinciguerra, S.I.A.E. includes a special Section for the motion picture industry and for the Public Film Register, where all native productions are registered and which consents to the Banks to burden with mortgage the financed film. Dr. Piero Spinosa is general manager of the Section which is in Via Quattro Fontane 22, Rome. S.I.A.E. is connected with the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP) in New York and is represented in the most important foreign countries. Gen. Mgr. of S.I.A.E. is Dr. Antonio Ciampi.

Mostra Internazionale d'Arte Cinematografica della Biennale di Venezia, Palazzo Giustiniani, Venice. Depending from the Direzione Generale dello Spettacolo, it takes care of the organization of the International Cinema Exhibit which opens in Venice each year in August-September. The International Cinema Exhibit includes also an International Film Festival of Films for children and an International Exhibit of Shorts and Documentaries both opening in August. Hon. Prof. Giovanni Ponti is president and Dr. Antonio Petrucci is director.

Cineteca Autonoma per la Cinematografia Scolastica, depending from State Dept. for the Public Education. Established in 1938. Headquarters: Via S. Susanna 17, Rome. (The new law for the reorganization of this office has been not yet approved). Prof. Remo Branca is the President.

Zorgniotti; Public Relations mgr.: Jonas Rosenfield, Jr. I.F.E. was established in 1951 after the agreement between the M.P.A.A. and the Italian association of producers, as a company limited by shares which were subscribed by the Union of Producers. In 1952, one fifth of the stocks were given to the Government and namely to the Centro Sperimentale di Cinematografia. I.F.E. is controlled by the Government through the Committee of Revisors members of which are the general manager of the State Dept. for Show Business, the general manager of the State Dept. for Foreign Currencies and of the president of the association of producers. Promotion of Italian films in the U.S.A., Canada and the Far East is the task of IFE which takes care of advertising, titling and dubbing them in the American version and supports American exhibitors even with financial subsidies in the release of Italian films. IFE lends to the Italian producers the money for dubbing and launching pictures without asking any commission. All proceeds of the film in the U.S.A. are cashed by the IFE which operates as an agency of the Italian Government. Financial funds to the IFE are loaned by American companies in Italy in accordance with the MPAA-ANICA agreement (see Exchange regulations). A report on the use of the funds must be given by IFE to the MPAA every year. IFE is also owner of a newly established studio for the dubbing of films in the American version in New York.

I.F.E. Releasing, Inc., 1501 Broadway, Paramount Building, New York 36, N. Y.—Established in 1952 with capital entirely subscribed by the IFE, for the release of dubbed Italian films in the American market. To the purpose branches were opened in New York, N. Y.; in Atlanta, Georgia; in Cleveland, Ohio; in Chicago, Ill.; in Los Angeles, Calif.

U.N.I.E.F. (Unione Nazionale Importazione Esportazione Film), Via Sistina 91, Rome. Established in 1953 for the sale and release of Italian films in foreign countries, except U.S.A., where only the IFE keeps operating. UNIEF which is presently a semi-official agency, deals with import and export of films. Chiefly oprating at the beginning in Rio de Janeiro and other cities of South America, in India, West Germany and some countries beyond the Iron Curtain.

American Organizations: All American distributing companies in Italy joined the national Union of Distributors of ANICA after the agreement between the American and Italian associations of producers, except Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. The president, the vice-president and some members of the board of directors of the Union of Distributors are Italian representatives of the American companies in Italy. However the American industry has its own agencies in Italy.

M.P.A.A. (Motion Picture Association Of America, Inc.) Viale Mazzini, 88, Rome—E. H. Van Dee, representative for Italy, is the M.P.A.A. agency in Italy.

Film Board, Viale Mazzini 88, Rome—Avv. Carlo Rimini, secretary, is the association of the American distributing companies in Italy.

Religious organizations: Ente Dello Spettacolo, Via della Conciliazione 10, Rome, is the most important religious organization concerning show business in Italy. Arch. Ildo Avetta is president and Msgr. Albino Galletto ecclesiastic counsellor. It is divided into three branches, the most important of which is the C.C.C. (Centro Cattolico Cinematografico). Established in 1935 (one year before the "Vigilanti Cura" Enciclica), the C.C.C. is a sort of Italian Legion Of Decency with chief purpose of classification of films according to their moral standards from the religious point of view. The other branches are the C.C.R. (Radio Catholic Center) and C.C.T. (Stage Center).

A.C.E.C., Via della Conciliazione 10, Rome, is the Catholic association of exhibitors or "Associazione Cattolica Esercenti Cinematografici" with Msgr. Dalla Zuanna president and Dr. Floris Ammannati, vice-president. Secretary: Dr. Francesco Angelicchi.

Sanpaolo Film, Via Solferino 9, Rome, for the distribution of native and foreign 35 and 16mm. pictures of high moral standards.

Legislation: Under the Law Dec. 29, 1949, all film activity is submitted to the Presidence of Cabinet Council which puts in practice rulings established in favour of the native production, checks the origin of the films, promotes and takes care of foreign exchanges, promotes and coordinates all efforts for the improvement of the native production and for the diffusion of native films abroad, controls all organizations, all activities in the motion picture field which are of public interest or in which Government is financially partner, controls films circulation according to the current laws, etc. The Presidence of the Cabinet Council accomplishes with its tasks through special Committees and the Direzione Generale dello Spettacolo (see Government Depts.)

The same law puts forth many direct and indirect subsidies to the native production which presently total around 11 million USA dollars and include the subsidy to the producer of feature film which can reach 18 per cent of the gross income; the subsidy to producers of documentaries which can reach five per cent of the gross income; the subsidy of three per cent of gross income to the producer of newsreels; the discount of 20 per cent of admission taxes to the exhibitor when screening Italian films; the compulsory projection of Italian features for 20 given days quarterly and for all movie-houses; subsidies to film industry organizations, exhibits in Italy and abroad, etc. The expiration date of this law is Dec. 31, 1953. However the Government has prepared the new Law which practically is an extension of the current one with a reduction in the amount of subsidies to documentaries and newsreels.

The Chamber of Deputy approved the project of Law providing additional benefits to the films for children and namely an extra-subsidy of six per cent of gross income to the producer and a discount of 50 per cent on the admission tax to the exhibitor. Another project of law approved by the Senate provides special benefits to educational and 16 mm. pictures and grants exemption from admission taxes for five years to new 16 mm. movie-houses.

The rental percentages for the release is also established by the Government year by year. Presently it cannot be higher than 40 per cent of the net proceeds and only exceptionally can reach 50 per cent for outstanding pictures.

Producers of native films must give free copy of the production to the Centro Sperimentale di Cinematografiia, upon request of the Presidence of Cabinet Council, one year after the date of release.

Building new theatres and transforming old ones must be authorized by the Presidence of Cabinet Council. Permits for opening new theatres can be granted only within the limit of one seat to 12-20 inhabitants and taking into consideration the economical and tourist situation of the towns.

Foreign producers intending to produce films in Italy—or part of films—must apply to the Presidence of Cabinet Council, presenting the screenplay in Italian version.

JAPAN

Number of motion picture theatres in operation: 3,900.

Number of feature films released during 1952: 462 (261 Japanese pictures and 201 foreign pictures).

Japanese features produced during. 1952: 261 (Shochiku K.K. 54, Daiei K.K. 54, Shin Toho K.K. 48, Toho K.K. 49, Toei K.K. 51, independent producers 5).

Number of foreign features released during 1952: 201 (158 U. S., 11 British, 9 French, 5 Italian, 1 Swedish, 3 Russian, 1 Australian, 1 Danish, 1 Austrian, 1 South African, 1 Hungarian, 1 Finnish, 1 Swiss, 5 West German, 2 Spanish.)

Censorship: There is no censorship after the Japanese Peace Treaty went into effect on April 29, 1952. The industry here is endeavoring to set up a Self Regulatory Board for reviewing foreign pictures, but so far no agreement has been reached.

Admission tax: Admission tax has been reduced from 100% to 50% from Jan. 1, 1953.

Royalty tax: A 20% withholding tax is assessed against producers share as royalty tax.

Financial exchange regulations: 30% of gross earnings are convertible into foreign currency. Balance of Yen earnings after the 30% conversion, is blocked in a special Film Account. Usage of this blocked fund is restricted to:—

1) Payments in Japan for local expenses chargeable to producers arising from normal operation of film import and distribution business in Japan.

2) Film production, co-production and location work in Japan.

3) Purchase of rights of films of Japanese origin for territories other than Japan.

4) Contributions to, loans to, or investments in the Japanese film industry tending to improve film production establishments, film production technique, or theatrical facilities.

5) Payments to, contributions to, loans to, or investments in schools, hospitals or social works in Japan.

6) Other purposes related to the public entertainment industry of Japan and America as may be authorized by the Ministry of Finance.

Principal producing companies: Toho Kabushiki Kaisha, Shin Toho Kabushiki Kaisha, Shochiku Kabushiki Kaisha, Daiei Kabushiki Kasha and Toei Kabushiki Kaisha.

Principal distributing companies: M.G.M., Twentieth Century Fox, Warners, Paramount, R.K.O., Universal, Columbia, Daiei, Shochiku, Toho Shin Toho and Toei.

Principal theatre circuits: Toho Chain, Shochiku Chain and Nikkatsu Chain.

General conditions and outlook: A quota system is in effect against importation of foreign pictures into Japan. In principle, the Japanese Government will permit importation of up to the number of pictures produced in Japan during the calendar year previous to importation. Number of productions during the calendar year 1951 was 205, therefore importation of foreign pictures for the fiscal year April 1952 to March 1953 was limited to 208 pictures, of which 152 went to American pictures. Of the latter number 122 went to M.P.E.A. member companies and 30 to independents. For the fiscal year 1953, 146 American pictures will be permitted of which 121 will go to M.P.E.A. member companies and 25 to independents.

General conditions and outlook: Mexican pictures which were top box office champions in Mexico City in 1952 included two productions of Posa Films, S.A., all of whose product Columbia Pictures releases throughout the world. Both starred "Cantinflas" (Mario Moreno), greatest money-making Mexican comedian. Both played the select Cine Roble. One was "Were I A Congressman." The other was "The Atomic Fireman." Third place was more than easily held by "The Right to Be Born," produced by Producciones Pedro Galindo. This picture was extraordinary in that during its first three weeks at the Orfeon it grossed more than had any other picture ever exhibited in Mexico in that period at one theatre. Fourth among the top champion grossers was "My Wife and the Other Girl." Of the 96 Mexican pictures exhibited in Mexico City during 1952, only 18 were any box office at all.

Though the trade throughout Mexico ended 1952 with no complaint about business, Mexico City major first-run exhibitors began 1953 with a considerable drop in box office. They attribute that largely to the 20 to 35 per cent reduction in admission prices the Municipal Amusements Supervision Department ordered in early December, results of which manifested themselves sooner that was expected. Onl a few theatres can surmount that cut by playing a really big hit. The situation, however, doesn't effect second and subsequent run theatres very much, and business in the provinces, where there has been no price reduction, and none in sight, is generally good.

The entire trade is gratified by the definite defeat of the forced 50 per cent playing time for Mexican pictures clause of the Cinematographic Law that became effective in December. The defeat was the work of Federal Judge Ignacio Burgoa, Mexico City, granting exhibitors groups an injunction against enactment of that clause. He upheld the exhibitors' contention that the clause is unconstitutional.

Production costs increased to the new high of $69,300, average, per film. High wages, particularly for stellar stars, were cited as a factor in that. Nevertheless, some Hollywood companies, among them Warners and RKO, find it reasonable to make some pictures in Mexico.

The trade is gearing itself for three-dimension pictures. Good response is expected because of heightening public interest.

NEW ZEALAND

Number of theatres in operation: 589, including 36 Circuit or itinerant Operators exhibiting in 141 Theatres or Halls.

Number of features imported in 1952: Total: 417; U. S. 310; Britain 69; Russian 8; Italy 8; France 7; Indian 6; Germany 3; Chinese 3; Yugoslavia 2; Sweden 1; Australian 1 (Documentary). A number of the foreign language pictures were brought into the country for specialized audiences only.

Feature productions in 1952: 2 (Documentary).

Censorship: All films must be reviewed by a censor, who classes them for Adult or General Exhibition. This classification must be advertised and displayed at the Box Office.

Admission tax: On 1/6 nil; 2/-3d.; 2/6 4d.; 3/-4d.;

3/6 5d. On admissions over three shillings six pence one penny for every shilling or part thereof, plus two pence.

Financial exchange regulations: The Reserve Bank agrees to remit the net amount of monies earned in N.Z. as and when the funds are in hand. A permit is required by each company before transfer of earnings is made.

Industry legislations: The industry is controlled, both distribution and exhibition interests being licensed and required to conduct their particular sections of the industry within the regulations of the Cinematograph Films Act 1928 and subsequent amendments. The Film Board, consisting of exhibitors (both Circuit and Independent) distributors and Government officials, under the chairmanship of a magistrate, sit regularly to discuss industry problems.

Government departments: Departments of Internal Affairs; Minister Hon. W. A. Bodkin, Officer Administering the Cinematograph Films Act H. L. E. Peryman. Censor, G. Mirams, Department of Industries and Commerce, Minister Hon. C. M. Bowen.

Principle theatre circuits: Amalgamated Theatres Ltd., Roxy Theatre Buildings Auckland; Kerridge Odeon Theatres, St. James Theatre Buildings, Queen Street Auckland; Christchurch Cinemas Ltd. Regent Theatre Buildings Christchurch.

General conditions and outlook: The rise in Box Office grosses particularly in the larger centres is due to increased admission charges (averaging 3d per admission) authorized last year. Whilst overheads have also increased considerably it is certain that Exhibitors generally are showing better net results. Immigration has boosted seat sales in some areas as permanent housing is not readily obtainable and theatres offer welcome entertainment and comfort to those who would otherwise have nothing to do. A growing interest in Continental Films is indicative of the population increase from European areas.

Theatres are in first class shape physically and are ready to deal with either or both 3-D or Television. The standard of film supply has again been high and the majority of productions have been entirely to the taste of N.Z. Audiences who prefer down to earth comedies and general entertainment fare and to whom the high brow and arty types of films have only a mild appeal. The future still looks bright and the industry here is well set up financially and otherwise to cope with any innovations or competition that may be present this year.

High wool prices and the national income from the increased export of foodstuffs to overseas markets continue to give N.Z. a buoyancy that reflects itself in a high standard of living and a healthy appetite for sport and entertainment. Films easily outstrip all other forms of diversion and introductions of 3-D will add considerably to the drawing power of theatres. TV is still around the corner and in spite of the urging of equipment manufacturers it has not yet made its appearance and the opinion is held here that if and when it does arrive it will now only mildly affect attendances.

NORWAY

Number of theatres in operation: 502. (Of this number about 50% gross only a half million kroner per year together).

Theatres divide into: 186 municipal, 111 private houses, 182 association and club cinemas, while 23 are various. In addition comes Norsk Bygdekino A/S (mainly a state and municipal owned touring company, showing films in remote places by automobiles and small boats). The municipal cinemas stand for approximately 87% of the country's turnover. Each municipal cinema or a town's group of cinemas, where there are two or more, are operated by a manager who answers to a political board of representatives from the three leading parties: Socialists, Right and Left.

Number of films passed through censorship during 1952: 382 plus 9 films submitted for trial censorship (5 U.S.A., 3 France, 1 Germany). Norway, 15; Argentina, 1; Denmark, 13; England, 50; France, 19; Italy, 13; Mexico, 1; Russia, 4; Spain, 2; Sweden, 25; Germany, 9; U.S.A., 227; Austria, 3.

Admssion taxes: 40% of total boxoffice. Cultural houses are taxfree after application to and decision by Government. When a cultural taxfree short is attached to a feature, the whole program obtains an added 2% more filmrental, and tax reduced to 36% instead of forty.

Censorship: All films must be approved by Statens Filmkontroll (Government censorship Board). Three kinds of certificates are issued: Yellow for adults (over 16); red for all audiences; white, banned. No pictures were banned in 1952. Censorship fee: features, 8 ore per meter; shorts 8 ore per meter; documentaries, 2 ore per meter (all prices regardless of gauge).

Customs fees: N. kr. 8.00 per meter.

General conditions and outlook: Business conditions are still rather satisfactory, year's turnover again approximately kr. 50,000,000, but State Tax slices off kr. 20,000,000. Working conditions are good industry development and recovery-building keeping all willing hands occupied, but defense-expenses and huge taxes are now beginning to tell a severe tale on public's purse. Very few pictures hold up in time like earlier years; runs are shorter, changes of programmes more frequent, number of pictures imported still much too high and all pictures therefore gross less and less money per picture.

Pictures can be imported without restrictions, European pictures obtaining full payment in all exchanges, American dollars still curtailed with a small betterment obtained for 1952. Somewhere arourd 30% of American companies' money is definitely frozen, on condition never to be claimed and brought out of the country, but it is expected that 1953 will see some betterment in payment conditions as Norway's dollar situation is not quite as bad as it has been for years.

The situation for the film distributors, which, in fact, has been desperate for the years after the Liberation, will also be eased up as M.P.A.A.'s action for increase in the filmrental has succeeded. Film rental will go up from straight 30% to straight 40%, and additional revenue will be paid for a maximum of up to 5 supers per year, actual stipulation not yet settled as this survey is made. The municipal cinemas not being able to pay this increase will receive subsidy from the Government in order to offset loss.

Less than a dozen domestic productions, shorts included, have seen the screen during 1952, mostly produced by the company Norsk Film A/S., semi-official company, representing the monopoly-municipal cinemas. Best successes: The Olympia-Picture, and compiled historical Hakon the VII—Norway's King in War and Peace. The company Merkurfilm produced Trine and N.R.M.-Film a domestic comedy, We Want to Get Divorced. None of the Norwegian productions turned out to be the landslides hoped for, but several of them had nice runs, being kept in longer runs than would any foreign picture according to merits.

—ERLING BERGENDAHL

PAKISTAN

Number of theatres in operation: Approximately 250.

Production: Feature production in 1950: There are 17 producers who average 15 films annually.

Imports: 80% of films exhibited in Pakistan theatres are imported from India; and 10% from other countries, mainly USA and UK.

Legislation: The Indian Cinematograph Act of 1918 operates in Pakistan, and films are censored and theatres licensed under the provisions of this Act.

Principal producers: Dewan Pictures, Fazli Films, Indo-American Films Ltd., Nigaristan Productions, Zeenat Pictures, Shahnoor Films—all of Lahore.

General conditions & outlook: The industry's position in Pakistan has remaned absolutely static right through the year. Production, imports and exhibition figures have remained the same as in previous years. Efforts to compromise the differences between Indian and Pakistani film-exchange, on a trade-level were hopeful, but Government on both sides appear to be inactive or unresponsive to such efforts. The wakening visible in Pakistani politics during recent weeks augurs well for the future, and once Government restrictions on the exchange of films between India and Pakistan are removed, the industry in both the countries will benefit.

PANAMA

A free market for U. S. films. Import permits are not required nor are there any restrictions against free transfer of funds. The medium of exchange is U. S. currency.

PUERTO RICO

Number of Distributors: 15.

Film imports: An increase of about 8% was registered in imports of motion picture films into Puerto Rico from the United States during 1952. Imports of features from the United States during fiscal year 1950-51, amounted to 5,141,382 lineal feet, valued at $131,483; imports of short subjects 339,280 lineal feet, valued at $14,019; imports of trailers inserts, 52,180 lineal feet, valued at $2,234. Several of the American film exchanges operating in San Juan, ship some of the features and other material to Virgin Islands, Dominican Republic, and other adjacent islands where they operate branch offices.

About 90% of all film imports come from the United States. Imports from foreign countries during fiscal year 1950-51, amounted to 1,603,308 lineal feet, valued at $32,933. Mexican films run second to American films in the local market. Imports from Spain, England, Argentina and Chile, follow Mexican imports.

Production: The only 35mm film production company now operating is Vigué Film Productions Inc., a newsreel producer distributing its output weekly, with advertising material. The Secretary of Education is producing 16 and 35mm educational films for free exhibition. Travel pictures manufactured in continental United States, and other 16mm features are being distributed or rented by Fransico Castañet Inc. However, a large number of new firms are incorporating with the purpose of producing 35mm features, one of them headed by the notable movie actor Joano Hernandez, who is building a studio near San Juan, to produce pictures with local talent. The law provides tax exemption to motion picture film producers who operate constantly in Puerto Rico, at least they should produce one picture each year.

Censorship: None on imports from the United States mainland. The Custom House officials require the screening of foreign films before exhibition.

Customs fees and other duties: U. S. imports pay 2 cents per lineal foot. Imports from foreign countries pay the same tax, plus the U. S. tariff duty of one-half cent per lineal foot.

Admission taxes: 10% on admission less than 10 cents; 20% on admission of 10 cents or over.

Principal industry organizations: Film Board of Trade, Cobian Film Center, Puerta de Tierra, San Juan, P.R. John Jones, president. A Motion Picture Operators Union (AFL) has collective bargaining agreement signed with all exhibitors.

Principal distributors or film exchanges: Warner Bros. First National, South Films Inc., John Jones, manager; United Artists Corporation of Puerto Rico, Leon Feldun, manager; 20th Century Fox of Puerto Rico Inc., Henry E. King, manager; RKO Radio Pictures (P.R. Inc.), Melvin Edelstein, manager; MGM Puerto Rico Inc., David M, Ehrenfeldt, manager; Republic Pictures P.R. Inc., Jose Garcia, manager; Peliculas Mexicanas de P.R. Inc., Jorge L. Oller, manager; Rafael G. Marti, manager of R.G. Marti Co.; Fernando J. Cortes e Hijos Inc., Miguel Angel Cortés, manager; Columbia Pictures of P.R., Richard Manack, manager; Universal International, Harold Dudorff, manager; Caribe Films, Eduardo La Torre, manager; General Film Exchange, Jack Odell, manager; Selecciones Iberoamericanas, Reinaldo Paniagua, manager; Paramount Pictures, Francisco Planas Jr., manager; Selznick Pictures are distributed through United Artists. All the above film exchanges have offices at Cobian Film Center, San Juan, with the exemption of Warner Bros. and Rafael G. Marti, both located at Avenida Fernandez Juncos 600, San Juan.

Principal theatre circuits: Allied Theatrics, now operating 36 of Cobian's theatres in San Juan and other principal cities of the island; offices located at Ponce de Leon Avenue, Parada 19, Santurce. T. Llamas Theatres, second largest circuit, Parada 2 & ½, Puerta de Tierra, San Juan; Circuito Bruno, San Juan; Circuito Riera Hermanos, Mayaguez; Isidro Sanchez, Manati; Empresas Gerardi, Arecibo; Circuito Zamora, Aguadilla; Circuito Esteves, Aguadilla.

General business conditions and outlook: The index of retail trade in Puerto Rico, conducted by the Office of Economics Research, Economic Development Administration, covering calendar year 1952, shows an increase of about 14% in theatres admissions in Puerto Rico, as compared with the same period of 1951. The nine American films exchanges reported about 8% increase in business for 1952, while the others reported slight decrease. The best indication on business conditions in the trade is the tax collection on motion picture theatre admissions.

Excise taxes paid by all houses in fiscal year 1951-52 amounted to $793,251.22, compared with $658,148.62 in fiscal year 1950-51.

Of interest to management is the large number of persons that go to the movies, in Puerto Rico: 20,213,397 paid admission in 1952, compared with 19,356,247 in 1951.

No television station is in operation in Puerto Rico as yet, but one is under construction by Radio Station El Mundo, and two other radio stations have asked licenses to operate TV. It's believed that the movies will be affected by television the same as in other Latin American countries but that movies and TV can co-exist in the long run. Three Drive-in theatres are now operating in San Juan. They report good business.

Motion picture film and accessories are rented to the various theatres either on the basis of pre-established contracts or on spot bookings.

The national income of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico has risen notably during the past decade, but most significantly during the past two years. In 1940, for instance, the net income was $228,000,000, while by 1950 it had jumped to $674,000,000.

A goal has been set to increase standards of living from present level of $375 (U. S. is $1,500) to reach $2,000 per family by 1960. Over 1,000 new factories will be opened in Puerto Rico by 1960, according to plans approved by the planning board, and as reported by Governor Luis Muñoz Marin to the Legislative Assembly early in February 1953.

Amendments to the income tax law of Puerto Rico, without raising present tax rates have been recommended by the Governor, but introducing certain modifications to the act contained in the Federal income tax act, so as to facilitate the establishment of investment companies, to raise the flow of private capital in new manufacturing enterprises. Development of talent, or "know-how", training of workers for the benefit of industry, are other plans that have been recommended by the Governor to the law-makers.

Other legislative measures of interest to management is modifications of the income tax act that will be made this year; to provide backward and forward application of losses against past and future profits, provisions to enlarge the concept of capital gains so as to pay lower rates, deduction of grants to personal pension systems, and retention in origin of the tax on compensation to individuals.

Since the manufacture of motion picture films for commercial use is tax-exempted in Puerto Rico, for a period of ten years, a large number of new film producing companies will be established in this island. The Bank for the Development of Puerto Rico, and the Industrial Development Company offer to new producers, after a study of the feasibility of their ventures. —E. SANDRO ORTEZ

SPAIN

Number of theatres in operation: 4,500.

Seating capacity: 2,300,000.

Average weekly attendance: 5,800,000 (over 300,000,000 per year).

Average number of inhabitants per theatre: 6,260.

Average number of inhabitants per seat: 12.

Number of theatres (16 mm) in operation: Over 2,000 (in local and private clubs, colleges, etc.).

Number of features released in 1952 (from January to June): 95 (U. S. 42; Spain, 19; Italy, 8; Germany, 7; Britain, 4; France, 4; Mexico, 6; Argentina, 4; China, 1).

Feature production in 1952 (from January to June): 13—"Cerca de la ciudad" (Goya), "De Madrid al cielo" (Aspa), "El Deseo y el amor" (Chamartin), "Don Juan Tenorio" (Talia), "Dos Vidas" (Sister), "Encuentro en la ciudad" (Universitas), "La Estrella de Sierra Morena" (color) (Suevia), "El Judas" (Iquino), "La Llamada de Africa" (Hesperia), "Manchas de sangre en la luna" (Hesperia), "Maria Morena" (color) (Ariel), "Mercado Prohibido" (Iquino), "Persecucion en Madrid" (Iquino).

Censorship: The new Classification and Censorship Board (Junta de Clasificación y Censura) review all imported and domestic pictures through its two Censorship and Classification Commissions.

Censorship Board. This body sorts out imported pictures under these three lines: "apt to olders," "tolerated for youngsters" and "prohibited." Prohibited pictures are entitled to be replaced by others or to the reimbursement of customs duties involved. In the Classification Board these very pictures are classed into three categories in order to Customs duties payment.

The Spanish pictures being classified by the Censorship according to exhibition effects, are moreover classified into three categories which permit the granting of import and dubbing licenses. Two for the first category, one for the second, and none for the third category. Films of "National Interest" are granted with a one more dubbing license. This system will shortly be modified with new regulations.

The duties are 10 pesetas for reel and for each copy.

Customs duties and fees: 4'50 gold pesetas for each kilo of raw material. Picture classified in the first category, 75,000 pesetas; in second category, 50,000 pesetas and third, 25,000 pesetas. Documentary: first-rate 3,000 pesetas, second 2,000 pesetas and third 1,000 pesetas.

Admission taxes: Taxes on gross earnings of cinemas: 30 per cent uses and excise taxes. 5 per cent collected for the poor. Taxes on the capacity of the theatres: 5 per cent payment to Exchequer and an overcharge of 30 per cent on this payment. Author's rights: 0'30 per cent up to 0'90 per cent on the capacity of the cinema. They are at present considering an increase of this right up to 1'25 per cent.

Industry legislation: There are several different orders on official protection, the most important being the following: Loans to production—On November 11, 1941 an order was issued which established credit for all the producers of Spanish pictures asking for it. Under this credit a maximum of 40 per cent of the total budget of the picture is granted, having an account determined requisites. This credit is issued by the Sindicato Nacional del Espectaculo from funds supplied by the Ministry of Industry, but indications are that they will disappear when new regulations come into force, being replaced by a subsidy or award, according to film's quality. Awards—Six awards are granted annually to feature national production and same number to shorts. The awards are: 500,000, 450,000, 400,000, 350,000, 300,000, 250.000 for the features and 50,000, 45,000, 40,000 35,000, 30,000 and 25,000 pesetas respectively for the shorts. Some years they are modified on the very moment of their granting. Importation permits—On September the 13th, 1951, an agreement was signed in Paris between Spain and the United States, which was ratified on January the 22nd, 1952, in Madrid by Undersecretary of Foreign Economy Department of the Ministry of Commerce, D. Jaime Alba; Undersecretary of the Ministry of Information and Tourism, D. Manuel Cerviá, on behalf of Spain, and Mr. Stanton Griffis representing the S.I.M.P.P. and Mr. A. J. Healey as delegate of the M.P.A.A. The agreement established the coming to Spain as normal import, and without any more formal measures, of one hundred American pictures, sixty of them by first rate American producers through their branches or Agencies in Spain, and forty by qualified Spanish importers from other Companies.

But this agreement did not come into force yet. Therefore, practically, the trade is operating the old system of granting two licenses to first rate Spanish films; one to those of second and none of any European to those of third. These licenses are sold to American producers or importers, and their present price is about 800,000 pesetas (16,000 dollars). Theoretically the dubbing is abolished, but dubbing licenses are granted to Spanish producers in such a quantity that every foreign film has its license. They are sold at 50,000 pesetas ($1,000).

Government departments: General Direction of Cinematography and Theatres, under the Ministry of Information and Tourism. Director General, Joaquin Argamasilla, Marquis of Santa Cara, Montesquinza 2, Madrid. Head of the Cinema Section, Manuel Andres Zabala; head of the Theatrical Section, José Maria Ortiz, Fernando el Santo 20, Madrid. "Consejo Coordinador de la Cinematografia"—this body has a consultative character referring the classification and vigilence of cinematographic activities; it must preceptively be heard on general governing and conditions for protection to Spanish industry. Members; The Director General of Cinematography and Theatres, the chief of the "Servicio de ordenacion economica de la cinematografia," the chief of "Show National Syndicate" and four members appointed by the Ministry of Information, Industry, Commerce, and the Show National Syndicate. "Instituto de orientacion cinematografia"—it has active administrative powers on the development at all cultural and artistic guiding activities, and also in the classification and censorship of foreign and domestic pictures through the Classification and Censorship Board (Junta de Clasificacion y Censura) (Francisco Fernandez, secretary), and of the Supreme Censorship Board (Comision Superior de Censura) (Alfredo Timerman, secretary), whom decisions of the former can be resorted to. Fernando el Santo 20, Madrid.

Instituto de Investigaciones y Esperiencias Cinematograficas. It is an official department devoted to teaching (practice and theory) of cinema techniques of all kinds; to the making of scientific and pedagogical pictures and to research work. Pupils previously selected study, during three years, specialties of production, direction, engineering, artistic direction and set decoration, interpretation. Two hundred pupils from several countries attend. Director, D. Victoriano Lopez Garcia, Fernando el Santo 20, Madrid.

Chambers of Directors (Camara de directores). This body has not a real function, but it is possible to appeal to it when Board's decisions on screenplays and pictures are considered as wrong. Fernando el Santo 20, Madrid.

NO-DO (Noticiarios y Documentales Españoles). Autonomous body editing and exploiting as a monopoly the newsreels compulsorily exhibited at the Spanish theatres. It receives information from foreign news companies and selects what it considers most proper for the Spanish people. It sends abroad Spanish events to these correspondents. General conditions and outlook: The production stop which started on January 1st, 1951, ended in end of November 1951 and 28 features were produced in the year 1952.

The Swedish Riksdag (Parliament) followed the suggestions from the government committee, by giving Swedish producers 20% in return of the entertainment taxes. Because of the raise of prices and wages during 1951 and 1952, the Price Control Board was forced to allow higher admission prices at end of 1951.

For the 1951-52 season was planned production of around 20 films. Except for feature film production, there is a large production of TV films for American market, with nearly 100 films made each year.

Most of them are made in the Europa Film studios at Sundbyberg, but also Kinocentralen in Stockholm as well as companies in Gothenburg are announcing TV-contracts with the United States. Strange enough, there seems to be small chances for the Swedish public to see these films with preferably Swedish actors, as TV probably will not be actual here for several years to come.

Distributors have had better success in their operating then the producers during 1951. High admission prices do not inspire attendance. This is shown preferably by the fact that the "long-runners" at the first-run houses are very few each year, compared with the situation eight or ten years ago. In 1951 there were 14,024,812 admission tickets sold in Sweden, against 15,138,249 tickets sold in 1947. Despite this, the government received nearly 12,000,000 Kronor in entertainment taxes in 1951 against only 5.7 Million Kronor during 1947. For 1951, it is expected that 12,000,000 in entermainment taxes represented 39% of the total earning for tickets sold in Sweden.

SWITZERLAND

Number of theatres in operation: About 465.

Feature production in 1952: Only four features, with "Heidi" being a sensational success in the whole of Europe.

Censorship: In peace time there is no national censorship. Authorities of the cantons, or of the towns or communities, censor, but almost only when action is brought against the film by some citizens or local associations or religious authorities. There is a Catholic organization with a central film bureau which classifies the films like the American Legion of Decency and which has great influence on a large number of exhibitors. Censorship is practiced on moral and religious grounds, but seldom on a political basis.

Customs and other duties: Duty on all imported films is charged by weight, but there are some additional taxes.

Admission taxes: 10 per cent generally, in many cantons or communities 15 per cent.

Legislation: There is no national legislation, but a national law concerning the motion picture is in treatment by the parliament. The cantonal authorities rule over admission of children to the theatres; generally the limit is 18 years, in many cantons 16. There are other laws concerned with theatre safety.

Government departments: Swiss Film Chamber, a branch of the cultural ministry. Although the chamber is not a legislative body, it acts in a consultative capacity, deciding questions of a general nature (preparation of the national film law, arbitration committee in controversies between theatre owners and distributors, to fix the import quota of each distributor, etc.). The Chamber consists of 14 representatives of public and cultural groups and 12 representatives of the industry (production, distribution and exhibition). Address: Langgasstrasse 8, Berne. President: Antoine Borel, Secretary: Dr. Hugo Mauerhofer. All members of the Chamber are nominated for three years by the Federal Government.

Industry organizations: Syndicat des Travailleurs Suisse du Film (technicians); president: Georges Alexath, Lausanne. Verband Schweizerischer Filmproduzenten (producers and producing companies), Zurich, Rennweg 59; secretary: Dr. Etter. Film-Verleiher-Verband in der Schweiz (distributors), Berne, Marktgasse 37; president: Franz Milliet. Schweizer Lichtspieltheater-Verband (exhibitors of the German and Italian Switzerland), Zurich, Bahnhofstrasse 89; secretary: Dr. A. Kern. Association Cinematographique Suisse Romande (French-Swiss exhibitors), Lausanne, rue du Lion d'Or; Paritatische Kommission (parity-committee of distributor's and exhibitor's associations, which decides controversies between these associations), Berne, Marktgasse 37; president: Franz Milliet.

Principal distributors: The American companies Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Twentieth Century Fox, RKO Radio Pictures, Warner Bros., Universal-International and United-Artists are represented by own officials; branch offices in Zurich and Geneva. Independent distributors: Basle: Victor-Film AG., Schutzenmattstrasse 43 (representative of the J. Arthur Rank organization; manager: Mr. W. Müller), Berne: Schweizer Schulund Volkskino, Erlachstrasse 21; manager: Mr. Hartmann. Geneva: Charriere-Bourquin-Film, 28 rue Voltaire; Comptoir Cinematographique S.A., 6 rue Prevost Martin; DFG Distributeurs des Films S.A., 1 rue de Commerce; Les Films Independents S.A., 125 rue Grand-Lancy; N. Fuchs, 7 rue Pierre Fatio; Ideal Film S.A., 15 rue Levrier; Majestic-Films S.A., 20 rue de Mont-Blanc; Monopole-Pathe-Films S.A., 4 rue de la Rotisserie; Regina-Films, 7 Pl. Longemalle; Royal Film S.A., 10 rue d'Italy; Sadfi-Film S.A., 8 rue Hesse; Vita-Films, 19a Rue de la Croix d'or; Lausanne: Cineoffice S.A., 6 rue Charles Monnard; Pax-Film S.A., 12 Place de la Gare; Cinevox S.A., 825 Case Ville; Gamma-Films S.A., Societe Anonyme de Cinematographique, 4 rue du Midi; Lugano: Sefi-Film S.A., 7 via Giueseppe Frasca. Zurich: Friedrich Birrer-Filmverleih, Uraniastrasse 35; Columbus-Film A.G., Pelikanstrasse 37 (representative of Columbia Pictures); Elite-Film A.G. Schweizergasse 14/Beatengasse 6; Emelka-Film A.G., Lowenstrasse 55 (representative of Alexander-Korda-Production); Monopol-Film A.G., Todistrasse 61 (representative of Republic Pictures and Monogram Pictures); Neue Interna Film A.G., Bahnhofquai 7; Nordisk Film S.A., Uraniastrasse 35; Pandora-Film A.G., Lowenstrasse 59; Praesens Film A.G., Weinbergstrasse 15; Resta-Film A.G., Lowenstrasse 20; Rex-Film-Verleih A.G., Bahnhofplatz 14; Sphinx-Film A.G., Limmatquai 3; Schmalfilm-Verleih, Talstrasse 11; Star-Film A.G., Pelikanstrasse 19 (representative of Paramount Pictures).

Principal producers: Zurich: Central-Film A.G., Weinbergstrasse 11; Josef Dahinden Filmproduktion, Waserstrasse 63; Gloria-Film A.G., Kreuzstrasse 2; Praesens-Film A.G., Weinbergstrasse 15; Pro-Film, Bahnhofstrasse 69 A; Tempo-Film A.G., Freudenbergstrasse 132; Turicia-Film A.G., Sihlstrasse 37; Condor-Film A.G., Seefeldstrasse 47; Cordial-Film A.G., Torgasse 2; Iris-Film A.G., Freudenbergstrasse 132; Horgen: Karl-Anton-Film A.G.,; Berne: Pinschewer Film-Ateliers, Kollerweg 9; Charles Zbinden-Film, Schauplatzgasse 11; Geneva: C. G. Duvanel, 40 Quai Gustave Ador; Actualities Suisses, 8 rue Hesse; Lausanne: Scientifilm S.A., 9 rue de l'Industrie; Gamma-Films, Societe Anonyme de Cinematographie, 4 rue du Midi.

General conditions and outlook: The overall trend continues towards smaller houses. There are no indications that admissions will rise in the near future. They now run from 1.10 fr. to four or five fr. Most theatres here play single features and don't worry about such things as stage shows and give-aways. American pictures are the top money-makers, with the British and French product running a poor second. Since attendance is very high, showmanship is conspicuously absent.

SYRIA

Number of theatres in operation: 63.

Number of pictures imported during 1952: 650, including documentaries.

Number of pictures seen by the censor: 650. Censorship here is based on a decree issued in 1934.

Local production: Three small studios are now active in Syria. They are—Nazih Shabandar Studio, Zouhair Shawa Studio, both in Damascus, and Arafan & Jalak Studio in Aleppo. Both the government and the producers have ambitious production plans.

Taxes on pictures: Importers should pay for all pictures imported into Syria, 25 Syrian Pounds ($10.) per kilo as custom duty as well as S.£.5. per kilo as Censor fees.

Admissions: Admissions are as follows: First class houses, minimum 50 piasters (20 cents) for halls and 75 piasters for Balconies. For Second class houses admission is limited to 35 piasters. Maximum admission rate is limited to 100 piasters in the 1st class houses and 50 piasters for 2nd class.

Taxes on admission: Finance Ministry collects 15 piasters per seat. Municipality take S.£.200. as entertainment tax.

Importers of pictures and equipment: The most important Syrian importers of pictures for Syria are located in Damascus. They are Messrs. Sirry Bros., Dounia Cinema, Damascus; Societe Libano, Sirienne pour le cinema Sharbachi Bldg., Damascus; Khalil Salha & Co., Zoukak Rami, Damascus. As to equipment, they are imported by Messrs. Sirry Bros., who represent the Italian Company "Victoria" located in Napoli.

In addition to the above, importers of pictures and cinema owners use the services of Lebanese importers who are located in Beirut, and import the American, Egyptian, French pictures, etc. . . . the same way as they import pictures from abroad.

Local production: Syria has tried to produce pictures for three years. The studio is still making short documentaries, at Bab Tuma, Al Habra cinema, Damascus.

Associations: Theater owners have their Associations in the major cities in Syria: Damascus and Aleppo. The association is headed in the first city by Mr. Tewfic Chammas, Damascus cinema. In Aleppo it is headed by Mr. Mamdouh Hussein Aga. As to workers associations, there are four located in the following cities: Damascus—headed by Mr. Muhidin Charbagi; Aleppo—headed by Mr. Elias Kababeh; Hama—headed by Mr. Abdulrahim Abu Khasrein; Lattaquieh—headed by Mr. Saddin Yamout.

TURKEY

Number of theatres in operation: approx. 250.

Number of features imported: approx. 350. They divided up as follows: U. S. 200-250, balance different countries, Italy 60-70, France 10, British 10.

Censorship: All film import is controlled by a censorship body in Istanbul. Dubbed films also are controlled by the censorship body in Istanbul, if it is banned then goes to the censor in Ankara.

Admission tax: On a ticket-price of 100 piastres, 50 piastres is counted as admissions tax and the remaining 50 piastres goes to the theatre. Turkish productions tax is 20% only for the government, foreign pictures must pay now in Istanbul 75% and in the provinces 50 to 60%.

Industry regulations: In May, 1951, the government promised to press for passage of legislation to equalize the admission tax between theatres showing foreign films and those showing domestic films. At present, there is a 70 per cent tax on admissions to foreign films and a 25 per cent tax on admissions to theatres showing Turkish films. A bill is pending in the Turkish Parliament to make the tax 60 per cent on all admissions.

Associations: There are two. The first is an association of distributors and theatre men (Filimciler ve Sinemacilar Cemiyeti) located in Beyoglu Sakiz Agac Arzu Apart. Istanbul and the other is the Association of Producers (Yerli Film Yapanlar Cemiyeti) at Beyoglu Sakiz Agac Arzu Apart. Istanbul.

Principal distributors: Fitas Yesil Sokak 15 Beyoglu Istanbul; Ozen Film Yesil Sok. 17 Beyoglu Istanbul; Lâle Film, Lake Sinemasl Beyoglu Istanbul; Kemal Film Banka Han Beyoglu Istanbul; Elektra Film (Georges Sarris) Yeni Carsi Caddesi Merkez Ap. 38/2 P. O. Box 2189 Beyoglu Istanbul; Kocanga Film Beyoglu Istanbul; Star Film (Etienne Collaro) Kuloglu 21 P. O. Principal studios: Ipek Studio, Nisantas Istanbul; Haka Film, Sisli Istanbul; Ses Film, Mecidiyeköy-Sisli Istanbul; Atlas Film, Mecidiyekoy Istanbul; Sintek Studio, Beyoglu Hava Sokak Istanbul.

Principal producers: And Film, Turgut Demirag Beyoglu Aga Cami Istanbul Beyoglu; Birlik Film Iskender Necef, Yesil Sokak, Beyoglu Istanbul; Atlas Film, Nazif ve Murad Koseoglu, Tepeustu Istanbul; Halk Film, Fuat Rutkay Yesil Sokak, Beyoglu Istanbul; Elektra Film, Georges Sarris Boite Postale 2189 Beyoglu Istanbul; Erman Kardesler, Hava Sokak, Beyoglu Istanbul, Fitas Yesil Sokak 15 Beyoglu Istanbul; Duru Film Yesil Sokak Beyoglu Istanbul.

General conditions and outlook: Turkish production rivals all American and European productions as Turkish productions are taxed 20 per cent as against 75 per cent for foreign pictures. If this situation continues the importers situation will be critical. There were fewer American pictures imported in 1952 as Turkish producers produced more local films. Turkish producers produced this year more than 60 pictures. This situation continues favorably to them and they intend to produce for the forthcoming year of 1953-54 about 100 pictures.

UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA

The past year has not been a good one. This is true, not only of the industry itself in South Africa, but of commerce generally. The trade recession that set in still persists and it's anybody guess just when it is likely to let up.

To all intents and purposes, there has been virtually no importation of any cinema equipment during the past twelve months owing to an almost complete import ban. All the equipment being used in South Africa arrived here before the ban was imposed, and for the most part, was imported either from the U.S.A. or from England.

Regarding production in South Africa; in 1952 no feature films were made here other than a few indigenous ones, and these were all made with Afrikaans (the second official language) soundtracks. Other than these three or four features, production was confined to the usual newsreels and documentaries.

Censorship is still very tough, with a large majority of pictures being granted certificates for exhibition to (1) white audiences only (2) and audiences over the age of sixteen. Apart from the films themselves, the accessories too, come under the abnormally strict vigilance of the Censor Board, with posters, and stills receiving a very heavy axing if at all suggestive of anything regarded as being offensive to public taste or anything likely to foment trouble between the races of this country.

There have been no major Government changes in legislation or regulation since the curtailing of the film imports from the United States in November 1948, when the original control scheme under which U. S. firms were allowed to remit 50 per cent of their earnings was replaced in 1949 with an import licensing control governing all imports from all sources including the sterling area. The present position is still the same in regard to the remitting of funds to the U. S.

The import duties on motion pictures were heavily increased in 1952 when they were raised at least 66 2/3 per cent on first copies coming into the country, and slightly less on second and subsequent copies. The higher rates meant that importers would have to pay 10d. per foot on first prints (12¢), and 8d. (9¢) on second and subsequent copies as against the old rate of 4d. (4¢) per foot.

As a result of an urgent and special appeal by the industry to the Government, a special concession was allowed whereby distributors would receive a partial rebate on the additional tax taken from the higher admissions at the theatres. —S. M. KIRSCH

U.S.S.R.

Number of theatres in operation (incl. workers clubs cinema facilities): 35,000.

Studios: 13 for feature production, 16 for newsreels and documentaries.

Government departments: Soviet Ministry of Cinematography headed by Minister, with five deputies. Ministry has 14 departments covering entire industry.

Each autonomous Soviet Republic has own ministry of cinematography. Film scripts have to be censored by the Federal ministry.

The industry is behind previously drawn plans, concerning production (300-400 features a year with 1,500-2,000 prints); theatre construction (40,000 at the end of 1950).

As before the task of the industry is not entertainment but education of the masses along Communist lines and to serve as propaganda medium for the Soviet Government.

Number of feature films imported during 1952: 620.

Number of films imported from each country in 1952: United States 320; Argentina 20; Mexico 100; Britain 23; Spain 20; Italy 30; France 30; Germany 1; Portugal 2; Sweden 1; Japan 1.

Feature production in 1952 by Bolivar Films, 1.

Censorship: Each city has its own censorship organization. In some of the smaller towns in the interior, the film may be passed by the censorship board, but religious organization may not approve of it when it is shown, and it is then withdrawn. There is a continuous effort among distributors and exhibitors toward the establishment of a national censorship board.

Customs duties and fees: Processed motion picture film pays an import duty of Bs. 2.60 ($.68) a kilo gross weight.

Admission taxes: In Federal District municipal tax is 10 per cent which is included in the admission price. In other key cities it is from 10 per cent to 20 per cent. In some cases there is tax in the form of exhibition permit stamps.

Financial exchange regulations: Free exchange.

Government departments: The municipal governments of the larger cities have a department called Inspectoria de Espectaculos, which supervises all public shows. In Caracas the title of this official is "Inspector General de Espectaculos del Distrito Federal."

Industry Organizations: American Film Board not incorporated,) meeting twice a month. This board is using service of an independent nation-wide spotchecking organization. Asociacion de Exhibidores de Venezuela (uniting the majority of exhibitors.) Address: c/o Teatro Imperial, Caracas.

Principal distributors: Distribuidora Salvador Carcel, (distributors for United Artists and Mexican films); Edificia Principal, Esquina de Principal, Caracas; Warner Bros., Christian Van Der Ree, Maderero a Miranda, Caracas; Republic Pictures, Coliseo a Corazon de Jesus 57; Caracas; Vincente Blanco & Cia., Sociedad a San Francisco 7, Caracas; RKO Pictures, Miracielos a Hospital 85, Caracas; Columbia Pictures, A. Avance, Teatro Imperio, Valencia; Circuito Guayana, Julio del Rio, Ciudad Bolivar, Estado Bolivar; Maracaibo: Empresa Vallasmil; Empresa Colmenares, Empresa Maracaibo.

General condition and outlook: Business in 1952 was on a level with that of 1951 and is not expected to change for the next few months. With the release of 3-D films to accelerate attendance, and the opening of a commercial television station to possibly slow-down attendance, business may continue more or less at the same level throughout the year. Several important theatres have opened but new projects are not contemplated. French and Italian pictures are creating considerable interest. The first 3-D pictures were released in May, 1953, and before the end of the year 1953 five theatres in all will be equipped with 3-D. The Government-owned television station operates two hours daily, and the commercial television operates five hours daily.

YUGOSLAVIA

Number of theatres in operation: In all 1,140, of which 1,004 permanent for 35 mm films, 35 travelling for the same films and 100 for 16 mm films—considered of no commercial value.

Censorship: All imported films as well as the home produced, are subject to censorship. Without the permission of the censorship no film can be shown in Yugoslavia. This commission, however, has no influence, either on the selection or on the import.

Custom and fees: All imported films and materials for making them must pay custom levy according to the existing law. The custom fee on the imported films amounts to 10 per cent ad valorem franco Yugoslav frontier. Another State tax is that of the turnover, which average about 21 per cent.

The import-export of films is fully free, without any limitation. The payments are paid through National Bank with foreign currency which the importers obtained on the free exchange. Since July 1952 there exist no control on the payments for imported films.

Admission: Varies from 10 to 60 dinars, with the arrangement that over 75 per cent are cheaper seats.

Government departments: The former Federal Council for Science and Culture had a Motion Pictures Board which was abolished in 1952, so that there exist no special Government institution handling the film problems only. Since the Constitutional Reform, the Federal Executive Board, among other duties connected with Science and Culture, as a competent body deals with the Motion Pictures problems in general. On the other hand, the secretaries for Culture and Education in the Federal Republics are competent bodies for film problems on their territories. Beside these government agencies there are purely economic organizations founded by the film enterprises on a completely voluntary basis, as are: The Association of Yugoslav Film Producers and that of the Film Distributors.

Main distributors: Every federal Republic has its own film distributing enterprise which handles film distribution not only on its territory but also on the territory of other Republics. From time to time it happens in practice that some distributors insure for themselves exclusive rights for some particular foreign film. However, this develops gradually because most of the distributors neither have sufficient capital for such deals nor the organization to distribute many films on the whole territory of Yugoslavia at the same time.

The import of foreign films is the exclusive right of "Jugoslavija Film", through which the distributors import the films they select.

Import of films in 1952: In 1952 Yugoslavia imported altogether 105 films from the following countries: Austria 6, Great Britain 21, France 21, Italy 9, Germany 4, U. S. 39, Switzerland 1 and Mexico 4. In addition 235 news reel issues were imported during 1952 from various foreign western countries.

All distributors dispose now with 250 features and 21 documentary.

The attendance in theatres in 1952 was 55,370,000, in 1951 it was 70,441,331 and in 1950 as much as 70,863,747.

Production: The entire film production in 1952 in Yugoslavia was: 10 feature films, 43 documentaries and 62 film news reels.

From all home produced features the champion box office was "Miraculous Sword", which from September 1950 to December 1952 attracted to the film theatres as many as 2,149,496 persons, five times average attendance of a foreign feature and three times the home made.

There is only one factory in the country for the production of film equipment which is worth mentioning, it is "Iskra", in Slovinia. Iskra produces annually about 200 film projectors for Yugoslav movies and about 100 for export. Otherwise, nearly all equipments and materials essential for the motion picture industry are imported from various European countries. The central film studio in Belgrade, in its workshops started recently the production, on a small scale, some equipment needed for the production of films (reflectors 0,5-2 KW, play back equipments, rear projectors and some other minor items).

The imports in 1952 for the needs of various producing companies amounted to about 57,000 U. S. dollars.

Principal producers: Avala-Film, film producing company serving the Republic of Serbia: Jadran, serving the Republic of Croatia; Triglav-Film serving Slovenia; Bsna-Film for Bosnia & Hercegovina; Vardar-Film serving Macedonia and Lovcen serving Montenegro.

All these companies produce both feature and documentaries with the exception of Lovcen-Film (Montenegro) which produces only documentaries for the time being.

The Army and the Educational institutions have their own film producing enterprises, producing for the needs of the Army, schools and public movies network. The central studios of Kosutnjak, near Belgrade, have modern studios and all necessary equipments which it leases to home and foreign firms.

General conditions and outlook: Since the beginning of 1951, when the film producing companies of Yugoslavia became independent enterprises, great progress has been made both in the organization and in actual production. The number of feature films from four in 1951 was doubled in 1952. In 1953 however it is planned to make 12 to 13 features, not including a few which will be made in cooperation with foreigners. The number of documentaries which will be made in 1953 remained the same, about 50, just because that number fully satisfies the needs of the local market.

In short period of independent operation of the producing companies, the productivity of work and the production itself were greatly increased, under the influence of the administrative changes and the fact that since the reorganization the artists and all other film personnel are no more Government employees but free artists and workers. This fact stimulated both the producing companies and the actors to work more efficiently. Beside that an attractive bonus is offered by the producers even for the smallest success in work. The average cost for making a feature film in 1952 was about 32 million dinars (about 107,000 U. S. dollars).

Under the new Yugoslav economic system no commercial or producing enterprises showing no profit can exist, but in the case of motion pictures the State is still allocating about 70 per cent of the production costs. The market for films in Yugoslavia is not sufficiently large to cover the costs of the production.

Cooperation with the foreign countries: The Yugoslav film industry had the only contact with foreign producers through periodical international film festivals, and from recent time through coproduction of films with foreign companies.

In the period 1947-1952 Yugoslav film industry participated in 20 international film festivals on which 41 Yugoslav produced features and documentaries were shown.

Actual cooperation on the field of coproduction started in 1952, and up to the first months of 1953 two foreign producers, one German and the other Austrian, made two features with the cooperation of Yugoslav producing companies from Ljubljana and Zagreb. Beside this, it is expected very soon, another two features will be made jointly by Yugoslav and American producing companies.

Exports: Yugoslavia exported last year in all seven films—four features and three documentaries, to Israel, USA, Greece and Switzerland, while the agreements will probably be signed soon for the export of Yugoslav produced films with Turkey, Italy, Argentina and Norway.

A prominent exhibitor paid us the kind of compliment that means most to us when he put it this way:

"Like most of the exhibitors I know, the trade papers I really read are Quigley Publications—because I have solid confidence in them."

The "solid confidence" of the industry . . . . . we firmly believe that to be the greatest asset that any trade publication can possess. That has been the unswerving aim of Quigley Publications for more than a third of a century.

TV Rears Head, And British Industry Seeks Some Relief From Its Burdens

by PETER BURNUP, in London

LONDON, June, 1953.

IN outward seeming, stubborn Britons continue to regard motion pictures as their chosen anodyne and most favored form of entertainment. Admissions in 1952 to the 4,598 theatres known to be in regular operation, with a seating capacity of around 4¼ millions, were only 4 per cent below those of 1951; 6 per cent lower than the total for 1950. (The relative total annual figures are: 1950, 1,395,828,000; 1951, 1,365,036,000; 1952, 1,312,077,000.)

The country's exhibitors, with the showman's ready optimism, hadn't contracted America's TV-phobia. It demanded Coronation's rejoicing to highlight an ominous crack in the roseate facade. Britain's television hitherto had worn largely an air of tentative mediocrity but on June 2, 1953, the television audience for the first time exceeded that of sound radio by almost double. Moreover, of the adult population of Britain, about 36,500,000 people—i.e. 56 per cent—watched the Crowning of their Queen in Westminster Abbey.

It is true that, of the staggering total, around 1,500,000 watched the ceremony in motion picture theatres and other public places. But to many showmen, facile complacency gave way to perturbation, and the writing on the wall appeared with startling suddenness. Some of the contagion of fear which had previously afflicted American theatre men became evident here.

THEATRE men began to question among themselves whether they too didn't now require a shot in the arm. A competitive system of television—British euphemists prefer the word competitive to commercial—is well over the horizon. Many concerned observers also have seen the impressive color TV process developed by the radio manufacturing concern of Pye, Ltd., in conjunction with Paramount's Chromatic Television.

Up to that time, theatre men generally were disposed to regard what they called Hollywood's 3-Dementia as just another showman's gimmick bred out of panic by pessimism. Its principal merit, as they saw it, was that it set the customers talking again about films. A different approach to the matter is now to be discerned. Nevertheless, the main body of exhibitors still want to be sure of themselves before taking a costly plunge.

Their Association's admirable technical adviser, Leslie Knopp, took the lead in insisting on standardization in screen aspect ratio and the like; pointing out moreover the manifest and immense dangers in chance and inexperienced employment of polarized vision. Eager and ready though they be for their personal shots in the arm, exhibitors here believe that caution should continue. They are convinced that out of the current Hollywood flurry something immense and of conspicuous and lasting value will eventually emerge.

ZESTFUL showmen naturally have hurried in to exploit Hollywood outgivings of the calibre of "House of Wax," although others among them deplore that it's only the peanut customer which those odd offerings brings to the booths. There's beauty and wonderment, too, in several wide-screen exhibitions already seen here; although certainly not in all of them.

Meanwhile, the industry pays heed to a cautionary warning issued by the British Kinematograph Society in these words:

"If three-dimensional films are to take a permanent and prominent position in cinema programmes, the laws of stereoscopic vision cannot be broken indiscriminately as they have been. . . . Complaints can be avoided only if producers, cameramen, laboratory technicians and production engineers realize that the fundamental principles of stereoscopy cannot be ignored or disregarded."

In an overtly stable market the immense tributes which the Chancellor of the Exchequer exacts from the industry are like a continuing running ulcer, the continuance of which, in the view of many thoughtful exhibitors, may well bring the whole industry down in ruin. A Socialist peer, Lord Archibald, once United Artists chief in this country and later a director of the Rank Organization, said recently in a debate referring to the remission in entertainment tax incidence for which theatre men have asked, "their requests are too modest."

"The concession for which they have asked," Lord Archibald went on, "would do no more than put them in a position to meet their increased costs. But with attendances falling steadily, something more than that is required. I think that cinema prices have to come down. The fall in attendances is accompanied by a tendency for patronage to transfer from the dearer to the cheaper seats. . . .

"I believe that unless there is some amelioration of conditions cinemas will begin to close down. They will tend to be at first the smaller cinemas in the more sparsely populated areas. But it will not stop there—particularly with the increasing competition of television. My argument is not that the cinema should be given some special help in order to meet the competition of television but simply that its handicap should be reduced."

LORD Archibald's prophecies seem to be destined for early fulfilment unless tax remission is vouchsafed exhibitors. In the last quarter of 1952 the quite considerable sum of £25,709,000 was paid into the country's motion picture box office. But therefrom £650,000 went immediately to the Eady Fund and £8,835,000 to the Exchequer as entertainment tax. (Exhibitors of course are called upon to pay the other large taxes which all trading concerns must meet in this over-burdened land.)

Theatre men see themselves as between twin mill-stones of doom; increasingly rising costs and declining revenues due mainly to the drift of customers to cheaper seats. They make the shrewd point, too, that the tax on their traffic is discriminating against them not only compared with stage theatres but rival attractions like horse and dog racing, football and the like.

No less an authority than J. Arthur Rank has gone on public record with the statement that without ice cream sales the majority of his theatres would be on the losing side.

The Exhibitors' Association's accountants lately concluded an inquest on the trading accounts of all the Association members. In their verdict the accountants say: "It was shown that generally those with less than 1,500 seats showed a loss on operating before taking credit for miscellaneous sales." Exhibitors look on themselves as the milch cow in process of being drained dry. They ask the Chancellor: Does he want to shut down completely an industry which currently contributes around £32 millions to his coffers?

They are additionally bewildered that they should be the whipping-horse when the other branch of the industry, the producers, should be ostentatiously pampered, as they allege, to the degree of feather-bedding, what with Quota, the Eady Fund and the National Film Finance Corporation.

The Government announced in June that all three are to be continued for at least three years. Since its establishment the Eady Fund has caused extreme heartburning among theatre men.

EXHIBITORS have no direct concern with the Finance Corporation although they have an instinctive distrust of the growing integration of Government in their traffics and hold it as noteworthy that authority announced that at the time of their creation both institutions were temporary expedients to assist producers in temporary difficulties. Both the Corporation and Eady are now seen as permanently shackled on the industry. Quota, it is said, is there forever.

Admittedly, the Finance Corporation has enabled producers to remain in business who otherwise would have gone to the wall. Whether its trading accounts commend themselves to Whitehall's austerely minded economists is quite another matter. Leaving out the loss in 1952 of £45,851 directly attributable to the ill-fated "Magic Box," the Corporation has lost something like £1,400,000. Against that it is claimed the Corporation has reduced costs and brought a more urgent sense of efficiency to the studios.

It is fair also to record that certain of the expedients introduced by the Corporation's managing director, James Haldane Lawrie, notably the Group production scheme, have largely been jettisoned. In a passage of special pleading in his last annual report Mr. Lawrie nevertheless declared that "it is doubtful whether in 1954 any company engaged purely in film production will be able to finance worthwhile first features entirely from its own resources" adding that in his view the industry as a whole is under-capitalised.

Mr. Lawrie said also: "British producers are not in as comfortable a position as appeared a year ago. The extension of the Eady Plan, essential though it is, will fail in its main object if the amount is not enough or if the benefit is cancelled by reductions in film hire." Other Governmental special pleaders look upon the continuance of both Eady and the Corporation as vitally necessary in view of declining attendances.

IT HAS become over the years a sort of cardinal point in Governmental policy that British film production must be sustained. Amiable lip-service is paid to the polite doctrine that the British way-of-life must be projected overseas and similar high-flown sentiments. The Government's more urgent concern, it may be surmised, is the dollar outflow. Were British production wholly to collapse, the people would still insist upon its motion pictures. No Administration would have the courage to deny the populace any more than it would stem the flow of millions of pounds going weekly into gambling on football. Hence, successive Anglo-American monetary agreements with their slightly ironic corollary, joint Anglo-American production.

ND WORLD-WIDE APPEAL

Exhibitors gleefully welcome that development, seeing in it one of the mainstays of their business. Only savage and confirmed Ameriophobes like the determinedly left-wing Association of Cine & Allied Technicians oppose it. The union loudly claims that the use of otherwise unremittable sterling in production is turning the country into a Hollywood outpost. Other and clearer-minded persons—looking upon Anglo-American collaboration as the world's salvation in a wider field—see salvation also for the country's film-business.

It's a two-way traffic, for Hollywood also reaps a pleasant harvest when its dollars operate with benefit of Eady and Quota. (One of the more notable occurrences in the just concluded year was the official tightening-up of regulations in regard to such production. Hollywood's major companies, it is understood, welcomed the development. Only smart-alec operators protested.)

None will attempt at this time to assay television's potential menace to the film business here. Britain claims the nearest approach to nationwide TV coverage in the world, with its five high-powered transmitters reaching an optimum of 36 millions and the three satellites covering the remaining "fringe." The coverage will be complete in early 1954 now that the Government has eased in its view of the country's economic position and sanctioned the completion of the BBC's building programme.

The Churchill Administration, in the face of bitter antagonism, committed itself to the sanction also of a competitive range; namely—although the Government hates the word—sponsored TV. The advocates thereof slightly lost heart following the BBC's triumphant demonstration of its capability in the now classic Coronation telecast and subsequent ceremonials; also, in what is regarded here as unhappy irresponsibility on the part of folksy American networks which put out the BBC's record of the great occasion.

Admittedly, the Britons are notoriously touchy on their traditions but the American Coronation screenings poured gasoline on already troubled flames. The controversy had aroused a near-religious fervour. The feeling had grown that television was an instrument demanding control above normal practice.

Nevertheless, sponsored TV is on Britain's doorstep. Its proponents have already published a code of behavior compared with which Hollywood's Production Code is as nothing. The Government's Television Advisory has given Sir Winston its report on available frequencies. Transmitting licenses are to be issued on the basis that advertisers will not run or even select programmes. That will be the function of a specially set up controlling body operating under the Postmaster-General. The BBC is in resurgent mood. Competition undoubtedly will stimulate it. Immense improvement may be anticipated in the entertainment standard of TV programmes here.

TOP TALENT OF 1952 IN GREAT BRITAIN

To good showmen there's always another year.

The Scientific Film Association exists to promote a wider understanding of science and of the scientific outlook by means of films. It is a non-profit-making organisation, supported by subscriptions from its members and by donations or grants. Members are kept informed, as a matter of course, on all matters relating to scientific films. The direction of the Association is entrusted to the elected Council and to the standing committees set up by that Council.

Board of Trade, Films Branch

Horse Guards Avenue, London, S. W. 1. Telephone: Trafalgar 8855.

(The Films Branch has general responsibility for the commercial and industrial aspects of the film industry. One of its main tasks is the administration of the Cinematograph Films Acts, 1938 and 1948 (the "Quota Acts"); this involves enforcement of the quota and other regulations in relation to the distribution and exhibition of films. The Branch deals with general questions about the production, distribution and exhibition of films in this country, particularly those which concern the promotion of British film production. In this context the Branch has general responsibility for the National Film Finance Corporation. The Branch also gives assistance to British producers in exporting their films. It is responsible for film import policy, for administration, in consultation with the Treasury, of the Anglo-American Film Agreement and for other matters relating to film imports and exports. It is also concerned with the manufacture and importation of film base and sensitised photographic materials, including cinematograph film stock, and with film processing laboratories).

CHICAGO INDUSTRY DASHES TO COURT IN WHOLESALE LOTS

THE BOX OFFICE CHAMPIONS

Better Theatres

The Industry's Most Influential Weekly Trade Paper

For more than a third-of-a-century the dominating thought behind every issue of the Herald has been to merit the full respect and thorough confidence of its readers.

That is why it continues to be the industry's most influential weekly trade paper.

And that is why the Herald's subscription revenue is greater than any other film trade paper receives . . . .

The readers of the Herald believe the Herald and believe in the soundness of its principles.

And the readers of the Herald include over 95% of the total buying power of the nation's theatres.

Better Theatres

The authoritative Equipment and Refreshment Section of —

MOTION PICTURE HERALD

Published monthly as a separately bound section of the Herald, BETTER THEATRES is unquestionably the best read publication on theatre design, equipment, maintenance, and refreshment service.

Reaches The People Who Count— The People Who BUY!

Enjoying as it does the soundly entrenched, solid circulation of MOTION PICTURE HERALD, the BETTER THEATRES section has throughout the years performed in the Quigley tradition of progressive pioneering and influential leadership.

That these are not so many words is evident from the long list of now-accepted standards of design, equipment and maintenance which have become established in many thousands of the nation's theatres—and which were first advocated or received their greatest impetus through vigorous editorial campaigns in BETTER THEATRES.

THEATRE REFRESHMENT SALES is a special refreshment merchandising department in every issue of BETTER THEATRES—the pioneer in this important specialty. (Just as BETTER THEATRES was the first trade paper section devoted to the physical theatre.)

Watch for further additions to the long list of pace-setting innovations in BETTER THEATRES and its THEATRE REFRESHMENT SALES department!

In each field there is one product that is recognized as the most distinguished in its sphere—the accepted peer among all others of its kind.

The single word that expresses the utmost in fine jewelry is TIFFANY. In automobiles it is CADILLAC. Among publications for industry and business it is FORTUNE.

And among annual trade publications for the fields of motion pictures, radio and television it is FAME.

There is an indefinable, but nevertheless definite, extra measure of benefit—a greater prestige value derived by the many who make appropriate use of the pages of FAME. It represents a rewarding opportunity—an investment that pays well and soundly!

FAME is a Quigley Publication

NEW SCREEN TECHNIQUES
24 illustrated articles by leading authorities on 3-D and wide screen films in production & exhibition
Edited by Martin Quigley, Jr.

A QUIGLEY PUBLICATION

208 pages, 50 illustrations; printed on fine quality, coated paper; durable cloth binding. Price $4.50 postpaid.

Martin Quigley, Jr.

Wide-screen and 3-D are bringing physical changes to all branches of the industry . . . and they compel new thinking in showmanship. In "New Screen Techniques" they are explained and evaluated by people who know them best—26 recognized authorities who are intimately associated with their development and application. This book makes readily available the information needed to exploit these advances now—and to measure them for future planning.

NEW SCREEN TECHNIQUES
24 illustrated articles by leading authorities on 3-D and wide screen films in production & exhibition
Edited by Martin Quigley, Jr.

A QUIGLEY PUBLICATION

208 pages, 50 illustrations; printed on fine quality, coated paper; durable cloth binding. Price $4.50 postpaid.

Martin Quigley, Jr.

Wide-screen and 3-D are bringing physical changes to all branches of the industry . . . and they compel new thinking in showmanship. In "New Screen Techniques" they are explained and evaluated by people who know them best—26 recognized authorities who are intimately associated with their development and application. This book makes readily available the information needed to exploit these advances now—and to measure them for future planning.

A prominent exhibitor paid us the kind of compliment that means most to us when he put it this way:

"Like most of the exhibitors I know, the trade papers I really read are Quigley publications—because I have solid confidence in them."

The "solid confidence" of the industry . . . . . we firmly believe that to be the greatest asset that any trade publication can possess. That has been the unswerving aim of Quigley Publications for more than a third of a century.

Cauldron boil . . . and kettle bubble . . .

Difficult though they may be, situations like these do come off; thanks to the care with which film and chemicals are keyed to specific photographic situation and production methods; thanks, also, to the rigid control of processing solution strength and temperature.

In this area—in production, distribution, and exhibition, too—representatives of the Eastman Technical Service for Motion Picture Film are proud to serve the industry.

To maintain this service, the Eastman Kodak Company has branches at strategic centers . . . invites inquiry from all members of the industry. Address: Motion Picture Film Department, Eastman Kodak Company, Rochester 4, N. Y. East Coast Division, 342 Madison Avenue, New York 17, N. Y. Midwest Division, 137 North Wabash Avenue, Chicago 2, Illinois. West Coast Division, 6706 Santa Monica Blvd., Hollywood 38, California.
